Passage Of Rights Bill Looms Near

Threat Of South Filibuster Fades As Demos Confer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The last visible threat to enactment of a compromise civil rights bill—the possibility of a Southern filibuster—seemed to have vanished today.

This increased the chances the bill would pass next week, and that Congress could leave town before the weekend.

Eleven Southern Democratic senators opposed to the bill met with their leader, Sen. Russell (D-Ga). They decided to express their views in the Senate but indicated there would be no talkathon.

No Collective Agreement

As Russell put it, "There was no collective agreement that we woul undertake to talk the proposition to death."

Russell said there will be no Senate vote until all the Southerners have had a chance to voice their opposition to a change in the jury trial provisions of the bill as it passed the Senate.

But Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) spiked rumors he might revive an 800-page speech he had prepared but laid aside during the original senate debate on the bill. He said he would not deliver that speech.

And Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) said that while he is against the compromise he doesn't know of any plans to filibuster.

Among other things, the bill would set up a federal commission to investigate civil rights problems, and create a civil rights division in the Justice Department.

Big Fight

It also would empower the attorney general to apply to federal courts for injunctions against violations or threatened violations of voting rights. The big fight, which was compromised yesterday by congressional leaders, was how trials should be handled in case criminal contempt charges are lodged against persons who flout such injunctions.

The compromise provides that the judge shall decide whether the contempt charges shall be tried by himself alone, or by a jury. But if he tries the case himself, and assesses a penalty of more than 45 days in jail and $300 fine, the defendent has the right to demand and receive an entirely new trial before a jury.

Russell said the Southerners meeting with him agreed unanimously that the compromise language is unconstitutional.

"We don't believe," he said, "that you can fix by legislation the constitutional rights of any man on a dollar sign basis or on

MARILYN'S HUSBAND

Miller Charged In Red Activity

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (UP)—The House Committee on Un-American activities charged today that playwright Arthur Miller, husband of film star Marilyn Monroe, applied for Communist party membership in 1943.

Miller immediately denied it.

He accused the House group of attempting to influence a court conviction initiated by the same committee.

Card Published

The committee published in an official report a photostatic copy of an application for membership by "A. Miller, 18 Schermerhorn St., Brooklyn, N.Y., writer." The committee said A. Miller was the playwright and that he lived at that address during part of World War II.

Miller, in a statement issued through his attorney, said he had never filed an application and that the committee's document is "either a forgery or was done unknown to me."

The photostatic copy released by the committee was not signed and had no space for the applicant's signature.

More Rehash

"The committee has brought forth one more rehash of the material gone into at my public hearing," Miller said.

"I testified then and I repeat it now — that I never filed an application for membership in the Communist party in 1943 or at any other time. The purported application, which the committee already had when I testified but refused to show me, is unsigned and is either a forgery or was done unknown to me.

Newsboy

A father of a newspaper boy pays tribute to the little fellow: "You never think of your paper boy until your paper is late. Lets stop for a minute and give him a thought. He wakes at 4:30 a.m., rolls his papers, rides his bike by growling dogs, through rain and mud that show his thoughts for you. But you, if the paper is not delivered in time, grab your phone and call the office. This costs the boy half of what he would make off your paper, twenty-five cents.

"Why not call the boy? He would gladly bring you another paper. Sometimes it is not the boy's fault. A dog could take the paper off, and if you would look in the shrubbery it might be there. Another thing, the child can not pay for his papers until he collects from you. It would be simple to leave the money with the maid so as to have it handy the first of the month. So remember the little

Plan To Ask Hoffa Perjury Prosecution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) — Justice Department officials will be asked to study, for possible perjury prosecution, Teamster leader James R. Hoffa's testimony that he failed to recall his many dealings with racketeers.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Rackets Committee, disclosing this today at a news conference, conceded that it would be difficult to prove Hoffa lied when he pleaded memory failure.

However he added: "You could prove it by circumstances."

But he said many of Hoffa's mental blanks were almost too much for any reasonable man to believe.

Send Transcript

"Therefore," he said, "I am going to send this transcript to the Justice Department to pursue that phase of it."

In response to a reporter's question, McClellan declined to say flatly that he thought the man seemingly headed for presidency of the Teamsters Union lied during his four-day stay on the witness stand.

However, he did say: "There are some strong circumstances here that indicate he may not have been telling the truth when he said he couldn't recall."

The bouncy Teamster's most frequent memory breakdowns during the hearings occurred during questioning about his secret relation with the New York labor terrorist, Johnny Dio.

One question that caused Hoffa particular memory difficulty was whether Dio ever sent him some tiny microphones in 1953 to eavesdrop on testimony before secret grand jury proceedings in Detroit concerning Hoffa.

Hoffa said he did not believe this was ever done, but he could not say positively.

U. S. Diplomat Confers Over Syrian Drift

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 24 — (UP)—U. S. diplomatic trouble shooter Loy Henderson today began conferring with Syria's worried neighbors on ways to counter the Syrian drift into the Soviet orbit.

Henderson, a Middle Eastern Ambassador to Iran, rushed diaffairs expert and former U. S. rectly from his plane to meetings with Turkish officials. He also was expected to confer here with Kings Feisal of Iraq and Hussein of Jordan, both of whom preceded him to Turkey.

Turkish sources said Henderson's discussions with Turkish leaders also would be concerned with how far developments in Syria could be expected to go and what threat they posed to Middle Eastern security.

Fears Encirclement

Turkey, a NATO and Baghdad Pact member already flanked by Russia and Red Bulgaria feared it would be enclosed on three sides by potentially hostile nations if the Communist coup in the Syrian army extended to the Syrian political system.

More Russians were flying to Damascus, the Syrian capital, where press dispatches Friday said thousands of Soviet technicians had been pouring into the country during the last eight months.

Twenty seven Russian civilians, including wives and children, stopped over in Athens today en route to Damascus from Sofia, Bulgaria. The Athens press described the men as "Russian experts."

Press Stirs Trouble

In Moscow, the Soviet press continued to stir troubled waters. A Tass news agency report from Washington accused the United States of plotting forceful intervention in Syria.

The Communist party newspaper "Pravda" charged that the "fuss" the United States is raising over Syria smacks of blackmail. It warned that the United States is running the risk of worsening the situation in Syria by "brandishing arms" and trying to "force its will" on Syria.

Louisiana Tax Payments Third High In Nation

WASHINGTON (Special) — Every man, woman and child in Louisiana paid an average of $124.14 in state taxes in the fiscal year which ended June 30, the census bureau reported today.

This was the third highest in the nation. Nevada came first with $145.13 and Washington second with $133.08.

Meanwhile, the commerce department's office of business economics disclosed that personal income in Louisiana in 1956 totaled $4,338,000,000 — up seven per cent from $3,944,000,000 in 1955.

Tax Average

The 1956 personal income figures for Louisiana up to an average of $1,444 for each man, woman and child.

Preliminary figures released by the census bureau show that Louisianans paid $373,000,000 in state taxes in the fiscal year just ended. This is $36,000,000 more than in the previous year.

Bulk of the state taxes paid by Louisianans was on sales and

Sports Weather Looms For Area

Favorable weather conditions for outdoor sports are seen for today by the federal forecaster, with the outlook being for clear to partly cloudy — just right for watching or taking part in boat racing activities on the Ouachita.

The high recorded at Selman Field yesterday was 90. The low was 61. Temperature reading at 10 p. m. was 76 degrees.

Scattered showers are expected in the Arkansas area today.

Price Cuts On Autos Rejected

DETROIT, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. today made unanimous the big three car makers' rejection of Walter Reuther's proposal that they cut prices on 1958 models in a union-management move to combat inflation.

Replying to the United Auto Workers' chief, Henry Ford II said the company's pricing policies were not a subject for collective bargaining.

The Ford Motor Co. president agreed with Reuther that inflation is a serious problem but Ford said, "We will not solve the problem with propaganda broadsides."

Others Refused

Ford's refusal to go along with Reuther's plan was based on similar reasons previously offered by General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. Neither Ford nor Chrysler, however, suggested, as GM did, that the present three-year contracts be extended two years as a "contribution to economic stability."

Reuther had promised to make unspecified concessions in the union's contract demands next year if the companies cut prices on 1958 models this fall by an average of at least $100.

Wage Increase

Ford told Reuther the "rapid increase in wages of automobile workers over the past 10 years—which were negotiated under the duress of your demands—have unquestionably contributed to inflation. Thus, having poured gasoline on the fires of inflation, you now stand by and tell us how to fight the blaze. In return, you say you will consider using less gasoline next time—or maybe only kerosene."

The union's proposal, Ford said amounts, in effect, to this:

"If Ford Motor Co., this fall will absorb the cost increases during 1957 and then also reduce the average price of its 1958 model cars $100 below the average 1957 model price, we at UAW in our contract negotiations with Ford next summer—nine months later—will take this into consideration in our demands and we may not ask as much in the way of increased wages and increased fringe benefits as otherwise will be the case."

Reaction Same

Ford told Reuther if the proposal were turned around "per

'SINGING IN RAIN'

No Cigarette Tax For Cities - Long

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 24 (AP)—Mayors are "singing in the rain" when they howl for a double share of state cigarette taxes, Gov. Earl Long said today.

The governor gave his first open reaction to the plan developed this week by the sixth district members of the Louisiana Municipal Assn.

Long said:

"They're all good friends of mine, but they sound like they're singing in the rain. They're going to have the Legislature solve all their problems."

Long added, "that would be like being in hog heaven — only I've never been there."

Touched Off Rocket

The sixth district mayors, meeting here Wednesday, and led by Mayors B. A. Vetter of Donaldsonville and Eugene Alexander of Port Allen, touched off a fiscal rocket aimed at the 1958 Legislature.

They hope to win support of the entire LMA, representing all mayors in the state, and the additional weight of the Louisiana Police Jury Assn. They ask that the Legislature dip into state cigarette taxes and grant cities 14 million dollars instead of the approximately seven million they now share.

Municipalities receive a per capita share ranging from $2.50 for the largest population levels to $4.65 for those with a population of 1,000 or less. And to many cities and towns, that income is a most desperate need.

Despite Long's initial comments, Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar said he has discussed with Long the possibility of repealing the portion of the cigarette taxes now going to cities and in new legislation turning the tax over to the cities to fit their needs.

Big Cities Need Money

"I know cities need more money," Frazar said. And he commented that the entirely new planning of cities and parishes to get together on their legislation shows they're trying to load a double-barrel for the next Legislature.

If the LMA and the Louisiana Police Jury Assn. decide to stand

Admission Of Waste Made By Defense

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) — The Defense Department acknowledged today that millions of dollars worth of unneeded supplies and equipment were allowed to pile up in Northeast Air Command bases, and that some of the material went to waste.

It said corrective action has been taken by both Air Force and Army commanders, and a special Pentagon policy is being developed for the handling of surplus supplies in remote areas.

McClellan Group Investigating

The department's statement was issued by Perkins McGuire, assistant secretary of defense for supply and logistics. It was in response to a report by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Investigations subcommittee last night that the Senate group was investigating evidence of waste and mismanagement at air bases in Newfoundland, Labrador and Greenland.

McGuire said military investigators had confirmed the subcommittee's charges of supply irregularities. He said more than six million dollars worth of excess supplies had been returned to the United States from Harmon Air Force Base, Newfoundland, leaving 14 million dollars worth still to be sent back.

Still More Worth Millions

McClellan said still more supplies worth "many millions of dollars" were being salvaged at various bases.

McGuire, commenting on one incident cited by McClellan, said personnel of the 823rd Aviating Engineer Battalion, an Army unit operating with the Air Force, "buried about $33,000 worth of scrap, used and unused parts, or supplies and equipment."

"These have been recovered and returned to the supply system, with resultant loss estimated at about $6,300," McGuire said.

McClellan said the "personnel"

Man Killed Near Jena When Truck Plunges Off Road

JENA (Special) — A man authorities indentified as Oliver Moore, 25, of Shreveport, was killed instantly early yesterday morning when his heavily loaded truck plunged off an eight-foot highway fill, turned over and caught fire about 1 miles east of Jena.

The body was recovered at 7:15 a.m., about three hours after the accident. Its immediate removal had been made impossible by the stubborn flames which members of the Jena volunteer fire department fought for more than two hours.

Their efforts kept the flames from the truck cab and the body.

Passersby had discovered the flaming wreckage shortly after the accident and summoned aid from Jena.

Travelling East

Doyle Windham, leader of the Jena firefighters, said that from all indications, Moore was travelling east on Highway 84 about

Move To Close Minden Plant To Be Probed

WASHINGTON (Special) — Rep. Overton Brooks of Shreveport said today he will head a House Armed Services subcommittee in a wide investigation of defense ordnance.

Simultaneously, Brooks announced that Assistant Secretary of the Army Frank Higgins will come to his office at 11:30 o'clock Monday Morning "to review the whole situation regarding the defense departments plans to close the Louisiana ordnance plant at Minden.

Plainly Provoked

Plainly provoked over the Pentagon's action the congressman said he "will enter the most vigorous protest against the manner in which this has been handled and insist that the plant be continued in operation as long as it is necessary to manufacture an additional round of ammunition."

"Brooks said he was informed by officials of the plant that they had received instruction, 'To get the place in shape to close Oct. 1.'"

"The notice received simply said the plant will be closed and put in a standby status during fiscal 1958," continued the congressman.

Sent Copies

The Shreveport congressman said he has sent to the Pentagon copies of the correspondence he has had with Brig. Gen. Joseph M. Colby of the Ordnance Corps, a recent visitor to the Louisiana plant.

The correspondent indicates Colby's belief that the plant has a consistent work load scheduled for the remainder of the calendar year with many of the schedules extending into 1958.

"I have reminded the Defense Department they had assured us they would give our people adequate notice before the closing

17 CASES

Crippled Transport Drops Explosives Near Meridian

MERIDIAN, Miss., Aug. 24 (AP)—A crippled Air Force transport plane dropped 17 cases of explosives near Meridian today so it could make an emergency landing at Key Field here.

Twelve rockets and three barrels of napalm were recovered. Air and ground parties searched for the rest.

The C-119 flying boxcar piloted by Maj. Earl Helms was en route from Norton AFB, San Bernardino Calif., to Seymour Jackson AFB, Greensboro, N. C. It was carrying 8,000 pounds of cargo and nine other persons when the No. 2 engine of the two-engine plane failed.

Order Cargo Dumped

Helms ordered the cargo dumped so he could maintain altitude and land safely on one engine.

The crew jettisoned 90 rockets, two 1,000-pound bombs and three barrels of napalm used to make fire bombs.

The rockets composed the most dangerous part of the cargo, Helms said.

"The heads of these rockets are rather touchy and they should not be touched," he said.

The Air Force warned that although the bombs were not fused, they should be considered as dangerous. Air Force officers believed the bombs probably went deep into the ground and would be hard to find.

Familiar With Area

Helms said he was familiar with the area and selected what he thought to be uninhabited sections over which to drop the cargo.

"It was a calculated risk but we had to take it," he added. When we finally stopped, the plane's nose was just about sticking over the end of the runway."

The rockets were dropped near Mehan, seven miles west of here, from an altitude of about 2,300 feet. The bombs were dumped north of here from 1,800 feet.

Those searching for the explosives included a helicopter from Montgomery, Ala., air police from Craig AFB, Selma, Ala.; deputies from the sheriff's office, highway patrol, local police and the plane crew.

2 More Soviet Ships Steam Into North Sea

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 24 (UP) —Two more Soviet warships steamed out of the Baltic into the North Sea today on a mystery mission believed aimed at impressing the West with Russia's naval might.

The two Red vessels—the second group of Russian warships to enter Russian waters in four days —were the latest model cruiser "Admiral Ushakov" and an unidentified destroyer.

The two Soviet ships sailed through the narrow Skaggerak Strait between Denmark and Norway and passed the Skaw light house into the North Sea shortly after dawn today.

The "Admiral Ushakov" is a sister ship of the Soviet cruiser "Nikhail Kutuzov," which only Wednesday sailed out of the Baltic with the destroyer "Bezukorizuennyi," enroute to the Mediterranean.

CENTENNIAL OPENS

'Time Turns Back Today' In Observance At Tallulah

TALLULAH (Special) — A stranger in Tallulah today would think he had stepped into a time machine, setting him down 100 years ago in this farming town of 5,000.

Woman will be clad in costumes of 100 years ago, men will sport beards and wear the style customarily seen in 1857, and children dressed in fashions of that era will attend church today. As was the custom 100 years ago, women will sit on one side of the church while the males will be seated on the opposite side of the aisle.

Reverting back to customs of 100 years ago will mark the opening of the Tallulah Centennial.

The opening day of the week-long celebration will be marked by religious observance, "Faith of Our Fathers." An interdenominational service will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Tallulah Elementary school with all churches of the community participating.

Dr. Penrose St. Amant of New Orleans, professor of church history of the New Orleans Theological Seminary, will be the speaker.

Hymns popular 100 years ago will be sung by the Centennial Choir composed of members of church choirs. Robert Daughdril, Tallulah High band director, will provide musical accompaniment.

All Tallulah ministers will participate in the program.

The week-long birthday party, expected to attract thousands from all states in America, will open Monday at 10 a.m. with Mrs. J. H. Jodan, 82, daughter of one of the town's founders slicing a huge birthday cake. The Centennial parade will be held at 11 a.m. The first performances of the Deltarama, a pageant of the history of the town, will be 8:15 p.m. It will feature a cast of 400, animals, covered wagons, buggies, old cars and modern transportation.

Tuesday will be business and industrial day; Wednesday, youth day; Thursday, brother and sister day, and Friday Centennial Day.

U. S. Confident In China Attempt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (UP)—The United States is confident that it can mobilize enough votes to beat decisively a new attempt to seat Red China in the United Nations next month, officials said today.

Some Eastern European diplomats agreed privately that Communist China will not get into the UN this year. But they predicted the Communists will pick up important new support for eventual seating in the 81-nation world organization.

An American official said diplomatic soundings taken in New York and Washington and some foreign capitals indicate there "will not be much of a shift" from 1956 voting on the issue. The U. S. move last year to block consideration of Peiping's bid won by a General Assembly vote of 47 to 24, with eight abstentions.

A review of voting records shows that Red China has picked up strength each year. Seven nations sided with the Peiping regime in 1952, 10 in 1953, 11 in 1954 and 12 in 1955. But the figure jumped to 24 last year. Part of this increase was made possible by a sharp increase in UN membership. But the Reds picked up more votes than the American-led opposition.

Britain, which recognizes Red China, is reported willing again this year to go along with the United States and not press the Chinese membership question.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will be in New York for the opening of the regular Assembly session about Sept. 17. He is not expected to attend the special session on the Hungarian issue called for Sept. 10.

Resolution For Lift Of Ban Is Adopted

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (UP)—Thirty-three thousand of Jehovah's Witnesses, attending a district assembly at Memorial Stadium, today unanimously adopted a lengthy resolution asking that the Dominican Republic lift its ban against the religious movement's activities there.

The resolution, addressed to Generalissimo Trujillo, president of the Caribbean republic, also blamed the Roman Catholic Church for assisting in its action against the sect.

"If you persist in persecuting these followers of Jesus Christ," it said, "you will find that you will have to kill off all of them in your land to silence them and put them out of action."

An act signed into law by Trujillo last July 25 had the effect of outlawing Jehovah's Witnesses. Nathan H. Knorr, nominal head of Jehovah's Witnesses, said that about 50 members of the movement now are in Dominican Republic jails as a result of the law. Earlier this month, 10 Jehovah's Witness missionaries were deported to Puerto Rico.

Sunday Activity Forbidden For Catholic Group

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 24 (UP)—Roman Catholics are forbidden to work, conduct business or go shopping on Sundays in Oregon, Idaho and Montana.

The restriction, issued in a pastoral letter from Archbishop Edward D. Howard, becomes effective Sept. 1, the day the letter is to be read at Masses in all churches throughout the three-state province.

A pastoral letter, directed to the clergy and members, is binding in conscience for Catholics and violations become a matter for confession, church officials said.

Archbishop Howard's letter was made public here today by the chancery office. It was signed by the archbishop as head of the province and by Bishops Joseph M. Gilmore of Helena, William J. Condon of Great Falls, James J. Byrne of Boise and Francis P. Leipzig of Baker, Ore.

"Sunday," the pastoral letter says, "is our weekly commemoration of the Resurrection of Christ ...." and it adds that the Church commands for Sunday observance: "First, assisting at holy Mass; second, abstaining from unnecessary service work."

The only exceptions to the ban will be for "business services which are so necessary for the common good that they may be rendered legitimately on Sundays." Even then, the pastoral letter continues, those working must have an opportunity to attend Mass.

Businessmen may not consider what the effect of competition may be.

RESTRICTS SUNDAY WORK—Archbishop Edward D. Howard of Portland has issued a pastoral letter forbiding Roman Catholics in Oregon, Idaho and Montana to work, conduct business or go shopping on Sundays starting September 1. Asiatic Flu Advice Given By Official

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (UP)—Surgeon General LeRoy E. Burney said today that persons who are allergic to egg protein should pass up Asiatic flu shots.

For all others in all age groups the vaccine "is recommended," he said. He particularly urged early vaccination of persons with certain chronic maladies which make them more liable than others to complications after a bout with the flu.

The word of caution with the egg allergy was brought about by the fact that flu vaccine is produced in fertile eggs. Children, Burney said, are more likely to react severely than adults to the shots.

He said the Public Health Service, which is preparing to fight an expected epidemic of the new kind of flu, has received inquiries about possible reactions to the vaccine. He made these points:

—"Limited experience with adult volunteers has resulted in few reactions — and those have been mild."

—Reactions have been reported "among a very few young children."

—Children generally have "somewhat more severe reactions" than adults.

—Whether a particular child should be inoculated should be decided with the advice of a doctor.

—The health service has asked the American Academy of Pediatrics to "provide any recommendations they may have" on the subject of children's reaction.

The middy look takes over in school fashions for the younger girl. Women's Wear Daily, the trade publication, says designers do not limit their middy dresses to the traditional navy blue with sailor collar. Sometimes the middy serves as jacket over a sleeveless dress, and more often as a top for a pleated skirt.

Texas' First Toll Road To Open Tuesday

DALLAS, Aug. 24 (UP)—The first toll road in Texas, a six-lane, $58,500,000 project that connects Dallas to Fort worth, will be opened to traffic Tuesday.

The road will be known as the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike. It was built without a penny's cost to the state or federal government. It will cut in half the time it takes to drive between the two cities.

The 29.6-mile long, divided superhighway won't be officially dedicated until Sept. 5 in ceremonies in which Gov. Price Daniel will participate. The event will take place half way between the two cities.

Builders Claim

Its builders claim that the new turnpike embodies every engineering advance of this technological age. Its two, three-lane roadways are 37 feet wide, a foot wider than most superhighways.

Curves are slight, grades low and drivers' visibility is 725 feet front and back at any point on the turnpike.

There are 10-foot, hard-surfaced safety shoulders to the right of each roadway, and four-foot shoulders on the left. It has a control dividing strip to separate opposing traffic its entire length.

Lamps Light Way

More than 1,000 mercury-vapor lamps light the interchanges and the urban areas through which the turnpike passes.

Fare between Fort Worth and Dallas will be 50 cents for passenger cars. At four intermediate points between the two cities, fare plazas are located.

The new turnpike will save more than 30 minutes in driving time between Dallas and Fort Worth, slightly more for truckers. Heretofore, U.S. 80 and S.H. 183 have handled all traffic.

45 Signals on U.S. 80

Highway 80 carries an average daily traffic volume of 22,000 vehicles. It has 207 intersections and its traffic is controlled by 45 signal lights.

Highway 183 carries an average daily traffic volume of 13,430 vehicles and has 144 intersections and 19 traffic signals.

The Dallas-Fort Worth turnpike has no traffic signals and no intersections. For the convenience of motorists, it does have two restaurants and two service stations located at the midway point.

Built Quickly

In spite of a steel strike in 1956 and the wettest spring in history, the turnpike took only 23 months to build. It was financed solely through the sale of revenue bonds.

When the bonds are paid off—probably in 17 years—the turnpike will be turned over to the Texas Highway Department to be operated as a free road.

6 Rescued In Yacht Blaze In Atlantic

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Aug. 24 (AP)—Six persons were rescued after they leaped from a blazing yacht into the Atlantic Ocean about three miles off shore here today.

Two dogs were also saved after the 65-foot Tara III of New York City caught fire.

Rescue by other craft and in good shape were the owner of the Tara, Roy Chalk, an attorney of New York City; and his wife; Chalk's sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Murray Greenberg of New York City; Capt. J. N. Phipps, of Lake Worth, Fla., skipper of the Tara; and the Tara's cook, John J. Royal of Washington, D.C.

U. S. Strategy In Syria Told

WASHINGTON, Aug 24 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and his advisers are trying to develop both a defensive and an offensive diplomatic strategy to meet the new Soviet Communist threat in Syria. So far they do not appear to have made much progress.

The United States strongly wants other Arab countries to take the lead in dealing with the situation. Diplomat Loy Henderson, now on a flying mission to the Middle East for Dulles, is believed to have instructions to tell friendly Arab leaders they can expect United States cooperation and moral support but that they have primary responsibility for action.

Discontinued

Informed officials today discounted the possibility that Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser might exert a moderating influence on Syria's drift into the Soviet orbit. They said that throughout the last two crucial weeks the Egyptian press and radio could hardly have taken a stronger line in support of Syria's course or a more bitterly critical attitude toward the United States.

Furthermore, although Nasser has been conferring with Syrian President Shukri Kuwatly, who has been in Egypt for medical treatment, some State Department experts think that the pro-Soviet army officers who are now exercising real power in Syria no longer pay so much attention to Nasser as they do to Moscow. Nasser, a recipient of Soviet arms and himself possessed of good Moscow links, has always professed that his policies are not pro-Soviet but independent.

State Department officials said that the extent of Soviet Communist influence in Syria, which expanded fast after the Damascus government charged the United States with plotting a power grab there two weeks ago, is still unclear. None would say today that Syria has become a Soviet satellite or a complete tool of Kremlin designs for building up Soviet power in the Middle East.

Yet the assumption in the State Department is that Syria's movement is toward becoming a base of Soviet operations and an instrument of Kremlin policies. The present situation is considered disturbing and the future possibilities downright dangerous. According to Dulles' advisers it seems to require parallel planning and action along two lines:

1. Defensive—Officials fear efforts at political infiltration and subversion from Syria into neighboring countries more than they fear Syria as a base for Soviet military power or threats. Most directly menaced by the infiltration or subversion danger are Syria's Arab neighbors, Jordan, Lebanon and Iraq. However, Iraq is larger and internally much more stable than Jordan, for example. Also its populous area is separated from Damascus by a desert barrier.

Turkey, an ally of Iraq in the Baghdad Pact, possibly could play a leading role defensively. It has a long border with Syria, a military force estimated at 22 divisions (including 10 in ready reserve) and an Atlantic Pact alliance with the United States. Turkish diplomatic and political support for Syria's Arab neighbors could be very useful some officials say.

The United States has aid programs with Lebanon, Jordan and Iraq and presumably will give more help if necessary to strengthen them against Red pressure from Syria.

2. Offensive—United States leaders would like to see the swing to the Soviet orbit checked and eventually reversed in Syria. Officials said, however, that its own power and influence to achieve such results are extremely limited. There appears to be nothing it can do directly except to try to work through Arab countries in the area, to get them to use their influence with moderate or pro-Western people inside Syria to change the nation's course.

Woman Solon Blasts Gen. For Action

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) today accused Air Force Lt. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr. of "extensive false testimony" in his effort to win approval of a reserve general's star for movie actor Jimmy Stewart.

The only woman senator also charged that O'Donnell had tried to strike from the Senate Armed Services hearing record "this false testimony." The committee blocked Stewart's promotion from colonel to brigadier general, mostly because of Mrs. Smith's efforts.

Caught Him Cold

O'Donnell told a reporter Mrs. Smith's statement caught him completely cold" and he wouldn't want to comment until he had studied it. However, the general added that he certainly had not intentionally given any false testimony.

As for the senator's charge that he tried to strike his testimony from the record, O'Donnell said the committee sent him the record for correction as is customary in such congressional proceedings. He said there were a few minor errors which he corrected and which he said almost always crop up in several hours of off-the-cuff testimony.

O'Donnell said he did not seek to change "one iota" of his basic testimony.

Mrs. Smith's sharp blasts at O'Donnell appeared in the Congressional Record. The Senate yesterday confirmed nine reserve generals but not Stewart or another man blocked in committee.

No. 3 Job

The woman senator said O'Donnell testified that Stewart was competent to serve as "deputy director of operations of the Strategic Air Command — literally the No. 3 job in SAC importance if war comes."

She said Stewart, until nominated for general, has participated in only nine days of reserve training during 11 years and that he was not qualified to fly any Air Force plane at that time.

"Stewart's normal civilian pursuit is that of motion picture actor," she continued. "Obviously he can't maintain his proficiency for deputy director of operations of the Strategic Air Command by being a motion picture actor."

She said that "past national presidents of the Reserve Officers Assn. have complained bitterly to me that the Stewart nomination was destructive to the morale of the Air Force Reserve."

EXPECT ACTION MONDAY

Restoration Of Aid Cuts Building Up In Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (UP)—Support built up in the Senate appropriations committee today for a substantial — but by no means full—restoration of heavy House cuts in foreign aid money.

The committee is expected to act Monday on the aid measure, the last appropriations bill before Congress, and send it to the Senate floor for action.

President Eisenhower's plea for the Senate to put back money cut out by the House received a hefty boost Friday when Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson announced his support for a "substantial increase." However, Johnson, a member of the appropriations group, warned the White House that it cannot muster enough votes to restore all of the cuts.

Informed Sources Say

Informed key senators predicted the Senate committee would increase the $2,524,000,000 voted in actual money by the House to about $2,800,000,00 to three billion dollars.

Eisenhower and other administration officials made an all out plea for the full $3,367,000,000 authorized earlier by the House and Senate in compromise legislation. The Senate committee postponed action, however, until it could study how much was left in the program from previous appropriations.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S. D.), another member of the appropriations committee, said he would propose putting foreign aid loans under a proposed new development loan fund "on a business basis employing standard commercial banking practices."

Loans Instead of Grants

Under the new fund, most economic aid will be handled in the form of loans rather than grants.

Mundt said he would seek to have the committee write into its report a provision requiring that "in the making of these foreign loans, payments of both interest and installments on the principal shall start at the end of the first year" of the loan.

The South Dakota Republican said in a statement that he favored the shift of economic aid to a loan rather than a "give-away" basis.

The foreign aid money measure is one of the few major items standing in the way of congressional adjournment next week.

Johnson said he was confident that action can be completed next week.

Another member of the committee, Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), said he would still vote for the House figure and "I think even that is 125 million dollars too much." But Russell conceded the committee probably will increase the house figure "but only by a close vote."

NEWSPAPER STRIKE

Week-Long Tieup Of News Ended

DETROIT, Aug. 24 (UP) — Striking mailers ended their week long tieup of daily newspaper service in the nation's fifth largest city today through the "persuasion and sincere suggestions" of Midwest teamsters boss James R. Hoffa.

The striking International Mailers Union (IMU), which began picketing the Detroit News last Saturday to protest the firing of 67 men, called off its walkout this morning after Hoffa addressed a membership meeting.

Hoffa, heir apparent to teamsters president Dave Beck, entered the Detroit strike picture immediately after returning from Washington where he was a star witness before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Hoffa Helps

IMU Vice President Raymond Brown said his union agreed to the settlement "as a result of the persuasion and sincere suggestions of James Hoffa."

Brown praised Hoffa as "a labor leader who keeps his word and can be trusted." He said Hoffa assured the IMU it would "receive fair treatment in the solution of the dispute at the Detroit News under the terms of the contract."

The IMU, a recent offshoot of the International Typographical Union (ITU), went on strike when the News dismissed 67 members for refusing to work overtime.

Others Not In Sympathy

The ITU and other craft unions were not in sympathy with the strike. But the tieup at The News became effective when the truck drivers who deliver papers, members of Teamsters Local 332, refused to cross IMU picket lines.

Although The News was the only struck newspaper, the other two dailies — The Free Press and The Times — shut down because all three are represented by the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association in bargaining with the various unions.

The publishers group refused to bargain with the IMU because it is not recognized as a bargaining agent by the National Labor Relations Board and had no hand in negotiating the current contracts.

Under the settlement, all IMU members except the 67 discharged workers returned to their jobs. The ITU, and not the IMU, was to meet with the publishers group this afternoon to start processing the cases of the dismissed workers.

Two Indicted In Collapse Of Texas Bank

FORT WORTH, Aug. 24 (UP)— U.S. District Attorney Heard Floore today revealed another indictment returned in the $700,000 collapse of the River Oaks State Bank following arrest of persons involved.

Floore said the Dallas federal grand jury returned a sealed indictment, revealed today, against David Clinton Garrett and Jack Hubbard.

The indictment charged 11 counts of cheating the federal government by a series of fake FHA applications. Garrett, a former Fort Worth advertising man living in Los Angeles, has been arrested in Los Angeles and posted bond. Hubbard was arrested Monday.

Hubbard was president of the River Oaks State Bank, of Fort Worth, when it collapsed in October with a shortage of more than $700,000. He also has served as an executive of the Redglea State Bank, a suburb of Fort Worth and the Bank of Commerce in downtown Fort Worth.

The indictment charged Garrett made FHA loan applications under fictitious names and for relatives and the banks made the loans to Garrett. The government contends Garrett and Hubbard then split the money.

AT GIRARD TRIAL

American Jurist Complains Courtroom Seat Refused

TOKYO, Aug. 24 (UP)—A veteran American jurist complained today that Japanese judge "insolently" refused him a courtroom seat to observe the manslaughter trial of U. S. Spcl 3-c William S. Girard beginning Monday.

Retired Judge William Clark of Princeton, N. J., former chief justice of the U. S. high commission court in Germany, said he received "discourteous" treatment when he rquested a seat from Judge Yuzo Kawachi.

Judge Kawachi heads the Maebashi district court that will try Girard, an Ottawa, Ill., GI, next week for the killing of a Japanese woman, Mrs. Naka Sakai, on a U. S. Army firing range last January.

U. S. authorities finally agreed early this summer to let Girard be tried in a Japanese court after a long jurisdictional controversy.

Clark said he had asked Judge Kawachi for one of the 35 seats to be allotted to the public in the small courtroom. The other 60 seats have been assigned to newsmen, investigators, U. S. Army officials and relatives of the late Mrs. Sakai.

Clark, who said he was stopping here on a round-the- world trip to observe the trial, said he made his request by telephone through an interpreter.

"Judge Kawachi was very discourteous to my interpreter," Clark said, "when my interpreter at my request pointed out that if Kawachi had come to my court in the United States, I would not only have asked him to come into the courtroom, I would have asked him to sit on the bench beside me."

Clark said he asked the Japanese judge for an appointment Sunday and "thereupon, Judge Kawachi hung up the telephone."

TRIAL TO RESUME

Big Name Stars Have The 'Confidential Jitters'

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 24 (UP)—The movie capital's big-name stars had the "confidential jitters" today as they awaited new courtroom disclosures about tattletales who sold spicy tidbits to the scandal magazine.

The Confidential magazine criminal libel case enters its fourth week in Superior Court Monday. spread upon the court recod and two score stars have been others are expected to be added next week.

Stars Named

Named to date, either as subjects of racy Confidential stories read to the jury or as being involved in purported escapades tattled by friends, prostitutes, bartenders, bellboys and others for pay, have been:

Maureen O'Hara, Dorothy Dandridge, June Allyson, Robert Mitchum, Mae West, John Carroll, Frank Sinatra, Alan Dale, Corinne Calvet, Edward G. Robinson, Donald O'Connor, Ava Gardner, Lana Turner, Joan Crawford, Walter Pidgeon, Frederic March, Dane Clark, Denice Darcel, Clark Gable, Georgie Jessel, Marie Wilson and Mickey Rooney.

A few stars have publicly declared the disclosures recited in courtroom testimony are outright lies—Miss O'Hara, sultry singer Dandridge, curvaceous Miss Calvet and Mae West.

Actresses Indignant

Miss O'Hara and Miss Dandridge declared indignantly tales about purported romantic escapades were untrue and that they stood ready to take the witness stand to hurl the lie at their accusers.

But as the sensational trial neared a climax, it appeared increasingly unlikely any star would testify.

The husband of one, Corinne Calvet, was quoted by defense attorney Arthur Crowley out of court as having declared his wife would be "blackballed" by the movie industry if she testified a Confidential story about her was true. The French actress, meanwhile, publicly branded the tale as false.

Most Remain Quiet

Most of the stars mentioned in testimony so far have remained discreetly quiet.

Deputy district attorney William Ritzi, directing prosecution of the case, said "I do not know yet" when asked if he planned to call any individual star to the stand. Crowley observed "I wouldn't be surprised if the trial ends without a single star appearing" in the always jampacked eight - floor courtroom.

Ritzi indicated more stars would be named Monday when he resumes cross-examination of Fred Meade, a defendant along with his wife Marjorie, niece of Confidential publisher Robert Harrison.

Predicts Milk Law To Add Millions To Ala.

FLORENCE, Ala., Aug. 24 (AP)—Alabama agriculture commissioner A. W. Todd today predicted that the court-approved Todd milk law could add 10 million dollars annually to Alabama's farm economy.

The law requires out-of-state producers shipping milk into Alabama to obtain permits from the agriculture commissioner. The permits can be revoked if state inspectors say the producers do not meet Alabama sanitation standards.

The two-year-old law was declared constitutional by the Alabama Supreme Court Thursday.

Todd said that if the milk distributors cooperate with the State Health Department "this program will add 10 million dolars to the Alabama farm income annually."

The reason, said Todd, is that the bill will allow Alabama farmers who now are producing milk under the "highest standards and specifications of any state in the Southeast" to have more of their milk purchased by state distributors.

The commissioner asserted that in the past Alabama dairy farmers have been seeing 25-35 per cent of their milk production classified as surplus "and outrageous figures paid for it" while some distributors buy out-of-state milk.

The bill provides that Health Department employes under agriculture department supervision will inspect out-of-state dairies to make certain that their milk meets Alabama standards.

"We are not asking out-of-state dairymen to do anything our dairy men are not doing," Todd said.

The law was enacted two years ago but application was withheld while the measure was in litigation in state courts. Distributors who oppose it still can ask the Supreme Court for a rehearing.

Todd said that even though the bill had been tied up in state courts, more than 900 new Alabama dairy producers have begun operations since the measure was enacted.

Houston Streets Searched For Deadly Poison

HOUSTON, Aug. 24 (UP)— A block-by-block search of the city's east and south ends was underway today for a half-pint of deadly poison which fell off an exterminating firm's truck Friday.

The poison is sodium fluoracetate, a dark liquid, which belonged to the San Jacinto Exterminating Co.

It was contained in a clear plastic one-gallon unbreakable jug. Company owner C. E. Browning said the poison is so deadly that one pound of it can kill one million pounds of animal life.

Police warned all parents by newspapers and radio stations to tell their children about the poison and warn them not to drink it if any child found it.

The truck driver retraced his path twice Friday trying to find the lost jug and police searched an entire area Friday afternoon and night..

Browning sent two other drivers out at dawn today to retrace the route over and over again.

FROM GEORGIA

Program May Result In Northward Negro Move

ATLANTA, Aug. 24 (AP)—A plan that could result in resettlement of Negro families from Georgia into the better residential areas of the North and West will be offered to the Legislature in January.

Rep. A. A. Fowler Jr. of Douglas County said he will offer a bill to create a state real estate commission that would be empowered to send agents north to quietly buy up property.

This property would be leased "at very attractive terms" or sold to "carefully screened, worthy and qualified" citizens or former citizens of Georgia.

Fowler, an eight-year member of the Georgia Legislature and a political independent, said he does not consider his plan as "hate legislation." Rather, he said, it might show the residents of good white neighborhoods in the North that the very thing the South opposes—racial integration—"could happen to them."

He attributed the current civil rights measures in Congress and other integration moves to "do-gooders" and stated: "They've pushed this integration thing and yet they're not doing anything about it. We're going to help them by putting Negroes in previously all-white neighborhoods in the North."

Fowler denied that his plan arose after the trouble in Levittown, Pa., where some citizens have vigorously opposed entrance of a Negro family into an all-white section. "I've been thinking about this for several years," he said, and already has obtained considerable legal advice on it.

"Before we move into locations we plan to seek advice about the best spots from Sens. Javits (R-NY), Humphrey (D-Minn) and Douglas (D-Ill) and other sponsors of civil rights legislation," Fowler said.

The young lawmaker, a former state adjutant general, said that if the Legislature approves his plan the state might not have to advance any money at all, but just endorse notes as is now done by the Federal Housing Administration. However, he estimated that the initial cost would be no more than one to five million dollars "and eventually would be breaking even or making money for us."

He said he already had been promised support from several other Georgia legislators and has "had encouragement from other Southern states."

Sen. McClellan Plans Vacation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), describing himself as tired and tense from conducting the Senate Rackets committee hearings, plans a vacation soon.

The senator told a news conference today he will go to Arkansas—he wouldn't say exactly where—for about a 10 - day rest after Congress adjourns.

Wreckage Of Navy Plane Being Sought

MEMPHIS, Aug. 24 (AP) — The Navy said a helicopter crew was scouting an isolated Mississippi River area today to check a fisherman's report that low water stages had uncovered the wreckage of a Navy jet plane.

A spokesman at the Memphis Naval Air Station said the survey was to pinpoint the exact site of the wreckage and determine whether investigaters would have to go in by boat or land.

If the location can be fixed, the Navy party can borrow equipment from Army engineers here and go to the marshy site.

The fisherman's report yesterday said the tail of the jet was protruding from gumbo mud in a side chute of the river on the Arkansas side about eight miles south of West Memphis.

The Navy said it was not yet certain the wreckage was that of a Navy jet, though a jet trainer with an instructor and student pilot aboard disappeared near the area Dec. 6, 1955, after zooming past a towboat.

The men aboard were Lt. H. J. Backes of Glenburn, N. D., flight instructor, and Ens. J. L. Wines of Rego Park, N. Y. They were listel as missing and presumed dead.

BY BLIND EX-PRESIDENT

Speed Control Devices For Motor Vehicles Invented

HAGERSTOWN, Ind., Aug. 24 (AP)—An automatic speed control device for motor vehicles has been invented by the blind ex-president of the Perfect Circle Corp.

Designed by Ralph R. Teetor, 67, who retired last May, the speedostate will enable a driver to select any cruising speed and maintain it without effort.

Teetor, blind since he was 5, got the idea while riding on a turnpike in fast traffic. He worked on it for 13 years in his home workshop. Perfect Circle is producing the device and said three car manufacturers plan to include the speedostat as optional equipment on 1958 models.

By using a dial on the dashboard or steering column, the driver chooses the speed he wants.

When the auto reaches the desired speed, a warning back-pressure develops on the accelerator. If the driver wants to momentarily exceed his pre-set limit, he presses a little harder on the gas pedal and over-rides the back-pressure. Relax the extra pressure, and the car returns to the pre-set speed.

When a motorist wants to cruise steadily over long periods, he simply attains his pre-set speed and pushes a button recessed in the speed selector. The speedostat takes over, and the driver can remove his foot from the gas pedal while his car moves along at an even rate, automatically compensating for hills.

A touch of the break pedal releases the device.

Perfect Circle officials say the speedostat's "live" back-pressure on the gas pedal should remind a motorist he is trying to go faster than he intended and thus serve as a safety guard.

La. Pelican Sole Survivor Of Illnesses

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—A forlorn pelican from Louisiana moodily surveyed the Saturday crowds today in London's St. James' Park across from Buckingham Palace.

He—or she—is the only survivor of a series of illnesses that have struck down seven companions in four years.

Three of them, along with the lone survivor, came from America in 1953 as gifts from the governor of Louisiana, Robert F. Kennon.

One died yesterday from what zoo doctors diagnosed as peritonitis. The park has been host to pelicans for over 50 years.

The white survivor is thought to be a male, but Sir David Eccles, who once had charge of the park's affairs, said then:

Tourists From U. S. Stranded

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Several dozen American tourists returning from European vacations were stranded at London Airport tonight as three airlines reported fully-booked flights to New York.

It was the second day of travel chaos at the airport, and some Americans were getting anxious.

One of them was the Rev. Walter Sandell of Birmingham, Ala. He spent a whole night in an armchair bed before finally getting a place aboard a New York-bound airliner.

Price Cuts On Autos Rejected

haps your reaction to it will be the same as mine to yours."

Ford went on, "Suppose I were to say to you: 'If you will accept an immediate reduction in wages to the levels prevailing at the introduction of our 1957 models, we will take this into consideration in determining how much we will increase prices of our 1958 models."

Reuther said earlier this week the UAW would not agree to any wage reduction to match his suggested cut in auto prices.

Ford said gross average hourly wage rates at his company, including fringe benefits, have risen from $1.83 in 1948 to $3.11 at present, with a 3 cents per hour cost of living increase coming in September.

"Thus," Ford said, "hourly wages at the Ford Motor Co. increased 70 per cent while the price of a typical Ford car was rising 30 per cent. And the 1957 car—bigger and heavier, with better styling, better performance, more safety, more comfort, greater value—is a far superior product to its 1948 counterpart in every respect."

Ford Regrets

In stating he shared Reuther's concern over inflation, Ford told him, "I sincerely regret that the only concrete proposal you have advanced is an empty one and sidesteps your primary responsibility for the rising cost-price spiral."

Ford said Reuther's proposal "fails to recognize the simple economic facts of life."

"Without the moderate price increases of the past several years," Ford said, "our company would be in a precarious financial position today and the jobs of our 200,000 employes would be in jeopardy."

Ford suggested a course of action that "would consist of union leaders acting for the common good and refraining from the use of the extraordinary leverage and monopolistic power of today's big industrial union."

In a statement yesterday commenting on the rejection of his proposal by GM and Chrysler, Reuther said his union will continue to press for a joint union-management fight on inflation. He said, "We want these corporations and the American consumers to know that we are not giving up on this positive and constructive plan to fight inflation just because of this first refusal."

Passage Of Rights Bill Looms Near

the number of days he would have to spend in jail."

The Jig Is Up

One Southern Democrat, a House member who has led in moves to block the bill, remarked that, "The jig is up." He said he sees no chance Congress will not pass the measure by Friday.

This legislator summed up his and his deep South colleagues' feelings.

They object bitterly to the bill on principle and almost unanimously they will vote against it.

But they think pressure for some sort of civil rights bill has become politically irrestible and that one would pass sooner or later.

They think the bill now on verge of enactment, after the modifications that the still narrowly-dominated Democratic Senate made in it, is probably less objectionable from the Southern point of view than any that might be passed next year, or later.

Finally, passage of this bill, they believe, will put the bitter, party-splitting issue to sleep for some years to come.

One Southerner willing to talk on the record about the measure, Rep. Willis (D-La), said it is misleading to speak of it as a voting rights bill, even though the special power it confers on the attorney general to seek injunctions have been restricted to this particular civil right.

Not Disturbed

"The question of the right to vote does not disturb me," Willis said. "This is not a major problem in Louisiana."

But he said that although the bill has been "watered down considerably" from its original form he still strongly opposes it because it establishes the principle of "federal intrusion" in the conduct of elections, hitherto, he said, of responsibility.

And Willis said the investigating commission that would be set up under the bill and the civil rights division it would create in the Department of Justice, "with an unlimited number of lawyers," would not be restricted to voting matters.

"There isn't any question but that they could get into the school situation—or any other matter of so called civil rights, which are nowhere adequately defined," Willis said. "This is a device for substituting legal eagles from Washington for the local U. S. attorneys."

Contributer To Police Methods Dies Friday

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—John A. Dondero, 56, who devised many identification methods used by police and other agencies, died of a heart condition Friday in a Brooklyn hospital.

Dondero's first contribution against crime was an inkless pad that replaced fingerprinting with messy black stain.

He also introduced the footprint system of identifying newborn babies in hospitals and perfected a way to identify dogs by nose prints.

As in the first two "Deep Freeze" campaigns, New Zealand will be the immediate base for the seven scientific stations established in Antarctica in connection with the International Geophysical year.

Santa's Aides

Members of the Boy Scouts last week made out after broken toys that can be mended to be given to less favored kiddies at Christmas. Eleven trucks made house to house calls and the Boy Scouts got out such a supply that the Salvation's Army's storehouse is full to overflowing. Next thing will be the repair work which will prove important to the Boy Scouts.

Maj. Louis Mocabee, in charge of the Salvation Army, states that if others have broken toys and will call the Salvation Army, they will be collected at once.

The Major and Mrs. Mockabee are back from an enjoyable vacation on the Gulf coast. They are starting out their new fall duties with enthusiasm.

Wooden Cross Burns In Front Of Negro House

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 24 (AP)—A small wooden cross was burned in the front yard of a Negro residence here last night and police today arrested four white teen-agers who admitted they were responsible.

Detective Capt. A. M. Haynie quoted the boys, 14 to 16 years old, as saying they burned the cross at the Henderson R. Wright residence "just for fun."

They told Haynie they did not know the Wrights and "had nothing against them."

The Wright woman reported to police that someone threw stones against her front door last night and she found the cross when she went to investigate.

Legislation On Disabilities Of Vets Pending

The House completed action on the measure Aug. 13 and sent it on to the White House. The President has until Aug. 27 to act.

The amount of increase will vary by individuals, depending on the degree of disability but for most veterans the increase will approximate 10 per cent.

The monthly payment for veterans who are totally and permanently disabled however will go up 25 per cent. The rate for total disability would go from $181 to $225 a month.

The increases in allowances for dependents of disabled veterans also would be stepped up.

Out of such a possibility as Frazar mentioned could come higher cigarette taxes within the cities, because municipalities are beating at the legislative door every year seeking new money. They're hungry, and Mayor Vetter tells why:

"Municipalities give 95 per cent of government service and operate on less than five per cent of all government taxes. All our taxing authority is controlled by the Legislature."

There has been constant top level talk about cities and parishes digging up more of their own revenues from now on before the state bursts at the seams with its taxing needs.

A month ago, budget officer J. Harvey Rester warned that the state may have to find an extra 60 million dollars to prepare for the new fiscal year. The figure could jump to 86 million, he said, if provisions were made for a full teachers pay raise.

The sixth district mayors did not ask a tax boost, just a larger slice of the existing tax by doubling their per capita shares.

And whether the full weight of the entire LMA and the police jury group will be placed behind the effort must be decided in the pre-Legislature conventions next year when all interests begin drafting their legislative proposals.

Mayor Vetter, informed of Long's comments, said "if you get enough people singing in the rain, they make as much noise as anybody else. And I hope the governor doesn't forget that."

Commenting on Frazar's mention of the possibility of turning over city cigarette tax rates to the cities. Vetter said "nothing would please us more.

"Then we would feel we would not have to continue subservient to the Legislature and government would start returning to the grassroots where it belongs," he said.

THEIR OWN CHILD

Adoption Ordeal Fosters Give-Away Move By Two

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (AP) — A Baltimore truck driver and his wife who have four children today offered to give their 2-year-old son to another couple whose foster child was taken from them by court order.

Under the proposal 24-year-old Edward Carlisle and his wife would permit Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Frantum to adopt 2-year-old Ronnie Everett Carlisle.

"Sure we'd miss him," Carlisle said, "but we'd feel we were doing good for somebody. I think Mrs. Frantum got a raw deal."

The Frantums had raised a foster child from infancy. Last week it was taken from them and turned over to another couple, who adopted it.

Turned Down

The Frantums wanted to adopt it but were turned down. The Circuit Court denied their request because the child's unwed mother had asked that the boy be raised a Catholic. The Frantums are Lutheran. They also were turned down because of their age—Frantum is 53, his wife, 47.

Mrs. Frantum said she will consider the offer.

"I just couldn't say whether we would accept, however," she said. "We're busy right now with an appeal to the courts and we still hope we can get our own child back."

The Frantums plan to ask the Supreme Court of the United States to review denial of the other child.

Husky Blond

The child the Carlisles would turn over to the Frantums is a husky, curly-headed blonde who was 2 last July 16.

Carlisle, a native of Laurinburg, N. C. said he has been out of work for about two weeks.

He said, however, his offer to give up his son was not motivated by concern about supporting his children. "There's always room for one more."

He said he and his wife became deeply concerned about the Frantums.

Mrs. Carlisle, a shy brunette, commented little except to say she agreed with her husband.

McGuire said Pentagon investigators underscored "procedures, circumstances and conditions" that led to mismanagement and improper disposal of surplus supplies. Among the causes cited were:

1. Large quantities of parts and equipment were apparently abandoned at the northeast air bases after World War II. When these bases were re-established and built up during the Korean War the new supplies got mixed up with the old.

2. "A major construction program was started at various air bases in Newfoundland and Greenland." Some units were inadequatly staffed with supply specialists.

3. Inadequate facilities "resulted in supplies and material being stored in exposed or open are where severe weather conditions in winter months caused rapid deterioration and obliterated identifying marks in some cases."

4. "Improper computation of requirements, requisitioning and inventory control . . . contributed to the spare parts excesses."

"These conditions created a supply problem that continued to become more critical even though as early as 1953 steps were taken by commanders to reduce known supply excesses," McGuire said.

Lutheran World Federation Ends 10-Day Meet

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 24 (AP) — With a call for Lutherans to join in a solemn partnership of work and witness, the Lutheran World Federation today ended a 10-day assembly that scrutinized the broad sweep of church thought and action.

Adjournment came after assembly delegates voted to commend to the 50 million Lutherans they represent a 3,400 word statement of principles — expressing Lutheran thinking on a variety of church and global questions.

Among other things, it calls for closer cooperation among Lutheran churches and among Christian churches in general, seeks a world wide recognition of human rights, asks Lutherans to "boldly face the massive revolutionary facts of our time" and appeals for gifts of "humility, wisdom and courage" to meet them.

The statement was a summing up of opinion gathered from leaders representing 61 member church bodies in 32 nations. It was received unanimously.

The federation, representing the bulk of the largest Protestant denomination in the world, is not an organized church. It makes no attempt to set policy for member churches.

Shotgun Blasts Fired At Negro Home In Ala.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 24 (AP)—Three shotgun blasts were fired into a Negro cafe owner's home and a crude 12-foot cross set afire on a nearby hill here last night.

City policemen, I. B. Moore and B. G. Smith who investigated said they were unable to find out the reason for the incident.

The shotgun blasts were fired into the bedroom of James Cole, 44, owner of the Colonial Grill, about 10:30 p.m., they said. No one was in the house at the time. Two windows were broken by the pellets.

A Negro woman, identified as Mrs. Gertrude Blackman, was quoted as saying she was across the street and saw the shotgun fired from a moving car which continued up a side road where the cross was burning.

Cole said he had received no threats from anyone and did not understand why the cross was burned. He added that he has remained neutral in the segregatic controversy.

Negro Arrested On Four Charges

In jail last night with four charges pending against him was Wilbur Johnson, 52, Negro, who gave his address as at a brick company here.

Johnson was charged with driving while intoxicated, reckless driving, driving without an operator's license, and damage to property, after he slammed his car into a telephone pole at the corner of DeSiard and South 20 streets at 8:30 last night.

Johnson said that he swerved to the right to miss an oncoming vehicle and hit the pole.

Say Children Died After Polio Shots

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 24 (AP)—A $50,000 damage suit charging that two of their children inoculated with polio vaccine died because a vial of it contained live, deadly disease germs was filed by a suburban Kansas City, couple today.

The charge was made in a petition to Circuit Court by Mr. and Mrs. Aloysius Schreier Jr. against the Parke-Davis & Co. branch office here.

C. U. Fisher, branch manager, said he had not been informed of the suit. He is named in the Schreier petition as a joint defendant.

The two children, Linda Schreier, 4, and Ramona Schreier, 2½, died last year, within a month of getting their first shots.

Two other Schreier children, Joseph Edward Schreier, 5, and Cheryl Schreier, 3, were vaccinated from another vial, the parents said, and did not become ill.

Another child, Joan Daniels, 13, the daughter of a friend, was inoculated from the same vial of vaccine the Schreiers claim was contaminated.

vestigation, McClellan announced that:

The committee probably won't hold further hearings until about Oct. 1 but that it is possible there will be a "brief series of hearings before that date."

The committee is not gearing its schedule to affect the Teamsters' election Sept. 30, when Hoffa will be seeking the presidency. "Whatever hearings we have will not be related to the (Teamsters) Convention." McClellan said.

Looking beyond the teamsters, the next big union international the committee will investigate probably will be the United Auto Workers. That will be in connection with a long strike at the Kohler Co. plant in Kohler, Wis. Other international unions he said, are involved in that, too.

The committee has had about 200 communications since yesterday, a number of them complaints about senators on the committee who, in the opinion of television viewers, were being too easy on Hoffa. McClellan himself avoided criticizing any senators on the committee.

The study is expected to start after Brooks' return from Europe where he will check into the operation of this country's so - called Status of Forces agreements.

Under these agreements, United States troops and their dependents may be tried in foreign courts.

LEFTISTS, RIGHTISTS

Spit In Ranks Of Youths Visiting China Reported

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—A split in the ranks of 41 Americans visiting Red China was reported by the British news agency Reuters today.

It said the delegation which went to Peiping from the Moscow Youth Festival had broken up into leftists and rightists, with some of the group remaining neutral.

The break erupted shortly after the Americans pulled into the Peiping railroad station yesterday after an eight-day trip from Moscow.

Shelby Tucker, 22-year-old former Yale student from Pass Christian, Miss., said it happened when he and other so-called rightists refused to turn over their passports to the Chinese.

Tucker, who said he made the trip to Peiping to "balance out the lunatic fringe" among the Americans, told Reuters the Chinese made less fuss about their refusal than the American leftists.

He said the Chinese were willing to let the rightists off the train but said they would look at the passports when the group reached their hotel.

'Struggle Meeting'

But, said Tucker, the leftists attempted to force the dissenters to hand over the passports and later subjected them to what he called "a struggle and criticism meeting."

Tucker said the rightists then got a lecture from the Rev. Warren McKenna of Boston on breaking Chinese law.

The Reuters dispatch quoted one of the neutrals in the group as saying relations between the opposing factions were "pretty strained." The neutral quoted one of the leftists, identified as Jerry Fiderer of Brooklyn, as having told the group, "Let's not criticize the Communist party in the presence of foreigners" and the rightists. Delegates from 11 other nations are making the tour.

Tucker said others breaking with the leftists in the group included Dan O'Connell, a Chicago copywrighter; Joanne Grant, a reporter also from Chicago; Ed Hochman of New York, and Robert Cohen of Los Angeles now living in Paris.

Unpopular

Tucker, one of eight Americans at the Moscow Youths Festival who were called Fascists by the Soviet press, was said by Reuters to have become unpopular with some others in the delegation.

He told the news agency he decided to ignore a State Department ban on travel in Red China and go with the delegation "in an attempt to paint a more favorable picture of America than some others who in Moscow and China have done little but criticize their homeland."

The State Department now is permitting 24 American newsmen to go to China on a trial basis.

The United States took the final step today for entry into the mainland by the newsmen but the Chinese Communist government still was keeping its doors closed.

Correspondents waiting in Hong Kong are speculating the Chinese will keep them out until after the American youth tourists leave China and write their own, probably less critical accounts of the tour.

Reuters reported that the Chinese had extended the visit of the youths until after Oct. 1 so that they may see the National Day parade in Peiping.

The Americans spent their first full day in Peiping seeing the sights and discussing the best route for their tour of China. Their expenses are being paid by the All-China Federation of Democratic Youth.

Texas Governor Names Manford To State Post

AUSTIN, Aug. 24 (UP)— Gov. Price Daniel today announced the appointment of Durwood Manford of Smiley, former speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, as a member of the Industrial Accident Board. The appointment is effective Nov. 1.

Daniel said he will ask the present employer member of the board, Harold (Buddy) Jungmichel, whose term expires Sept. 1, to remain on the board until Manford takes office in November.

Manford, speaker of the House of the 51st Legislature in 1949-50, is a former chairman of the board for state hospitals and special schools. He is an attorney, rancher and businessman.

The appointment is for six years ending Sept. 1, 1963.

The governor said Manford's experience as an attorney, businessman and public official will be "most valuable during the period in which the Industrial Accident Board will have its greatest expansion and reorganization.

Daniel pointed out the Legislature "not only raised workmen's compensation payments for injured employes in accordance with my recommendation but provided additional funds to enable this department to render better service to the public and to gather statistical data necessary for an industrial safety program."

Science On Verge Of Life Secret

MOSCOW, Aug. 24 (AP)—Science was pictured today on the verge of cracking the secret of how life began.

Two American scientists at an international symposium on the age-old mystery said the solution is only a matter of years away. The week-long symposium of 40 scientists closed today.

The scientists seek to duplicate in the laboratory what they say the forces of nature did at the beginning of time. They want to create a living thing in a test tube.

"Don't expect to see a little boy or little girl crawl out of a test tube," said one of them. The created life, he said, will be some microscopic matter which somehow has been given the impetus of the living.

S. L. Miller, a Columbia University biochemist who was one of nine Americans at the symposium, looked optimistically at the progress being made.

"I believe we will see life created in the laboratory within our lifetime," he said.

Another American, Melvin Calvin of the University of California in Berkeley, had this to say:

"Many things can interrupt. Discovery could be thousands of years away. But I do not believe that. I would say life under laboratory conditions is a few dozen years ahead—three dozen years."

HE DROPPED IN

George Just Wanted To Get A Good Shave

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 24 (AP)—Lt. George Hargis just dropped by the house for a shave this afternoon. But the police took a dim view of the whole thing.

For instance, they pointed out, what's that helicopter doing in the backyard.

"That's what I dropped by in," Hargis answered politely as officers, reporters and bystanders tromped down the lawn to get a closer look at the Army craft.

"I just stopped to shave and clean up a little. I didn't know I was going to cause any disturbance."

Hargis is a National Guard pilot with the 49th Air Section in nearby Grand Prairie. With all that weekend traffic on the highways he decided to go overhead to his home here.

"You can put one of these down any place in the world," Hargis said.

"I've never heard of any restrictions about landing these things."

Officers brought one to his attention—a city ordinance prohibits landing a craft in the city limits without authority. The offense carries fines up to $200.

The air police stopped by to investigate but decided the case was out of their jurisdiction.

City police concluded it was their problem but were a little hesitant about issuing parking tickets. Police Lt. Ed Lee said a report would be made to William Fuller, city aviation director.

Red Skelton Returns To Europe Alone

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 24 (UP)—American comedian Red Skelton returned to Europe alone today on a combined business trip to Spain and pilgrimage to the shrine of Our Lady of Fatima in Portugal to pray for his leukemia-stricken son.

Skelton said at Lisbon airport that he intended to fly to Spain Sunday to buy a puppet show from a children's park in Barcelona for a similar park in Ocean Beach, Calif., in which he is interested.

He said he planned to visit Fatima during a one-day stopover in Portugal to pray for his son, Richard, 9.

Skelton returned to the United States recently from an extended European tour with his son, daughter and wife. The tour was cut short in Britain when Skelton became angered over British press charges that he was "exploiting" his son's illness for publicity purposes.

Child Struck By Auto Here, Hospitalized

A four-year-old Negro child was injured at 5:30 p. m. yesterday when he ran out into the street in front of a truck driven by Leonard Shaw, 45, Negro of 1105½ Pine street.

Alvin Pinky, who lives with his grandmother, Mary Jane Swayzer at 815 Ouachita, was crossing the 200 block of S. Eighth street when the mishap occurred. Police who investigated said that Shaw skidded 25 feet before the left front fender of his pick-up truck hit the youngster.

The driver halted momentarily and then drove off. He was apprehended by Monroe police, charged with driving while intoxicated and reckless driving and placed in the city jail.

The child was taken to Conway Memorial Hospital, where he was treated for lacerations of the face and leg, and kept overnight for observation.

Raging Forest Fire Nips At Small Village

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y., Aug. 24 (AP)—A raging forest fire almost circled the little village of Altona in northern New York tonight but firefighters had established a fire line they hoped would save the community.

About 50 residents of the village, which has a population of 400, had evacuated their homes. Plans to move others were postponed after the fire line was established and the wind died down at nightfall.

The fire, worst in the state in 13 years, had raced to within 3,000 feet of Altona's outskirts before it was halted, at least temporarily.

About 3,500 acres of scrub forest near the Canadian border have been charred since the fire broke out last Monday.

Luxury Liner Postpones Trip

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Aug. 24 (AP) — The French luxury liner Liberte snarled a steel cable around one of her propellers tonight and was forced to postpone her departure for New York.

The 51,839-ton liner freed itself after several frantic hours, but then eased out into open water to anchor like a wounded giant. After daybreak divers will go down to inspect the ship for possible damage.

Amite Man Dies Of Injuries In Auto Accident

AMITE, La., Aug. 24 (AP)—Johnny B. Sharkey, 27, Amite, died today of injuries received when his automobile collided with a parked car between Amite and Hammond.

State police reported Sharkey's car crashed into the automobile of P. J. Abscent of Buras. Officers said the latter machine had lost a wheel and that Abscent and a companion, W. F. Warrick of Bogue Chitto, Miss., were about 300 feet north of the machine flagging traffic with a flashlight when Sharkey's car went by them and crashed into the parked car.

Negro Treated For Slashed Arm

A 36 - year - old Negro was treated at Conway Memorial hospital for a laceration on the arm last night, after he was cut by another Negro who had slashed at a girl with a pocket knife.

James Edwards, 36 or 603 Buck Jones Lane said that he was behind a Five Points drug store at 6:30 p.m., when Reed Hill, Negro who lives in the Booker T. Washington addition attempted to slash a girl who was talking to Edwards.

He missed and slashed the man instead, officers were told. Edwards said the girl was not injured and that he took a bus to Conway for treatment.

Cop Revisits Bars In New Orleans Case

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 24—UP—A Louisiana state trooper "revisited" several bars in Grand Isle in the company of fellow officers today to show them where he took Mrs. Ruth Tilotta on a date July 19, the last day she was seen alive.

The 34-year-old state policeman, Barry A. Roberts of Luling, whom the Houston, Tex. housewife described as "handsome," is married and the father of two children.

He admitted Friday after a day of questioning by state police Supt. John Nick Brown that he stopped Mrs. Tilotta en route to New Orleans from Houston for a traffic violation but did not give her a ticket. He also stated he requested her telephone number and had called her several times at her sister's home in Little Farms near here.

Mrs. Tilotta's badly decomposed body, clad only in red panties and a red bra, was discovered by two hunters in a wooded area near Crown Point.

Roberts said Mrs. Tilotta drove to Grand Isle to meet him while he was patroling a fishing rodeo.

The trooper said he met Mrs. Tilotta July 19 and they stopped and had drinks at several bars. He said she left in her car about 1:30 a.m. July 20 and did not say where she was going.

Brown said today that "Trooper Roberts emphatically denied any implication in the woman's death."

Jefferson parish authorities said an "intense investigation" of the activities of Roberts had been ordered.

Capt. Earl Rolling, chief of the Jefferson parish criminal investigation division, said Roberts told him he had not made any previous statements about dating the Houston woman because he was married and afraid of losing his job with the state police.

Marine Shot By Captain In Housing Area

HONOLULU, Aug. 24 (AP)—A Marine lieutenant, mistaken for an intruder, was shot and killed today by a Marine captain at the captain's home in a naval housing area.

The Marine Corps ordered an investigation into the death of Lt. Aaron E. Haynes, 22, of 164 Archer Ave., Shreveport, La., father of a son, Cary, 3.

A Navy spokesman said Capt. Robert C. Morton, 31, of Carlsbad, N. M., fired three shots at what the Morton family believed was a prowler on their front steps.

The spokesman said Mrs. Donna Dee Haynes, 22, drove the Haynes car home last night from a party. Haynes was asleep. She couldn't park in a regular parking place and left the car several doors down the street. When Haynes awakened he walked to the wrong house.

Mrs. Barbara Morton, formerly of Whitewater, Wis., mother of two children, was awakened when she heard a man on the front steps. She called to her husband a former New Mexico state policeman, who fired three shots.

John Lyle, Shreveport, La., was judged second.

Youth Group Is Willing Tool Says VFW Head

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Aug. 24 (AP)—National Commander Cooper T. Holt of the Veterans of Foreign Wars today called the 41 young Americans touring Red China "willing tools of communism" and said the press should ignore them when they return.

"I feel nothing but disdain for each and every member of the group visiting Peiping," Holt said in a statement. He is here for the National VFW convention which opens tomorrow.

The VFW leader from Chattanooga, Tenn., said members of the group have placed a propaganda weapon "in the hands of the enemy and in so doing have committed an act as traitorous as the man who leaves his post in time of war to join the enemy.

"The American press would perform a great public service if, on the return of this group to the United States, it would completely ignore them.

"We can expect them to return parroting the phrases of Peiping and it will do the American people no good to hear more of such nonsense. . . ."

Husband Charged In Stabbing Of Waitress Wife

LAUREL, Miss., Aug. 24 (AP)—A 37-year-old waitress was stabbed to death in a rooming house here today and authorities charged her husband with murder.

Doggette quoted Smith as saying "I did it. Here is the knife."

Doggette said the operator of the rooming house, Miss K. C. White, called police when she heard the woman screaming in her room.

When officers arrived the woman's body was on the bed and her husband was sitting in a chair.

Miss White said the couple came from Hattiesburg and moved into the room last Monday. She said she heard the couple arguing Thursday night. Smith left when his wife went outside to make a telephone call, and hadn't been seen until today, Miss White told officers.

Doggette said Smith was charged with murder and placed in Jones County jail to await action by the county grand jury next month.

Man Believed Drowned In Boat Accident

DELAND, Fla., Aug. 24 (AP) — William Miller, 40, a hospital technician from New Orleans, was believed drowned after a motorboat accident on Lake George, deputy sheriff H. R. Daugherty reported today.

The officer said Miller has been missing since about noon Friday and dragging operations are being conducted in the big lake, about 30 miles west of Daytona Beach.

Miller and a friend, Ira Southward Jr., were thrown into the water when a wave capsized their boat about 400 yards from shore, Southward said.

Southward made it to shore with the help of floating water hyacinths.

Rooftop Heliports Proposed As Bayou Flood Protection

By STAN MEISLER

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — In one man's dream, flat top schoolhouses on stilts will tower over the Louisiana coast and guard the bayou people from another disaster like Hurricane Audrey.

Capt. E. R. Vorenkamp, an oil company official who flew over the horror of Cameron the day Audrey struck, has started a drive for these schoolhouses. Their height would keep the people above the waters. Their flatness would allow rescue helicopters to land.

Example Cited

"Cannibals in the jungle build their homes on pilings to protect their young," says the 61-year-old former Navy officer. "We cannot afford to be out-smarted by cannibals again.

"If we prefer inaction, as we have done so far, it is reasonable to assume that henceforth we will be referred to by the rest of the world and by the cannibals in particular as the moronic tribe."

Capt. Vorenkamp, transport manager for the Shell Oil Co., calls himself the "Committee of One for Heliport Shelters."

His proposed buildings would stand on pilings or concrete supports 10 feet high. The upper stories and flat roofs would be strong enough to hold helicopters. He wants enough room upstairs to shelter about 50 families.

In normal times, Vorenkamp says, the buildings also could do extra jobs. They would make it easier for helicopters to transport sick people who can not take the bumpy ambulance ride to the hospital in the big city.

In addition, the buildings would serve as refueling stations for helicopters.

Vorenkamp does not restrict his plan to schoolhouses. Hospitals, stores and homes also could be built on stilts and with flat roofs.

Wide Need Claimed

"Nor is the necessity for these structures limited to south Louisiana. he adds "There exists an equal need for such heliports in other sections of the country, such as the Mississippi River Valley, as well as other river valleys exposed to floods."

Capt. Vorenkamp got his idea for a heliport drive when he flew over [illegible]on on June 27, the day Audrey struck the coast, leaving a toll of more than 500 dead and missing.

"To see people die and not being able to help them is not a pleasant experience," says Vorenkamp.

"The settlements along the Gulf resemble a convoy of troop transports without life boats, life rafts, or even life preservers," he adds. "It is pathetic."

"Anyone who stands in the way or fails to take an active part in the construction of heliport shelters will have on his conscience the death of those who perish in the next flood."

'To Talk With God' Rev. Boddie Theme

"To Talk With God!" and "To Walk With God!" will be the sermon subjects of Reverend W. D. Boddie at the 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. services on Sunday, August 25, at the Rayville Methodist Church. These messages will be the first and second in a series of three sermons on the theme of man's relationship to God.

In addition to the chancel choir anthem to be directed by Mrs. J. E. Ball, assistant director, Dan Morse, Jr., will sing a baritone solo entitled "I Talked to God Last Night."

The youth choir will sing at the evening service under the direction of Dan Morse, Jr.

The holy communion will be observed at both services.

OUTBOARDS RACE ON OUACHITA RIVER TODAY; WOODS, McDADE LOW IN C. S. PRACTICE TRIPS

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Johnny Reagan left Northeast Louisiana State College without taking the chance to head coach the Indian cage machine as he had expected to do this winter, and the Gulf States Conference school is bringing in Lenny Fant, well known in this area, to do the job.

Fant, after marked success as coach of the East Texas Baptist College cagers, thus will become the third head basketball coach at Northeast in the school's brief history as a four-year institution. Cary Phillips, West Monroe pharmacist and former Ole Miss ace, handled the senior college Tribe two seasons before Arnold Kilpatrick, who had developed a state champion prep club at Jonesboro, moved in to take over and later add the title of athletic director.

But Reagan, who has already departed for his home at Bismarck, Mo., where he'll remain until September 1 and a move to Murray State of Owenburg, Ky., advises that his departure from Northeast should not be classified as "a resignation." Reagan said he simply "rejected the new contract offered me by the college."

After his one season as assistant to Kilpatrick last winter, Reagan was supposed to take over as head coach next season, or so we had been informed. The handsome redhead had already made many friends in and around Monroe and was taking an active interest in sports at all levels in the Twin Cities area. We hated to see Johnny go.

The turnover in the Northeast athletic department has been tremendous in the past few months. The office of athletic director at the school was abolished this summer, and an athletic committee is expected to run the school's affairs in sports. Generally, however, every head coach will be solely responsible for running his own department—to the pleasure of alumni, Quarterback Club, and President Lewis C. Slater.

Fant should be able to do a good job for the Redskins. He first appeared on the state athletic scene as a star performer for Centenary at Shreveport after a three-year stretch of military service. His first coaching experience was gained in handling Delhi Hi School's basketball teams of 1950-51-52-53. He served a year as cage coach and athletic director at Louisiana College. '53-54, before switching to East Texas in the summer of '54.

When Curtis Nichols, the automobile dealer, was producing those fine semi-pro cage clubs here a few years ago, Fant was one of his star performers. Fant thus worked in this area long enough to establish a host of friends and the crew-cut coach won't be coming back as a stranger.

And the reshuffling of the athletic department at Northeast should be about settled for the opening of the new term next month.

Within the past year the Indians saw Leon Manley depart as football assistant to Devon Payne, taking a similar job at Colgate U. A month ago Bob DeMoss, ex-Oklahoma A. and M. great, was named as Manley's successor. Next, Lewis Hartzog, after a fine career as developer of champion high school track teams in Colorado, was named to coach Indian cindermen, a job held down in a pinch-hit role last year by Coach Payne after Leo Kay left to accept a non-coaching position. Now, Lenny Fant.

Maybe the athletic family is about settled again with Coach Payne and George Luffey, the latter baseball coach and grid assistant, remaining as senior members of the staff.

Aim For Zone Titles In Cup Contests Here

The drone of high - powered outboard motors from several southern states will resound on the Ouachita river here today as the second annual Silver Cup Race of Champions is run this afternoon with twelve events for six boating classes.

The National Outboard Association, which sanctions the event and lends added distinction this year by designating the races as the association's South Central Zone Championships, will qualify winners for the national outboard races scheduled for next month in Illinois.

Racers who qualify in the zone events are automatic contenders at the national. Racers failing to win in zone races will be required to make qualifing races in pre - national events and stand a chance of failing. Thus, most racers seek to clinch national berths in the zone races and for that reason the Silver Cup Race of Champions is expected to draw more and better outboard racers to this afternoon's water classic.

Major Jack Davis of the traffic division of the Monroe Police Department has announced that the old traffic bridge extending from DeSiard street in Monroe to Coleman avenue in West Monroe will be closed to all vehicular traffic this afternoon from 1 0'clock until 6 o'clock. The races are scheduled to be in full swing by 1:30 o'clock and will last until 5:30 or 6:30 p.m.

Also closed to the public will be the public boat launching area just south of Howard Griffin's boat docks. The launching area is being reserved as pit area for the racing boats, their drivers, and mechanics. Twin City boat owners not participating in the races but desiring to enjoy the river today are being requested to use the Pine street launching area or other facilities that may be available.

No boats will be permitted to operate in the area of the one-mile race course from just south of the old traffic bridge to just south of Griffin's boat dock. All boats in the area will be required to anchor along the banks during the races.

For the spectators using land facilities, the most advantageous area is the West Monroe levee from immediately opposite Griffin's docks north to the old Traffic bridge. While automobile traffic will be halted on the bridge, pedestrians will be permitted to use the bridge, and spectators may also occupy the span.

Approximately 100 boats are expected here to run in the various classes — Class A hydroplane, Class B hydroplane, Class C hydroplane, Class C service runabouts, Class C service, and Class C service hydroplanes.

Among outstanding racers expected are three past national champions — Dave Livingston, Lake Village, Ark., Ralph Tatum, Jackson, Miss., and Bob McGinty, Corpus Chrisiti, Tex. Some other top - notch drivers include Earl Griffin and Ermin Griffin, El Dorado, Ark.; P. Sweet, Memphis; Cluit Cavin Jr., Little Rock; Henry Grupe, Dallas; and Johnny Beaumont, Hattiesburg, Miss. The list is expected to include many other racers of Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, and possibly Alabama. Racers who are not residents of the states covered in the national zone may also compete.

The Silver Cup, sponsored by the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, will have cash awards ready for winners of each race scaled at $40 - 20 - 10 - 5 for the first four places in each race. Race officials, working with J. H. "Slim" Scogin's C. of C. sports committee, will be supplied by the N.O.A., and "Skeeter" Morgan, local boat owner, has turned his boat over the race officials for the afternoon. The official's boat will be anchored near midstream, with loudspeaker arrangements from the boat to keep spectators informed of particulars of each race.

It's entirely free to all spectators.

Hole-In-One Turned In By Bill Cooper

Ninety-six golfers toured Bayou DeSiard Country Club's spacious 18-hole course yesterday in trail rounds for the ninth annual Cotton States Invitational Golf Tournament scheduled here for the Labor Day weekend. Some of the practicing linksmen turned in good scores, including one who carded a hole - in - one.

Wayne Woods, Monroe, and Ross McDade, El Campo, Tex., had the low rounds yesterday, each coming in with 71s.

The hole - in - one was registered by Bill Cooper, Grenada, Miss., who hit with a six iron at the No. 13 hole. He was playing a foursome with Jim Fortner, Tom Grayson, and McDade. Cooper showed a 74 for the round.

Other low practice trips included Lamar Loe Jr., Tallulah, 72; H. C. Menuet, Monroe, 72; Al Gallagher, Monroe, 73; and Kenneth Holt, West Monroe, 73.

Latest "name" golfer to file his entry with the tournament committee is Jim Buxbaum, Memphis, the 1956 national public links champion. Buxbaum, a top contender last year, registered by telephone yesterday.

Qualifying for non-championship fight contenders is already in progress and will continue through Thursday. Championship qualifying is restricted to Friday.

The participation field will also be restricted this year with only 200 spots — 144 in the featured tourney and 56 in the special seniors division — being opened for contention when play starts Saturday. Seniors must indicate when qualifying whether or not they will participate in the regular or senior event. Seniors are not restricted to the meet for the older golfers — those 50 years old and over.

Among other golfers already expected are Gene Dahlbender Jr., Atlanta, Ga., twice winner of the event; Jake Epting, Jackson, Miss., the 1953 champ; H. P. Childress, Vicksburg, the Mississippi amateur champ; "Buddy" Majors, New Orleans city champion; Don Schumacher, city kingpin of Dallas, Tex.; plus other such contenders as John Garrett, Rice Institute; Frank Whorton, University of Houston; Billy Martaindale, Jacksonville, Tex.; Carl Morgan, Jasper, Tex.; Mort Jordan, Greenwood, Miss.

Don Sims, the Bastrop youngter, is expected to make it tough for some of the more seasoned players on qualifying day, along with Monroe's Bill Jones, first winner of the Cotton States.

Rodgers Upset By Updegraff In Western

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24 (UP)—Dr. Ed Updegraff scored a 2-1 victory over Phil Rodgers of LaJolla, Calif. today to move into the finals of the 55th Western Amateur Golf Championship along with Joe Campbell of Knoxville, Tenn.

Campbell scored a similar 2-1 win over Wichita, Kan. oilman Jim Vickers in today's 36-hole semi-finals.

The 35-year-old Updegraff, a Tucson, Ariz. physician, and Campbell, a 21-year-old insurance salesman, will meet in the 36-hole finals Sunday to climax the seven-day and 12-round tournament.

Rodgers, a 19-year-old University of Houston sophomore who was co-medalist, was no match today for the sharp putting and short iron play of Updegraff. The Tucson doctor, even par for the day, started with a bang with two straigh' birdies and five consecutive one-putt greens.

Updegraff, two time Arizona state champion and four time Tucson Invitational winner, was three-under par and took a three-up margin over Rodgers on the first nine. He was four-up at 18 and held the same margin at 27.

Ohio Youth Wins Jaycee Golf Throne

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 24 (UP)— Pre - tourney favorite Jackie Nicklaus of Columbus overcame a two-stroke deficit today to win the 12th Annual Jaycee International Golf tournament.

The 17-year-old 1956 runner-up carded a one-over par 73 to inch ahead of third-round leader John Konsek, of Lancaster, N.Y., 294 to 296 for the championship in the 72-hole tourney.

Konsek, who previously carded rounds of 73-72-74, shot a five-over par 77 today. He had a bogey six on the final hole to drop the tournament.

Nicklaus toured the first nine in par 36, but went one over on the last nine.

NEW MATCH RECORD

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Aug. 24 (UP)—John Moschkau of Waterloo, Iowa, walked off with the small bore championship and a new national match record today by scoring 6392 out of a possible 6400 points this week to top the old mark set in 1955 by Viola Pollum by two points.

Mrs. Bertie Moore, wife of Robert, won the women's crown by marking up 6370 points, four more than Inez Sargent of Houston.

WEST MONROE JAMBOREE

Lions, Rebs Lock Horns In Friday's Grid Show

The Ouachita Lions of Monroe and the West Monroe Rebels, triple - A rivals in a rebuilding year, give Twin Cities football fans a good idea of their strenghts and weaknesses when they clash here next Friday night in one third of a three-game football jamboree that includes Bastrop vs. Winnfield and Columbia vs. Bernice.

It's the third annual jamboree sponsored by the West Monroe Lions Club in cooperation with West Monroe High School. West Monroe, under new coach Cecil Pirkey, is currently training at Singing Waters, a Y.M.C.A camp near Hammond, while Bob Ellen, ready for his second season as the helm of Ouachita, is busy with two - a - day workouts for his Lions here.

M. C. Hall, jamboree chairman, last night declared, "This will be the finest jamboree in north Louisiana, and our best production up to now."

The three games, billed for Brown Field, will go 20 minutes each for a full 60 minutes of action.

Each of the competing teams will select a jamboree queen, and bands and pep squads of the rival schools have been invited to participate in this curtain - raising program for a new football campaign.

The advanced ticket sale is already in progress and are available in the principals' offices at Bastrop, Bernice and Winnfield. Columbia fans get their tickets from Edgar Duke there. In Monroe the pasteboards are at McKenzie's Sports Shop, and West Monroe's allotment is at Norris Style Shop. The tickets are $1 reserved, $1 adult general admission, 50 cents student general admission; and $1.50 for box seats.

Miss Gunderson Wins National Amateur Crown

Neither player could equal women's par of 73 on the 6,368-hole Del Paso country club match during the championship finals. But Miss Gunderson, a five-foot seven, 140-pound slugger who belts the ball like a man, was just too strong for the 34-year-old matron from Mason City, particulary from tee to green.

She jumped into a lead on the very first hole of their scheduled 36-hole match by sinking a 20-footer for a birdie and she never was behind in the entire match.

By winning, she became the second youngest player to capture the big black trophy. Not since 1896 when Beatrix Hoyt won the crown has the title been held by such a youngster.

How Now Cops Featured Bing Crosby Event

DEL MAR, Calif., Aug. 24 (AP)— How Now, a Texas - bred gelding, came with a rush in the stretch to win the 12th running of the $14,000 added Bing Crosby Handicap today.

With Ray York aboard, How Now, owned by George C. Newell of Seattle, ran the six furlongs in 1:09 1-5, reaching the finish a length in front of Jedgard Ruler. Noredski was third in the nine-horse field.

The winner, carrying top weight of 122 pounds, was the betting favorite and paid $7.30, $4.10 and $3.80. Jedgar Ruler returned $6.60 $8.00.

MISSISSIPPIANS TAKE CROWN

Monroe Falls To Jackson 8-1, In Regional Finals

NEW ORLEANS, La., (Special) --Monroe's amazing American Legion Juniors finally sputtered to a stop here last night as Jackson, Mississippi topped them, 8-1, to win the Southwest regional championship, their first since 1931.

Lefthander Guy Parker, voted the tourney's Most Valuable Player by major league scouts, halted the Louisiana boys with a fine 7 - hit effort while his teammates were scoring 8 runs, 6 unearned, on 8 singles off Fred Southerland, who was awarded the tournament's Sportsmanship Trophy after the game.

Parker was a little too much to handle. Monroe managed to reach him for their lone tally in the 5th with the aid of his brief wild streak. He struck out only 9 but walked only 3.

Southerland, on the other hand, was not at his best, though he deserved a better fate. Only 2 runs off him were earned but he was wild and was hit solidly at times. He fanned 12 but walked 10.

Third baseman Lannie Johnson and shortstop Francis Genusa, whose errors helped Monroe tumbie, made up for their bobbles afield with their hitting. Johnson had 3 for 4 and Genuas 2 for 3.

Black started the Jacksor uprising in the first when he rapped a routine grounder that Lannie Johnson let get by him. Southerland ran into a wild streak and walked Parker and Cochran.

Southerland balked the 4th run in before fanning Windham to end the frame.

Monroe looked dangerous briefly in their half of the first when Dooley Haddad and Francis Genusa singled but a bouncer to the mound and a double play ended the threat.

Genusa reached third in the third inning when he walked and advanced two bases on an error. He died there when Louis Kincaid got hit with his own bunt to end the inning.

The Mississippians scored again in the top of the 5th on a single by Cochran, an error by Genusa and a sacrifice fly by Keith.

McCain - Richards got their initial tally in the same frame. With one out, Parker lost his control momentarily and walked Southerland and Haddad. Genusa got a single on a grounder to second when Keith missed the bag trying for a forceout.

Altick shot a hard smash off Parker's leg that brought in Southerland although Jim was out at first. Haddad wanted to score on the play on Altick as he did Friday night but ran into Cochran rounding third and had to hold up. Kincaid fanned to end the inning.

Jackson added their 6th run, appropriately enough, in the 6th inning when Smith gained first on another error by Genusa and scored on singles by Gary and Black.

The losers mounted a threat of their own in the 6th but couldn't cash in. Ronnie McNabb singled with one out and went to third on Lannie Johnson's one - bagger. Johnson got to second when the Jacksonians attempted to throw out McNabb at third. The threat died as Crowe fanned and Southerland grounded to first.

A pair of tallies in the 7th completed the Jackson scoring. Keith walked, Smith singled and so did Gary, bringing in Keith. Smith went to third on Black's infield out and scored when Crowe let a pitch get behind him.

The winners were still knocking at the door in the 9th when they loaded the sacks on two walks and a hit batsman but Southerland made Cochran his 12th strikeout victim to end it.

Parker set Monroe down in order in the 7th and 8th but Johnson led off the 9th with his third single of the game but was out at second trying to stretch it into a double. Pinchhitters Neil McDonald and Larry Tilley fanned to end the game and a great season for Monroe.

Donovan Beats Bosox For 7th Consecutive Triumph

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (UP)—Dick Donovan scored his seventh consecutive victory and 15th of the season today as he pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 7-1 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

Donovan gave up nine hits, walked one man and struck out one as he enabled the White Sox to keep pace in the pennant race 5½ games behind the New York Yankees.

One of the Boston hits was a double by Ted Williams, scoring Billy Klaus, who also had doubled in the fourth inning. It was Williams' only hit in four times at bat, as his league leading average dropped one point to .381.

Louise Suggs Grabs Lead In Heart Of America Golf

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 24 (UP)—Sharp iron play and an accurate putter gave Georgia veteran Louise Suggs of Sea Island a three-under-par 72 today for a 36-hole total of 146 and a fat four-stroke lead in the $5,000 Heart of America Open.

Miss Suggs, who has won virtually every major title for women in her 10-year-professional career, faltered on only two holes for bogies on the 6,400 yard hilly layout.

With the final 18 holes to play Sunday, Bonnie Randolph, 30-year-old Naples, Fla., pro in her third year on the circuit, moved into second place with 76, one-over-par for a 150 total.

Fay Crocker, Montevideo, Uruguay, a former U. S. Open champion, and Marlene Bauer Hagge, Delray Beach, Calif., 1956 top money winner, were next with 151 totals. Miss Crocker shot 35-40—75 today while Mrs. Hagge turned in a 35-39—74 card.

Betty Jameson, San Antonio, first day leader with 73, fought a balky putter for a 79 to become deadlocked with four other professionals at 152. The others were Wanda Sanches, Baton Rouge, La.; Jackie Pung, San Francisco; Beverly Hanson, Indio, Calif.; and Mickey Wright, LaJolla, Calif.

Kathy Cornelius, Dayton, Ohio, and Joann Prentice, Birmingham, Ala., were tied with 153s.

Dale Fleming, Tulsa, moved into the lead over the amateurs with an 82 today for a 162 total. Nan Berry, Quincy, Ill., who led Friday, had 87 for 165.

POLISH BOWLING BALLS

It's the time of the year for leagues to get underway in America's No. 1 participation sport—Bowling.

The Business Women's League has grabbed a week's start on the others and right now The Rendezvous is the proud holder of a one-point lead over such fine teams as News-Star—World, J. R. White, Troy and Nichols, Fields, Team No. 4, Falstaff, Monroe Hardware, Delta Music, and Louisiana Well Company.

This league, although younger than some of the others, had one of the tightest races last year. The two top teams ending in a regular season tie, still a deadlock in the first roll-off, and Delta Music finally winning in a sudden death single game.

The league features such high average bowlers as Ora Lee Johnston, Pearl McNicol, Bennie Mallery, Daisy Creighton, and Totsie Shoemaker.

The Kegler League also got an early start on most circuits. Sporting five new sponsors—A. and C. Music Spatafora Rexall, Friendly Finance, Jax Beer and McKenzie's Sport Shop—the league looks a lot stronger. And they'll have to be strong to dethrone John Savage's Monroe "66" team which has won the league championship two straight years.

Casey Jones has his second-place finishers back in Clover Leaf Dairies. Louis Whitfield's fine Pan-Am team returns along with Thames Skelly, Troy and Nichols (city champions), and Team No. 7.

The league offers such stars as Mutt Carroll (holder of high game 279 last year), Sonny Durham, Ed Villa, "Red" Holley, E. B. Peddy, Al Knipping, Archie Parker, Bud Lyons, Bill Rambin, Russell Bates and a host of others.

After the first week of play A. and C. Music and Spatafora hold a point lead over the others.

MAJORS STRONG AGAIN

The Major League kicks off tomorrow night by taking the wraps off such powerful teams as league champion Longview Equipment, Royal Feed and Seed, Continental Laboratories, The Forge, Standard Office Supply, Neon Sign Service and others.

Longview bowled a 2,828 scratch in the ABC tourney at Fort Worth, Tex., last year, finishing among the nation's high teams. Continental Lab bowled good in the booster division, while Neon Sign's keglers won prize money at Memphis, Tenn., in the Southern Tournament.

Theo "High-Average" Finkbeiner, Bob Creighton, Luke Coonrod, Charlie Walker, Art Smith, Gene Roswell, Bob Pace and Walter Cash, who bowled the big 742 series last year, are some of the Major's top stars.

Silverstein's defending champions will find Clover Leaf Dairy as strong as ever with eight other possible winners.

Norma Brown, Ethel Lancaster, Vera Painich, Ella Cash, Erma Peddy, Myrtle Draughn, Peggy Grigsby, Lorraine McNabb, Colleen Dent, Odie Harris, Ella Johnson, B. B. Stron and Jean McMullen are just some of the fine bowlers that make up the Ladies League.

The Pioneer League starts a new season with Monroe Bowling Center back to defend the championship with strong opposition expected from such as Fink's, Henderson's Curb Market, Schlitz Beer and others.

The Industrial Equipment League will reopen with ten teams entered. Southwest Gas defends its 1956-57 throne against Slagle-Johnson Lumber, Falstaff, Bucyrus Erie, Southern Bell, Southern Equipment, Ford, Bacon and Davis, Commercial Solvents, Foremost Dairies and Monroe Concrete.

J. R. Hood, "Son" Wood, and Larry Dage head a field of some 50 bowlers in the Industrial Equipment setup.

The Industrial League and the Mixed League are also primed to start play this week. In all, it looks like a bigger year for Monroe bowling.

MILWAUKEE OPEN

Venturi 5 Strokes Ahead

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 24 (UP)—Young Ken Venturi, who claimed he plans to win and "not for money," held on to his lead today at the three-quarter mark of the $35,000 Miller Open tournament with a five-under-par 65 for a 54-hold total of 199.

The 26-year-old Venturi socked in six birdies, two of them on the last three holes, to wind up with with the best round of the day.

Al Badling, the cigar-smoking pro from Big Winn Inn, Ont., shot a 69 to put him five strokes behind Venturi with a 204 total. Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N.Y., who got a 67 today, was one stroke back of Balding with a 205.

Bunched at 206 were Don Whitet, Alameda, Calif.; Paul Harney, Worchester, Mass.; Sammy Snead and Bob Rosburg.

At 207 were Walker Inman, Pensacola, Fla.; Don Fairchild, Casey, Ill.; and Howie Johnson, Houston. Inman's 31 on the front nine was the best nine-hole score of the day.

Venturi, who has finished in the money 13 of 14 tournaments since turning pro nine months ago, continued to putt brilliantly. He knocked in one 35-footer, a 25-footer and just missed an eagle on the second hole, when his putt rimmed the cup.

Balding, the 33-year-old Canadian pro, had two birdies and played par golf for the remainder, except for a bogey on the 12th.

Snead, the only old pro who could overtake Venturi Sunday, had a 69 today and would have been lower but for his continued putting trouble, particularly short ones.

The Rebels will host Ouachita of Monroe, Columbia, Bastrop, Bernice, and Winnfield in a jamboree at Monroe next Friday night.

4-HOMER BARRAGE

Burdette Quells Brooklyn Uprising As Braves Win

BROOKLYN, Aug. 24 (UP) — Lew Burdette came out of the bullpen with only one day of rest and quelled a seventh-inning uprising as the Milwaukee Braves crushed the Brooklyn Dodgers, 13-7, with a four-homer barrage.

The triumph in the rubber game of the Dodger series preserved the Braves' 6½-game lead over the second-place St. Louis Cardinals. The Dodgers now are 7½ games behind Milwaukee with only 30 games left to play.

Nippy Jones, Hank Aaron and Andy Pafko all hit solo homers in the third inning to knock out starter Johnny Podres and the Dodgers never caught up although they did pull to within one run of tying, 8-7, with a four-run seventh inning. Felix Mantilla's three-run homer of Danny McDevett in the ninth inning supplied the Milwaukee clincher.

Sicily Island Will Aim For 4th District Crown

SICILY ISLAND, La. (Special) —The Sicily Island Tigers will campaign for their fourth straight district Class B football championship with only four returning starters from the 1956 3-B kingpins who reached the state title semi-finals in each of their district title years.

But Coach Raymond Peace still has a well balanced squad that includes 13 lettermen and about equal distribution among the classes in school as the over-all squad shows six seniors, seven juniors, seven sophomores, and six freshmen.

Other players who will see considerable duty in the defensive unit are Allen Cole, a hard-running back; and L. A. Hayes, a fast and agile guard. Service is also expected from Clarendon Peck, sophomore back; Clarence Mason, soph center; Briscoe Price, junior back; Keith Guice, junior end; and Virgil Campbell, junior tackle.

Dean Wiggins, all-district a season ago and a top passer and runner, will captain the Tigers this year. Co-captain will be all-district tackle Charles Enright, a good and heavy blocker.

Coach Peace has worked seven conference games, more than any school usually plays during a regular season, into a ten-game schedule that opens with Class A Lake Providence here September 6. Conference games will be with Crowville, Wisner, Waterproof, Davidson of St. Joseph, Vidalia, Newellton, and Block of Jonesville. Non-conference clashes will be with Mangham's state champions, Class B, and LaSalle of Olla, kingpins of its Class A district.

AT KALLIO'S

Curtis Boys Back Again In 6-Man Tag Team Wrestling

The Curtis boys engage in another 6-man tag-team wrestling match at Kallio's Arena Monday night but oppose a slightly different cast of characters this time around.

Jim Scarbo and the Golden Terror join old-timer Jules LaRance in opposing Jack, Jack Jr., and George Curtis from across the river in Vicksburg, Mississippi in a 90 minute-limit, two-falls-to-win affair.

Victorious over LaRance, Frank Hurley and Charlie Harben last week on the local mat, the Curtis clan will be shooting for their second straight victory.

Three short one-fall bouts involving the tag match principals will go on before the night's main event.

Scarbo and the Terror should be fit partners for LaRance but the Canadian will need all the help he can get to beat the clean-cut lads from the Magnolia state. Last week the scarred old gladiator's sidekicks proved unequal to the task, although they, especially Hurley, tried hard. Fat Charlie Harben had nasty intentions but the slim Curtises ran circles around him.

Jim Scarbo will be wrestling his first bout in Monroe tomorrow night. Not too much is known about Jim. He has wrestled all over however, and just finished a tour through Ohio.

A Detroit grappler, Leo Warlick, was originally scheduled to team with LaRance and the Terror but Jules rejected him in favor of Scarbo. Leo probably wasn't mean enough to suit LaRance.

The Golden Terror appeared at the local arena not too very long ago and should make Scarbo and LaRance a fine partner in crime. He's a big one and as tough as he is large.

As his name would imply, the Terror has never been one to let the rules of good sportsmanship interfere with his natural bent toward mayhem. He's from that popular wrestlers' town, Parts Unknown.

Promoter Gus Kallio announces a reduction in prices for colored section tickets. All seats in that section will sell for $.90 instead of the old price of $1.10. Other prices remain the same.

11 Lettermen Are About All Crowville Can Show

CROWVILLE, La. (Special) A light backfield and an average forward wall form the possible first team of the Crowville High School Bulldogs who will have to rely on lighter inexperienced talent for any reserve strength on the football fields this fall.

Coach Oliver Poole, the ex-Ole Miss athlete, and his aide, Judson Warren from Louisiana Tech, have only eleven lettermen back with a 23 - man squad to point for the season opener against Davidson's Warriors at St.Joseph on September 6 after appearing in the LaSalle jamboree next Thursday.

Lettermen returning are fullback Billy Gene Allen, 155 pounds quarterbacks Bobby Caldwell, 145, and Harold Roberts, 140; halfback J. T. Johnson, 145; center Ronnie Newsom, 145; guards John Allen Brown, 145, Raymon Parker, 155, and Melvin Finley, and Myles McDuffie, 180; and end Frisby Flowers, 160.

The Green and Gold Bulldogs get reserve strength from a dozen other boys who have been listed by Coach Poole as follows:

Center — Jackie Richarson, 150.

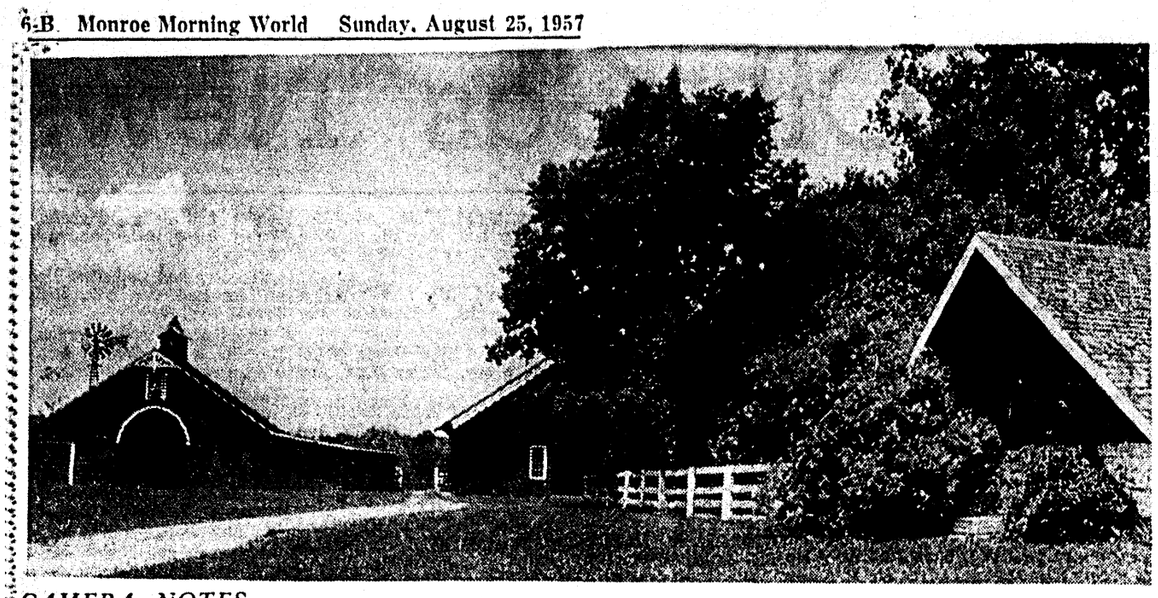
Tackle — Walter Sowell, 150.

Guards — Eugene Robinson, 125, and Buddy Sowell, 100.

Crowville will meet five Class B conference foes — Davidson, Sicily Island, Newellton, Waterproof, Wisner — on a 10 - game schedule that includes a battle with Mangham's defending state Class B champions at Mangham on November 1. First home game will be against the defending district 3-B champions, Sicily Island,



CAMERA NOTES

Camera Editor

This panorama picture, shot with a 2¼ x 2¼ Ikaflex, shows real planning and forethought. Since the scene was too wide to get it all into his reflex viewer, Lee Estes planned ahead and shot one view, then turned just far enough to retain an edge of picture one, and completed the scene in picture two.

Looking at the completed picture it is very difficult to find the joint where the two pictures were joined. However, it is obvious, Mr. Estes planned to make his cut so the fence could be joined and keep the effect of distance or depth in his finished picture. All in all, it is an excellent example of what can be done with a reflex camera to defeat the limitations of a square format which, incidentally, is about the only fault there is to find with them.

Vacation days are almost over except for the big Labor Day week-end and then back to school. Holidays always are picture days to remember, let's shoot them!!

There has been a good response to the idea of forming a camera club. Tentatively, the first meeting date has been set for September 14. Watch this column for where and what time.

Rock'n Roll Heads For Graveyard

By HUGH MULLIGAN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

As it must to all raucous noises that periodically assail the ear drums of the American public, the musical boneyard is finally beckoning to the fantastic fad that's known as rock 'n roll.

A few of its more celebrated cantatas, like the tender "You Ain't Nothing But a Hound Dog" and the triumphant, "Shake, Rattle and Roll," may be heard again from time to time in misty-eyed medleys of old songs, but the bulk of this cannabalistic caterwauling will lie buried forever beside such mementoes of other by - gone eras as the "The Three Little Fishies,' "The Fuehrer's Face" and "Don't Hit your Grandma With a Shovel, Boys, It Makes a Bad Impression on Her Mind."

Early this week the honorary pall bearers, in the person of 18 internationally famous disc jockeys, arrived in New York to attend the final rites, which appropriately enough took place in a musty movie studio hard by Manhatter's Hell's Kitchen.

In the best traditions of the musical industry they quietly disposed of the still warm rock 'n' roll corpse by burying it under a mountain of publicity for its heir apparent, known in the trade as "the new music."

The shotgun wedding of Madison Av to Tin Pan Alley has failed so far to come up with a name for the new music but it

It will get its first big plug in the forthcoming movie "Jamboree," which further accounts for the presence of the disc jockeys at the studio. All appear in the picture to give their official blessing to the new music. Among them are Howard Miller of Chicago, Dick Clark of Philadelphia, Al Jarvis of Hollywood, Zenas "ears of Atlanta, Milt Grant of Washington, Gerry Myers of Ottawa; Keith Sandy of Toronto, and Chris Howland of Cologne and Werner Gotze of Munich, Germany.

The plot never gets complicated enough to interfere with the 18 disc jockeys who parade across the screen to introduce the 20 new songs.

The songs are performed by such recording stars as Count Basie and his orchestra, the Four Coins, Fats Domino, Connie Francis, Joe Williams, Jody Sands, Frankie Avalon and several other reformed rock 'n' rollers.

What will the new music be like?

Chris Howland, a pleasant Englishmar who lives in Cologne and does a German disc jockey show over West Deutchen Rundfunk and an English disc jockey show for the British Forces Network, described it as "a type of song that will give singing back to the singers."

The old fashioned love ballad has replaced the hillbilly yodel that formed the basis of rock 'n' roll and the beat has been slowed down to something resembling a combination of rhumba and tango.

One disc jockey, evidently having trouble adjusting musical gears, acidly compared it to a 78-speed rock 'n' roll record played on a 45 turntable.

Most, however, agreed that the melody would be easier on the ears, the lyrics easier on the intellect, and the emotional effect more dulcifying on teen - aged fadists than the current frantic pops leaders.

Skeptics might say the only thing new about the new music is its name — or lack of one — but its tempered tempo, with or without a perceptible beat, sure beats rock 'n' roll. And it's bound to revive the singing fortunes of balladeers like Eddie Fisher, Vic Damone and others.

Will Elvis survive? What the moving finger of Tin Pan Alley will write, nobody knows.

Common U. S. Bats Are Suspected As Carriers Of Greatly Fatal Rabies

By FRANK WETZEL

SALK LAKE CITY (AP) — Dracula, the imaginary man of the movies who turned into a bat and sucked his victim's blood, was a piker compared to a real bat.

All Dracula did was drink blood. Scientists have made the grim discovery that real bats do more. They transmit the dread disease of rabies.

The first case of a rabid bat in the United States was reported in Florida in June of 1953. Since then rabid bats have been found in 15 other states.

No Cure

Rabies is an actue infection of the central nervous system caused by a virus. Under the proper conditions, the virus produces acute encephalitis or inflammation of the brain. There are no known cases of survival.

The discovery that bats — the common, insect - feeding bats found practically everywhere in the United States — can transmit rabies is significant in itself. But there's more:

Scientists are speculating that bats are true carriers of rabies, in the same way that some mosquitoes carry malaria. In other words, some experts think bats can carry rabies without dying from it: that they are a sort of reservoir of infection.

It true, vast new problems in the control of rabies have arisen. Rabid bats have been found in Florida, Texas New Mexico, Colorado, California, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Montana, Ohio, New York, Michigan, Utah, Georgia, Alabama, Pennsylvania and Minnesota.

Death by rabies is not a pretty thing. As the disease develops, the sight, smell or even the sound of liquids, by suggesting the act of swallowing, may cause throat spasms. (The name hydrophobia, or fear of water, has been used for rabies since ancient times).

The ravages continue: choking, convulsive seizures, periods of intense excitement, paralysis. . .and eventually, death.

Scientists have known for some time that the vampire bat, a bloodsucker found in Mexico, Central and South America, can transmit rabies. But the common bats found in the United States which feed exclusively on insects — the Mexican and Florida freetail, big brown bat, hoary bat and red bat are examples — had escaped suspicion.

Dogs have been the chief source of infection of man, although other animals can carry the disease.

Instruction Needed

Dr. Alton A. Jenkins, director of disease preventive services for the Utah State Department of Health, says people must be taught to leave bats alone.

If a bat does bit you, Dr. Jenkins says, call your doctor immediately. Try to recapture the bat, either dead or alive — but protect yourself while doing so.

Your doctor will advise you on treatment and what should be done with the bat. It is important to remember that without the bat, presence of rabies cannot be proven until it is too late.

The best idea, Dr. Jenkins says, is to avoid bats like the plague—or at least to regard them as being as lethal as a rattlesnake.

An example of what can happen to the unwary occurred one bright summer morning when two young brothers found a bat at the base of a tree near their home in a prosperous, well - settled district of Salt Lake City.

The brothers put the animal in a box and made plans to put him on display. Up to this point the bat had acted sleepy and lethargic. But suddenly it bit the older boy on the hand, inflicting two needle - like punctures. The boy said later the bit stung, but "didn't really hurt."

The bat clung to the finger until the boy's mother dashed from the house and knocked the animal to the ground.

Wise Precaution

Then the mother took action which may have saved her son's life. The fact that bats can transmit rabies was not general knowledge. But something from the back of her mind nagged at her until she called her doctor.

Yes, the doctor said, confirming her fears, it is possible for bats to transmit rabies.

The mother gingerly put the bat in a shoe box and took it to the Utah State Board of Health. There technicians made a slide from tissue taken from the bat's brain. The mother heaved a sigh of relief when told the tests was negative. But other tests had to be made. Bits of tissue from the bat were inoculated in the brains of five mice. A period of anguished waiting began.

Two weeks later four of the mice died.

Treatment of the boy for rabies began immediately. For confirmation of the tests, specimens of both bat and mouse tissue were rushed to the Viral and Richettsial Laboratories, Communicative Disease Center, U. S. Public Heauth Service, Montgomery, Ala.

Two days later Dr. Morris Schaeffer of the center gave his diagnosis in a telephone call to the Utah Board of Health: Rabies.

While rabies is inevitably fatal, the disease can be headed off before it takes hold. The mother's prompt precautions may have saved her son's life.

Churchill Love Story Still Enthralls Britons

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—"Then I married and lived happily ever after."

That confident prophecy, written years ago in the autobiography of a young bridegroom, still is blooming in one of the great and continuing love stories of the 20th century.

The romance of Sir Winston Churchill and his Lady Clementine still enthralls Britons as the couple approach their golden wedding anniversary next year.

But for three of the four Churchill children there have been disappointments, even tragedy, as they strive for the marital happiness achieved by their parents.

Son Randolph, 46, and daughters Diana, 47, and Sarah, 41, have been through the divorce courts. And Sarah's estranged second husband, Anthony Beauchamp, 39, was found dead of an overdose of sleeping tablets this week in his partment.

For Sir Winston and Lady Clementine, it was love at first sight back in 1908.

He was an up-and-coming politician, irrepressible, unpredictable, the grandson of a duke. She was the beautiful daughter of an army colonel, steady, always gracious the granddaughter of an Earl.

They complement each other perfectly. For his brusqueness, she always has the perfect tact.

Once asked whether she thought him handsome when thew first met, she replied with a smile: "I thought he was very interesting."

To the 82-year-old statesman, she has always been the "prop and companion of my life . . . in its stresses long and hard."

Lady Churchill, as strikingly handsome as ever at 71, has let out one secret in keeping her famous husband contented:

"First and most important is to feed him well."

The Churchills, now proud grandparents of nine, are a closely knit family group. Sir Winston has kept his private life — and with it the heartaches that are part of every family—out of politics.

For the Churchill children growing up in the shadow of a famed father was difficult — especially when they were imbued with his individualistic traits.

The Churchills' youngest daughter, Mary, 34, met Guards Capt. Christoperh Soames, now 37 while accompanying her father to Paris shortly after the war. Their engagement was announced 16 days later.

Now she is the mother of two boys and two girls and he is a promising junior government minister.

Vivacious, auburn-haired Sarah a New York television actress. was wed twice. She was living apart from her husband when he died. She spends most of her time in the United States.

MRS. FRANCIS QUAVE YOCOM

Miss Sarah Batton Exchanges Vows With Francis Q. Yocum In Thursday Evening Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Batton, daughter of Mrs. Edward C. Batton, and Francis Quave Yocom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Yocom, of Pascagoula, Miss., was beautifully celebrated Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the First Christian Church with the Reverend R. T. Watson officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Baskets of white gladioli and tapers in floor candelabra formed the setting for the nuptial service. Music for the occasion was provided by Robert Oldenburg, organist and Jennings Wilkins, soloist.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her brother, Edward Collins Batton, Jr., was lovely in a gown of white nylon tulle and Chantilly lace over bridal satin. The gown featured a moulded bodice with high neckline finished with dainty collar of lace with long sleeves coming to points over the wrists. Appliques of lace, with a scalloped inset of lace down the front, set off the full waltz length skirt of tulle. Graduated ruffles of tulle formed the back of the skirt. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a tiara of bridal pearls and sequins and she carried a white orchid with cascades of ribbons and stephanotis.

Mrs. Charles C. Williams, of Sidney, Ohio, was her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids included Mrs. Harold Davis, Miss Betty Spurlock, and Mrs. Donald Wills. Their pale blue dresses of embroidered taffeta were fashioned with fitted bodices, set off by a draped effect at the shoulder of matching organdy, and flowing full skirts. They wore bandeaux of the same material in their hair and carried nosegays of pale pink carnations tied with pastel blue ribbons.

White summer flowers decorated the rooms and the bridges' table held the wedding cake of two large hearts joined together and frosted in pink and white.

Keep Dislike Of Food From Child

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — (UP) — If the children don't take to certain foods, make sure your own attitude isn't involved, says Mrs Rita McGreer, University of Illinois nursery school dietitain.

A chance remark about disliking a certain food or its taste can have a lasting effect on a child, she explained.

A child can sense when parents try to get him to eat foods they dislike. More often than not they just won't, she added.

Parsley, watercress and mint keep well if stored in a tightly-covered container, such as a glass jar.

MRS. FRANCIS QUAVE YOCOM

The wedding of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Batton, daughter of Mrs. Edward C. Batton, and Francis Quave Yocom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Yocom, of Pascagoula, Miss., was beautifully celebrated Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the First Christian Church with the Reverend R. T. Watson officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Baskets of white gladioli and tapers in floor candelabra formed the setting for the nuptial service. Music for the occasion was provided by Robert Oldenburg, organist and Jennings Wilkins, soloist.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her brother, Edward Collins Batton, Jr., was lovely in a gown of white nylon tulle and Chantilly lace over bridal satin. The gown featured a moulded bodice with high neckline finished with dainty collar of lace with long sleeves coming to points over the wrists. Appliques of lace, with a scalloped inset of lace down the front, set off the full waltz length skirt of tulle. Graduated ruffles of tulle formed the back of the skirt. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a tiara of bridal pearls and sequins and she carried a white orchid with cascades of ribbons and stephanotis.

Mrs. Charles C. Williams, of Sidney, Ohio, was her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids included Mrs. Harold Davis, Miss Betty Spurlock, and Mrs. Donald Wills. Their pale blue dresses of embroidered taffeta were fashioned with fitted bodices, set off by a draped effect at the shoulder of matching organdy, and flowing full skirts. They wore bandeaux of the same material in their hair and carried nosegays of pale pink carnations tied with pastel blue ribbons.

White summer flowers decorated the rooms and the bridges' table held the wedding cake of two large hearts joined together and frosted in pink and white.

Keep Dislike Of Food From Child

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — (UP) — If the children don't take to certain foods, make sure your own attitude isn't involved, says Mrs Rita McGreer, University of Illinois nursery school dietitain.

A chance remark about disliking a certain food or its taste can have a lasting effect on a child, she explained.

A child can sense when parents try to get him to eat foods they dislike. More often than not they just won't, she added.

Parsley, watercress and mint keep well if stored in a tightly-covered container, such as a glass jar.

Among the interesting weddings of the summer season was that of Miss Alice Heard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Raymond Heard of Ruston, and John C. Morris, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Morris of Rayville.

The nuptials were solemnized at the far end of the living room at the home of the bride's parents. The improvised altar was outlined with burning white tapers and banked with white summer flowers. Large arrangements of the same blossoms were used about the house. The Reverend Joseph Cathcart, of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, officiated. Mrs. G. W. McGinty, aunt of the bride, played "Romance" by Sibelius as members and close friends of the two families gathered, then the "Marche Pontificale, by Gounod.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Italian silk taffeta, fashioned with a wide oval decollete neckline and brief sleeves, delicately edged with a floral and leaf motif of Peau d'Ange lace. Tiny self-covered buttons fastened the back of the tightly moulded bodice. The bouffant skirt accented by back fullness swept into a chapel train.

Her family veil of Brussel's lace fell over illusion to the hemline of the skirt and her bouquet was a cascade of white stephanotis.

Miss Blanche Heard, an aunt, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a princess gown of Point d'Esprit and carried a bouquet of yellow centered Majestic daisies.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Heard wore a gown of gray blue chiffon softly draped with matching velvet leaves in her hair. Mrs. Morris, the mother of the bridegroom, chose rose-biege lace and chiffon worn with an antique pin at the neck line. They were assisted in receiving by Mrs. J. M. Armstrong and Mrs. Abe Harris, aunts of the bride.

The light from white tapers illumined the bride's table centered with an arrangement of tube roses and white stock. The tiered wedding cake frosted in white, was served by Mrs. C. M. Noble, aunt of the bridegroom. At the opposite end of the table Mrs. Abe Harris, Jr., Mrs. William Brown, of Monroe, and Mrs. J. M. Armstrong, Jr. took turns pouring punch. Miss Mary Eleanor Harris and Master John Mills Armstrong, III, offered little bags of rice from flower bedecked baskets.

For traveling, on their wedding trip to Point Clear, Ala., the bride wore a cotton suit of brown and white with accessories of the same shade. Mr. and Mrs. Morris are now making their home in Rayville, where he is an attorney-at-law.

'UNDER COUNTER'

Bathroom facilities are going "under the counter". Designers today are following the trend toward built - ins by installing lavatories, linen storage and even hampers right under serviceable countertops. Some Advice To Wives Of Executives

PITTSBURGH (UP) — When a business executive gets cozy with a blonde at a cocktail party, his wife should be sympathetic instead of jealous.

"It's not because he's a wolf at heart, but because he is trying to get recognition," explained Dr. Robert J. Agnew, associate professor of industry at the University of Pittsburgh.

The professor included this advice in a discussion of the duties of the wives of executives. This facet is a regular feature of his course in management problems.

"If your husband meets frustration in his work situation, he may come home and proceed to tell you off," Dr. Agnew said.

He advised the wife to realize the husband is not angry with his mate.

The wife should provide a calm atmosphere at home as a relief from the tensions of modern business life that her husband experiences, Dr. Agnew said.

Dr. Agnew said an executive's wife should be everything any other wife should be "plus a little bit more."

Flower Garden Welcomes All

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(UP)—Mrs. F. M. Cooper likes her huge flower garden so much she wants to share it with the world.

At the entrance of the colorful garden is this sign: "Welcome flower lovers, come in any time."

Mrs. Cooper, a first-class flower lover herself, often is up as early as 5:30 a.m. to work in her acre of plants. When she comes home in the late afternoon from a day's work in an office, she dons her garden apparel again.

Her husband, who has arthritis, does much of the work in the soil with her.

Her welcome sign, up for four years, has made hundreds of friends for her among the city's flower lovers. She said she never buys plants. So many people want to add something to the garden that "everything I have in it has been given to me."

"I have enjoyed seeing other people's gardens and now I want to share mine," Mrs. Cooper said.

Trees perennials and annuals grow along the borders. Long beds of roses flanked by iris bloom nearby. Mrs. Cooper says it's easier to say which kind of garden plants she does not have rather than what she has.

A path from the garden by way of a goldfish and lily pool leads the visitor to another sign: "I am glad you came and I hope you have enjoyed your tour.—Frances Crump Cooper."

Freeze Peaches For Wintertime

URBANA, Ill. — (UP) — Homegrown peaches can be enjoyed throughout the winter months if you know how to freeze them correctly, and if you don't, here are some tips from the University of Illinois fool research division.

First off, select full-flavored, firm, ripe peaches for freezing. University of Illinois research worker Frances Van Duyne said that experiments have shown Elberta and Gage Elberta as satisfactory types to freeze.

A sugar syrup is better than a dry sugar pack for peaches. Sugar syrups varying in concentration from 40 to 60 per cent can be used depending on the sweetness desired.

To make a 40 per cent syrup, dissolve one cup of sugar in 1¼ cups of water. For a 60 per cent mixture, use one cup of sugar in ½ cup of water. Stir or heat the syrup to dissolve the sugar, and be sure it is cold before the peaches are added.

To help keep the peaches from browning, ascorbic acid in either tablet or crystal form, can be used, dropping in three 50-milligram tablets for 1 cup of syrup of ¼ teaspoon of crystals for 4 cups of syrup.

Next time you're making fudge, try this cooling method. Pour it into buttered ice cube trays. The candy hardens quickly and every piece is uniform in size.

The very full skirt was made of rows of lace. At the waist was a sash of pink satin ending in a large bow with streamers at the back. She wore lace mitts and veil of illusion attached to a tiara of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible with a shower bouquet of white and pink carnations tied with pink ribbons.

Miss Sara Lynn King was the maid of honor and Miss Martha Faye Huffman and Linda Fife, the bridesmaids. Their dresses were of pink taffeta made with fitted bodices and bouffant skirts. The sashes were of pink satin and they carried fanshaped bouquets of pink carnations and ribbons.

A reception followed immediately in the social hall of the church. Mrs. Glascock was wearing a dress of pink cotton lace with a shoulder corsage of white carnations for her daughter's wedding. The cake table was covered with a pastel brocaded cloth centered with the bride's and maid's bouquets. Tall pink tapers burned in crystal holders at either side.

After a short wedding trip the young couple will make their home in Natchitoches. The bride traveled in a dress of blue polished cotton with white hat and white shoes and bag.

Miss Nelda Lou Pilgreen And Malcolm Wayne Miley Are Wed Saturday In Church Ceremony

The Parkview Baptist Church in Shreveport was the setting for the wedding of Miss Nelda Lou Pilgreen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew T. Pilgreen and Malcom Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Huland Miley, of Denham Springs. Dr. Pilgreen, pastor of the church, heard the vows taken by his daughter and her bridegroom, before an altar decorated with large arrangements of white flowers, emerald palms and white tapers burning in floor candelabra. H. C. Alford played a program of nuptial music and accompanied Dorman Clayton, soloist, who sang, "O, Lord Most Holy," by Frank; and the Sanctuary choir, who sang "The King of Love My Sheperd Is," by Shelley, "O Perfect Love" and "Our Father Who Art in Heaven."

The bride, escorted by her brother-in-law, Galen Edward Treadgold, of Dallas, Tex., wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over taffeta. The fitted bodice was fashioned with scooped neckline and brief sleeves. Inserts of lace, forming part of the skirt, were joined to a deep flounce of hand pleated tulle worn over a bouffant skirt of taffeta which swept into a Cathedral train. Her veil of illusion fell from a crown of lace and bridal pearls. She carried a white Bible, on which was a spray of fleurs d'amour centered with a white orchid and showered with streamers of satin and net.

Matron of honor to her sister was Mrs. Robert R. Wilson, and bridesmaids were Miss Janice Rich, Miss Helen Richey, of Mansfield and Miss Elizabeth Wilson. Their waltz length gowns were of aqua irridescent taffeta made along princess lines with bodices of matching chiffon. They wore picture hats of the same shade of horse hair braid trimmed in velvet ribbons, and carried cascading bouquets of Frenched Venus carnations.

Reception

Dr. and Mrs. Pilgreen were hosts at a reception following the ceremony. Mrs. Pilgreen, wearing a gown of mauve colored lace with a small hat of the same shade and a corsage of cymbidium orchids, received her guests, assisted by Mrs. Miley, mother of the bridegroom, in rose lace with an orchid corsage.

The bride's table held an arrangement of white stock and carnations from which garlands of fern interspersed with tiny white florets extended along the table to the branched candelabra burning tall white tapers. Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. Galen Edward Treadgold, sister of the bride, Mrs. N. C. Alusup, Jr., Mrs. W G. Wilson, Mrs. Dorman Clayton, Mrs. Donald Hammons, the Misses Vida Rae Smith, Paula Halbert, Dolores Brown, Louise Manhein, Cindy Hodge, Jean Woodward and Mrs. James Carter.

Autumn In France Has Special Allure

Autumn in France will, like summer, welcome more American tourists than any other corresponding period in travel history. The days and nights will be brisker, the general atmosphere more sophisticated, and the highways and byways untrammeled by summer vacationists bent on bike and motor scooter trips through Europe. Also hotel accommodations will be easier to secure, though it is always wise to have reservations in advance, especially in Paris. Events such as the Motor and Cycle Show Oct. 3-13, are popular and bring a lot of visitors to town.

As the leaves turn color, artists return to the left bank, students to the Sorbonne. Theatre tickets at such horses as the Chatelet will go for a minimum 29 cents, maximum about $3.00. The famed Folies Bergere, presenting Ah! Quelle Folie, will have top prices of about $5.00 for super de luxe arm chairs up front. The Lido, the most exciting night club in the world, may be enjoyed for $7.75 including half a bottle of champagne per person. The Moulin Rouge, of Toulouse-Lautrec remembrance, will charge its standard entrance fee of $1.14 which entitles one to an evening of top vaudeville acts and dancing; spectators have been known to last all evening with one glass of beer, unmudged by the management.

In addition to the usual variety of things to do and see, there are activities all over France that can only be enjoyed in the fall of the year.

MRS. JOE HINTON STROUD

Miss Janis Mizell Is Wed To Joe Hinton Stroud In Church Ceremony At Crossett

The First Methodist Church of Crossett was the setting at 8:00 p.m. Wednesday, August 21st, for the wedding of Miss Janis Mizell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mizell, and Joe Hinton Stroud, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stroud of McGehee, Ark.

The Rev. D. Mouzon Mann of McGehee officiated before an altar decorated with white mums and lighted white candles. Organist was Miss Grace Calhoun, and Mrs. Wade Tull was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of chantilly lace and tulle. The fitted lace bodice was fashioned with a deep portrait neckline edged in scallops of the lace. Soft folds of tulle were inserted across the bust line. Her three-quarter length lace mitts formed petal points over the hands. Appliqued motifs were scattered around the full tulle skirt, which swept into a chapel train in back. Her veil of finger-tip illusion was attached to a seed pearl coronet. She carried a white cluster bouquet centered with a white orchid.

She was attended by Miss Margaret Bird of Century, Fla., as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Don Parish, and Miss Judy Callaway of Little Rock. They were dressed alike in waltz length dresses of lavender crystalline over taffeta, with matching shoes. They carried white nosegays. Flower girls, Jerri Ann and Penny Stroud, of Little Rock, nieces of the groom, were dressed in white organdy and carried white baskets of flowers.

The groom was attended by his father as best man. Ushers were Robert Mizell, brother of the bride. Bill Stroud and George Stroud, brothers of the groom and Bill Teeter.

A reception in the church parlor followed the wedding ceremony. The bride's bouquet was used as a centerpiece for the table.

For travel the bride wore a beige linen sheath dress with matching jacket and accessories. A white orchid from her bouquet was pinned to her shoulder. Following a trip to the gulf coast the couple will be at home in New Orleans, La., where the groom will attend Tulane Graduate School.

Out of town guests for the Mizell-Stroud wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Boyd, of McGehee; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Landers, Jr., of Rohwer; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Stroud, of Little Rock; Mr. and Mrs. Jay C. Callaway of Little Rock; Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Bryant of Little Rock, and Mr. and Mrs. John Jasper, of Greenville, Miss.

MR. AND MRS. GERALD La NEAL GRAY

Couple Pledge Troth In Home Ceremony

Miss Shirley Jo Glass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Glass of Swartz, became the bride of Airman 1st Class Gerald LaNeal Gray of Barksdale Air Base. Mr. Gray is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eley of West Monroe.

Rev. Filer J. Seals performed the double ring ceremony Saturday, August 17, at 4 o'clock in the home of the groom's aunt before an altar of candles and white asters.

Charles Eley served his nephew as best man. Romand Lawrence carried the rings atop a large white aster.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Glass chose a brown lace frock with beige accessories. Her corsage was of pink asters. Mrs. Eley was dressed in blue taffeta with pink accessories, her corsage being identical to Mrs. Glass. Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception.

Assisting with the courtesies were Miss Ann Glass, Miss Betty Glass and Miss Betty Hoover.

Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Gray left for a short wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beasley of Hammond were out of town guest.

Dad's Shirts Go To College

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

SMART COEDS have discovered a new way to ease the college budget. They're using Dad's old shirts for gay nightshirts.

Local sewing center experts say it's easy. Cut the colar off the shirt, making a scoop nickline. Cut off sleeves above the placket and below the elbow. Then stitch on the trimming of your choice.

For a dainty, frilly nighty, get five yards of nylon val lace beading, two and ⅝ yards of matching lace edging and six yards of rayon satin baby ribbon to thread through the lace beading. Then sew lace beading down center front, around neckline, sleeves, and armhole, and on pocket edge. Thread the ribbon through the beading, leaving enough for bows at neck and sleeves. Stitch lace edging around shirtail, and there you are with a glamorous nightshirt at little cost. Dainty lace trims can be bought for as little as ten cents a yard, so the cost of your frilly nightshirt sould be not much over a dollar.

Many variations are possible. You can use rows of rickrack or colored bias binding for trimming. Try dressing up one of Dad's old shirts with alternate rows of pink and red bias binding down front closing, around sleeves down the middle of the back and around the shirttail. You can leave the collar on, if it's not too worn. The result is a gay dormitory nighty.

Use your imagination in various trimmings and color combinations. A little lace, rickrack or bias binding can transform an old shirt into a dormitory conversation piece.

Calgary Plaid Mates

PLAIDS ARE once again top fashion news for fall—their crisp jaunty look so well in tune with the season. Add the importance of color—deep glowing reds or vibrant greens—plus the magic of matchables in plaid and plain and you've solved a multitude of wardrobe needs for daytime, datetime or playtime. (right) Match a new brief jacket, lightly blousedabove a snug-fitting band, to a pencil-pleated skirt for a suit you will literally live in. Or (left) team this season's ever-so-slightly-shortened version of the belted jacket with a slim skirt style in solid color for that country-gentry look.

MOSQUITO BITE ADVICE

CHICAGO (UP) — Mrs. Mary Dooley, 76, of Chicago, has tried a multitude of drug store remedies for mosquito bites, but she says she yet hasn't found one to top hers. Her advise is to sprinkle a slice of raw potato with salt. Rub this gently on a mosquito bite, and results Mrs. Dooley says, will be comforting.

To separate a head of lettuce into cups, cut out the core with the point of a knife, then hold the head under cold water, running water until the leaves are forced apart.

Fido Needs Extra Care In Dog Days

DOGS have their problems in summer, being shunted from kennel to neighbor's backyard whenever master and mistress decide to go on an outing or vacation. Many canine ailments get their start in hot weather because of neglect or ignorance on the part of the person who is entrusted with the animal.

Take a tip from one dog centc.. If there is one single rule that will keep a dog healthy it is this: keep him clean. That's true all year round, but more important in summer when a dog gets outside more and picks up parasites, and especially when he is cared for by others.

A dog should be bathed regularly every few weeks. A dog's skin is more sensitive than it looks and irriatating detergents may dry out his skin. Use one of the special canine cake soaps or a shampoo that will leave his coat soft and glossy. There is shampoo. too, that is good in hard water areas because it leaves no ring around the tub. Big dogs will enjoy new easy-groom products that come in aerosol pressure cans. These waterless cleaners not only clean the coat but get down to the skin to chase fleas and other parasites.

Fleas are a problem besides being a nuisance. When the dog scratches at fleas he may open wounds that can become infected. Get a flea powder that contains a anti-scratch ingredient to check itching fungus, a condition acquired through contact with weeds, grass and shrubbery.

Make sure the dog has a shady spot accessible to him. Many dogs like to dig holes to make a rest spot in the cool earth. He'll probably appreciate a simple platform sunshade in hot weather. This should be large enough to permit him to stretch out on top when he wants to sun himself and to dig in below when he wants to cool off.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Welcome Garden Club Holds Delightful Show At Center

By Mary M. Jardine

The Welcome Garden Club of the Twin Cities staged the delightful show at the Garden Center this week. Garden flowers, wild flowers and foliage were featured in the four arrangements which were quite diverse in character.

Mrs. Luther Branch's line-mass arrangement was awarded top honors. A complementary color harmony of yellow and violet blended perfectly with the tall compote of natural tan. Spikes of liatris (Blazing star) in violet formed the background pattern. Next were placements of golden trivet. Bright yellow marigolds ranging in size from small to, large were massed in the foreground. Dark violet wandering jew was placed around the rim of the container effectively completing the color harmony.

A simple line design by Mrs. Milton Ford took second place. Mrs. Ford selected an unusual brass coffee pot of slender graceful lines for her arrangement. A vertical line arrangement was designed with three roses, a bud at the top, half open bud a little lower and a full blown rose as the center of interest. Philodendron vine gracefully draped over the rim of the container softened the severe lines. This was an excellent choice of material for this container.

Mrs. Henson Coon's long lasting foliage arrangement created much comment. The aspidistra used in the background was handled in an interesting and unusual way. The leaves were gently rolled and pinned in a manner that made the tips appear at right angle to the main portion of the leaf. These formed the background for the triangular design. Dark glossy Buford holly with the lighter green berries was used in the foreground. Looped aspidistra leaves were placed low in the green bowl unifying the plant material with the container. This lovely arrangement will last for weeks if fresh water is added often.

Mrs. Milton Ford also designed a lovely arrangement suitable for a buffet. A modern black compote was selected for this design. Clipped pine branches were arranged in a triangular pattern with bunches of artificial grapes spilling gracefully over the rim of the container. Dark purple grapes on one side with red - purple on the other and green grapes in the center. Staged against a rosy pink background this was most appealing. No water needed for this arrangement. The clipped pine will last a long time and could be easily replaced.

We want to welcome the new garden clubs that are being organized in the Fifth District. They a?: Bernice Garden Club, Garden of Eden Club, Bastrop, new club in Lakeshore area, Monroe, sponsored by Lakeshore Garden Club and the new Eason Place club, Monroe. We hope all members and prospective members of these clubs will visit the Garden Center often.

There is already a hint of fall in the air and before we know it school will have started and all the garden club activities will begin again.

Opening the fall season in the Monroe area is the presentation by Monroe Garden Club of H. Stuart Ortloff in a lecture entitled Color And Design for Every Garden. The date is Monday, September 9, at Northeast College Ampitheater. Time 2 p.m. This meeting is open to all interested persons. Incidentally we have two copies of Mr. Ortloff's book "Color and Design for Every Garden" in the Garden Center library. It is on the reading list for Flower Show Schools.

Flower Show School II will be held in Monroe on September 25, 26 and 27. Mrs. M. B. Latham of Raymond, Miss., and Mr. C. G. Hobgood of Louisiana Tech will be the instructors. Be sure to mark these important dates on your calendar.

What Do Children of Louisiana Eat?

What are the children of Louisiana eating? Is it a satisfactory diet? Will it give them the essential food they need for body building? Does it lack food elements? Does the diet of our children contain enough protective foods? These are a few of the questions asked by nutritionists at Louisiana State University and therefore prompted the making of a survey recently made. The state was divided into four areas depending on type of land and crops grown, the number of children selected from each agricultural area was in proportion to the elementary school population of that area as compared to the entire state.

One thousand, two hundred twenty - two boys and girls between the ages of 8 to 12 were used in the study. Two hundred thirty one were from this area — North Louisiana lowland — cotton delta. After having secured consent of each parent, a record of what and how much food each child ate and drank daily was kept for one week. Each child's record was checked by the standard measurement of diet pattern commonly known as the "Basic Seven" which is: one serving daily of a leafy green or yellow vegetable; 1 serving daily of a citrus fruit and tomatoes; two servings daily of potatoes, other fruits and vegetables; two servings daily of milk — ice cream included; one serving daily of meat, poultry, fish or a meat substitute— legumes, nuts, cheese: five eggs per week; two servings of cereal or products of whole or enriched grain; two servings of butter or margarine. Here are some facts brought out regarding food habits of boys and girls of northeast Louisiana area: 46 per cent ate required amounts of green leafy and yellow vegetables; 4 per cent ate none; 33 per cent ate sufficient citrus fruits and tomatoes; 78 per cent ate required amount of other vegetables and fruits; 20 per cent ate a potato daily; 65 per cent drank enough milk; 87 per cent had a daily serving of meat, fish or poultry; 32 per cent had eaten five eggs during the week; 94 per cent had eaten cereal grains products and only 12 per cent ate required amount of butter or margarine.

Some poor food habits brought out by survey were: eating many desserts, candies, carborated beverages and other sweets. Such foods supply calories in the diet but very little of the other nutrients children need. Children need some high caloric foods, since an adequate intake of calories is essential to growth. When too many sweets are eaten, other foods usually are excluded from the diet.

The majority of children eat many of these sweet foods between meals. Some ate only a fruit, others ate nearly a full meal at irregular times of the day Foods eaten between meals included ice cream, fruits, sandwiches, cookies, cakes and pies. Hard candy and ice cream were eaten frequently. Soft drinks wre not reported as often as might be expected. Milk was taken rarely between meals.

FASHIONETTES

By UNITED PRESS

Brown will be as important a basic color for fall and winter as black, and more important than gray. Brown showed throughout collections displayed recently by the couture group of the New York Dress Institute.

The new clothes are without a "period" influence, other than that of the 1930's. The "free" silhouette has supplanted the moulded empire sheath and the soft "fair lady" draping. Designer Mollie Parnis called the new trend one of "back to nature," because the clothes usually follow the natural figure.

The full coat is back for fall. Some designers call it the great-coat, others term it the circular. It is reminiscent of what the fashion industry once called the pyramid.

New in shoe shapes: the cornucopia toe. One New York store (Saks Fifth Avenue) included this Turkish-inspired shape in its fall collection. The toe rounds out over the sole and has a slight upward turn at the tip.

'DOWN WITH WALLS'

"Down with walls" is the cry of the present housewife. Walls are being eliminated wherever it is possible to create a single open-area of living space, dining area and kitchen. Families like the feeling of "wide - open spaces" in a home. Serving counters are used to separate living and dining areas yet perform the same function for both.

Fresh pineapple should be cooked and cooled before it is added to gelatin.

THE SOUTHERN GARDENER

Magic Time Of Year For Spring, Early Perennials

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

This is the magic time of the year to propagate spring and early perennials. Pieces of veronica salvias of different kinds (but not scarlet sage because it is not winter hardy) spring phloxes, old fashioned lavender and rosemary, sage and nearly all the perennial flowering herbs — in fact just about everything that flowered in the perennial border before a month ago will root easily now.

The best "wood," as the propagator would say, to use is the healthy part of a perennial below where the plant has flowered. Plants do not usually root well until after they have finished flowering. This part of the stem that has flowered seems willing to take root. Make your cuttings by cutting with a very sharp knife or a razor blade slantwise across most stems and right through a leaf node. Leave at least two or three leaves on the cutting. If you can keep moisture in the air high more leaves can be left to the cutting, and they will make larger plants more quickly.

Mist

Of course, the new mist propagator is a miracle worker. It will not be long before everybody will have a small one They do almost live up to the claim of rooting a wooden leg! They can go wrong, however, and they do need attention. You cannot go off on your vacation and return to find everything rooted and blooming by any means. The intervals between the mist and the no-mist are important. Another thing is the difficulty one sometimes experiences of having rooted cuttings die when they are taken from the mist propagation bed.

You can root most cuttings in a mixture of two thirds sharp sand and one third peat moss which has been soaked thoroughly overnight. One half to two thirds shade is necessary for cuttings. This is a matter which you will have to work out for yourself, however, as no two people agree on this. Cuttings need more shade for the first week.

A lot of plants will root easily from cuttings taken with what is called a "heel" of the parent stem. In this case, you pull pieces off the basal stems or roots of the plants and leave the little pieces that come with them. On some kinds, you will bring away some of the roots right with the heel, and the cuttings will grow off immediately after they have picked themselves up and started roots again.

Your oriental poppies will have to be handled in a different way. If they have not started new leaves already, you can dig a few clumps and cut a few of the longish roots off near where they are joined together. A strange thing may happen right in your hand while you are holding these freshly cut roots: the roots will unwind into spiral pieces clean to the end. Plant the long spiral pieces right away without letting them dry out and they will soon sprout into whole new plants.

A great many gardens would profit by a division of many old perennial clumps in August. Do not be afraid to dig them up and separate them. Be sure to put in good soil and fertilizer before you reset them, however, as many plants starve and do not flower well just for the lack of food.

House Plants

Dr. Hanchey brought out a number of points about growing indoor plants successfully. He says we don't pot many of our outdoor plants and that a number of these are satisfactory. You'd never guess one plant he suggested, a live oak tree. Of course you'd buy the smallest plant possible and pot it. The speaker said this will make a handsome plant. Of course after three or four years the roots will get pot bound.

Other points brought out by Dr. Hanchey are: (1) Plants do not dry out in plastic pots like they do in the clay ones. Also, we don't water house plants well. We pour the water on very quickly, it runs down the side and the plants die because the roots do not get enough moisture. (2) Spray with malathion for mealy bug. Take the plant outside to spray. (3) Keep the leaves clean. (4) Use a cyprus knee in pots for support for vines or you can make a cylinder of hardware cloth and fill with peat moss. (5) When potting plants use at least one half organic matter.

Dried Materials

Well, I learned several new tricks about drying and preparing plants for winter use or any time. First, when drying zinnias, goldenrod and other flowers that you want to keep their color, use two parts borox to ten parts white cornmeal. The cornmeal is not so heavy as borox and doesn't absorb as much moisture. The method is the same. Strip the leaves. Cut the stems short. Be sure the blossom is dry. Carefully place the flower in the box of cornmeal and borox. Sprinkle this on the blossom until it is completely covered.

Some of you have complained that treating foliage with glycerine is too expensive. In south Louisiana the women are using synthetic glycerine (Propylene Gircol) which is much cheaper. However, I have not been able to locate this product in our drug stores. If you find any, please call me. Also, call us, FA 3-2251, for our leaflet on "Drying and Preserving Plant Material." This gives the four methods of preserving, a suggested list of materials and methods, gives full instructions for skeletonzing magnolia leaves and tells how to make a potpourri jar.

All - America Camellia

"Buddha" is the name of this year's All - America camellia. It is still not generally familiar. We're disappointed that it has been selected as the outstanding camellia of the year for all America, yet, so far it only thrives in California climate. The color of Buddha is phlox pink, emphasized with contrasting veins of Tyrian rose. It gradually increases in size, and becomes more arched inward and curved as the blooms develop, thus giving the Buddha flowers amazing size and depth. At maturity the blossoms average from 4¾ to 6½ inches in diameter and from 2 1-3 to 3 inches in depth. It flowers freely on the tip of each branch.

Under favorable conditions the upright plant will develop into a small tree. It blooms in February blooms abundantly and the foliage is large glossy, and very dark green. Those who have seen Buddha in bloom say it is a striking sight. Though we can't grow this out here, except in a greenhouse, I knew you'd want to hear about the latest camellia.

Food in the News

This week continues to see higher prices for red meat than we paid a year ago. The price - conscious shopper will choose forequarter beef cuts that are just as good nutrition - wise as hindquarter cuts. Baby beef is a good value, price - wise. For best flavor, select cuts that have fat marbled through the lean similar to mature beef. Hams and picnics are showing less price increases than other pork cuts. Bacon prices are now at their highest since 1954. Best buys in the meat division are turkeys, broilers and fryers.

Prices for seafood are moderate. Whether fresh or frozen, this item is abundant at this time of year.

Fresh fruits and vegetables are in wide variety. Outstanding vegetables include potatoes, yellow onions, peppers, squash, cabbage, tomatoes, celery, eggplant and cauliflower. This is expected to be a good apple year and Bartlett pears are abundant. Local pears are available as well as watermelons and cantaloups.

It is forecast that a new record will be set in milk production this year. Much of this milk goes into butter so let's use some of this fat to make a "new" old fashioned pound cake.

Powdered Sugar Pound Cake

3 sticks butter.
1 box powdered sugar.
6 whole eggs.
2 teaspoons vanilla.

Cream butter well. Add sugar, small amounts at a time and cream after each adding. Add eggs, one at a time and beat each egg 1 minute. (Use electric mixer for creaming and beating). Add flour and continue beating. Add vanilla and mix.

Bake in a spout loaf cake pan that has been greased well and has three layers of brown paper cut to fit the bottom. All three papers should be greased.

Bake at 325 degrees for 60 to 75 minutes. Let cook on a rack for 5 minutes. Take the cake from the pan and wrap in cloth while warm. Let cool. No!! I did not forget the baking powder.

There are so many ways to use pound cake. Toast slices for breakfast, lunch or dinner. Use it for the cake for fresh peach short cake or strawberry short cake using frozen berries. Make a cream puff filling sauce to pour over slices of this pound cake. Yes, just take your choice with versatile pound cake.

The bidding:

South, pass; West, pass.

Opening lead: Ten of spades.

If South, declarer in today's hand had followed the elementary routine of counting up to nine, he would have brought home his three no trump contract with the greatest of ease. But he yielded to an impulse (common to many players of lesser experience) to take a finesse.

From time to time it is well to point out that the purpose of the finesses is not to capture an adverse honor but actually to gain a trick. Where no trick is gained by the finesse, the chances are it is a futile gesture. In the case show here, declarer went to pains to take a finesse which stood very little chance of gaining a trick.

South had the classic requirements for an opening bid of two no trump; four suits protected and a point count of 22. North with five points, raised to three, having one point more than was needed for such a response.

West opened the ten of spades, and declarer observed that he had a tenace in hearts. So, intent upon capturing the queen of that suit, he put up the queen of spades from dummy in order to lead a heart. The jack went to West's queen, and West, recongnizing that the spade suit had no future, shifted to a club.

South won this in his own hand with the ace and returned the ten of hearts. West took the trick with the ace and continued with another club, and this succeeded in driving out dummy's king. This blocked declarer out of cashing dummy's nine of hearts, and declarer was left with only eight tricks.

A simple count by declarer at the outset will show that he has nine tricks within easy reach. By yielding to the ace and queen of hearts, he can assure himself two heart tricks if he retains both the queen of spades and the king of clubs for entry to dummy. The heart tricks , together with his seven quick tricks, spell game.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: We have three children and want to raise them as Christians. We are living in a neighborhood where most of the neighbors are not Christians and where they raise their children without any thought of God or the church. Should we move? J. F. K.

ANSWER: There are many factors about which I am ignorant and I can only advise you in general terms. You owe it to your children to bring them up to know and love God. At the same time, you may have an opportunity be a witness to your neighbors. First of all, you must try to make your home all that a Christian home should be, one where the neighbor's children will sense a genuine difference. Also, by friendliness coupled with prayer for guidance, you may be able to invite in neighbors and show your interest in them. Invite them to go to church with you. Ask some of them to let you take their children to Sunday school with yours. It may be that God has placed you in these circumstances to bear a witness for Him. Do not run away because the situation is hard! Ask God to guide you and give you the strength and wisdom you need. You may be used to change your entire neighborhood.

Navy Band Goes Native; It Beats Out Caribbean Rhythm On Old Oil Drums

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — What may be the first "All American" steel band will make its North American debut at Chicago before the year is out.

That is the word from the 10th naval district here, where a group of United States sailors have mastered the peculiar art of making music from steel oil drums.

It all started when somebody found out that by putting dents of different sizes in the top of a 55-gallon drum, you could get several different notes out of one drum. By trial and error, Trinidadians found that by using the whole drum a deep bass was achieved; that by cutting it in various lengths the range of the notes could be changed.

Progress was continuous — and today the "ping pong drum" — which carries the melody — has a range of 24 notes. The range of a complete set of drums covers four octaves.

Last February, Rear Adm. Daniel V. Gallery, commandant of the 10th naval district here, visited Trinidad at carnival time. He was so taken by the music of the steel drums he ordered a set. When the drums were ready, he ordered the navy's band here to go to Trinidad for a week and learn to play them.

MUSICAL CHIEF—Chief Petty Officer Charles A. Roeper and the "ping pong drum" which carries the tune for the Navy's oil drum band.

Even though many thought a week would not be enough, the boys did well. Upon their return, they began appearing at navy benefits and charity affairs outside the base. They have been a howling success.

Now they are about ready to go to the States, probably to Chicago, but the date has not been fixed.

The band plays all kinds of music, from the West Indian calypso to slow "boleros" and foxtrots. Even "From the Halls of Montezuma" has been played by the band to a calypso - like rhythm.

Leader of the band is Chief Musician Charles A. Roeper of Butler, Pa. He plays the "ping pong drum" which carries the tune. He sees "a great possibility that steel bands will increase not only in Puerto Rico, but also on the mainland."

"Lots of people will be sold on the idea," he says. "It's fun to play the steel drums. The music is popular and the instruments are inexpensive and easy to make. It's a natural for high school bands."

Laos Issues Four Special Rice Stamps

Four beautifully designed multicolored stamps have been issued by the Kingdom of Laos (formerly a territory of IndoChina). The stamps publicize the main industry and chief crop of the little land —rice.

Members of the Niagara Frontier Federation of Stamp Clubs (Canada and New York) decided to "issue" their own stamp in connection with their eighth annual exhibition opening Oct. 5 in Rochester, N. Y. So they combined the George Eastman and Susan B. Anthony commemoratives, reduced them to ¾ size, and printed them in a souvenir sheet. They will be offered for sale at the exhibition.

Belgium has issued a new stamp to commemorate the centenary of the birth of Lord Baden-Powell and the 50th anniversary of the Boy Scout movement.

Nearby Liechtenstein also has issued new stamps honoring the same twin anniversaries. The 10 rappen voilet pictures a pine tree. The 20 rappen carmine shows wild roses. The 1 franc green depicts birch trees. The 10 rappen blue illustrates a torch-light parade. The 20 rappen sepia has a portrait of Lord Baden-Powell.

Stamp Notes . . . Canada plans to issue a special commemorative set honoring the forthcoming visit of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip. The stamps are scheduled for October . . . France's latest tourism commemorative honors Le-Quesnoy in northern France. The famed fortress was originally built in 1150 and has withstood many sieges down thru the ages. . . The first in the series of "Famous Men of Berlin History" was issued by Western Germany. It honors Friderich Karl von Savigny, a Prussian statesman and scholar.

CEYLONESE BEAUTY

By ROBERT LIU

It's a matter of common knowledge to American movie fans that Miss Hingert (stage name Jana Davi) managed to convert those assets into the title of Miss Ceylon of 1955 and third place that same year in the Miss Universe contest.

Her large eyes and striking face seem very soft as she says that American men are surprisingly indirect.

"I like a man who's straightforward," she adds.

A cigarette and a glass of punch sharing her slim hands, Maureen crossed her long legs and sketched a picture of the two years that have elapsed since she came to Hollywood.

Played

She has played opposite such leading actors as Jeff Chandler, Van Johnson, Jack Lemon and Mark Stevens. But she still isn't sure she's on the right road.

"I'm allowing my latest movie opposite Mark Stevens decide that for me. If the response is good, I'll remain. If not, I hate to think about it."

Maureen was born in Columbo, Ceylon, on Jan. 9, 1937. Her father is of Dutch ancestry and besides heading the Ceylonese bank has extensive tea holdings.

When Five

When Maureen was five she entered the Holy Family Convent in Columbo and remained there until she was 18.

A chic 5-foot-6 and 11½ pounds, Maureen has dark brown hair and big brown eyes. She measures an attractive 36-21-36.

In Ceylon she was a good student in languages, world history and nursing, but it was her study of interpretive dancing that helped her movie career most.

After teaching dancing for a while, Maureen won a role doing a solo dance in the movie "Elephant Walk." That was the start.

She has given two packed-house performances on classical Indian dances in Los Angeles.

The past two years ther also have been television appearances in such shows as "Hiram Holiday" and "Captain Grief."

Only last year she was selected an envoy to publicize the Miss Universe contest and toured Europe and parts of the Middle East.

Language is no barrier for her as a tourist. She speaks English, French, Spanish, Hindustani and Tamil.

Maureen says she hasn't thought much about marriage but says she doesn't care too much for Hollywood men: they're too affected.

AT PARAMOUNT

Jayne Mansfield Stars In Hilarious Comedy

When blonde Jayne Mansfield rocketed to stardom in the role of the Hollywood movie queen in the Broadway production of "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" it was inevitable that she should star in the film version.

Executive Producer Buddy Adler of Twentieth Century-Fox went to some lengths to be sure she would. He bought the rights to the George Axelrod play, produced on the stage by Jule Styne, then signed Miss Mansfield to a long-term contract, and assigned Frank Tashlin, one of Hollywood's top creators of comedy, to the three-ply chore of producer - director-writer.

The finished CinemaScope, De Luxe color production of "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" opens today at the Paramount Theatre, with a cast which, in addition to Miss Mansfield, features Tony Randall, Betsy Drake and Joan Blondell.

The film version, however, will differ from the play. In fact all Tashlin retained from the original was Jayne Mansfield and the character of the Hollywood blonde. Otherwise he started from scratch. This was no reflection on playlin felt this whimsical theme was simply that each comedy writer sees things from his own point of view and in "spreading out" a stage play to fit the fluid medium of the screen, he can do things with the plot.

For one thing, the Broadway version had as its basic character Satan in disguise, a sort of Mephistopheles in modern dress. Tashlin felt this whimsical theme was great for Broadway but might run a little thin with the millions he will reach on the CinemaScope screen.

For another, Rock Hunter was not a character in the play. He was merely a character in a story within the play. Tashlin wanted the title role of the movie to be played by Tony Randall, whom he considers the freshest comedy discovery since Jerry Lewis. Randall had previously scored in the movie version of "Oh, Men! Oh, Women" and made him a copywriter in an advertising agency, and also created a whole series of new characters.

So he created a Rock Hunter

Betsy Drake, who returns to films after a five-year absence, is Randall's secretary and girl friend who finds herself pitted against Miss Mansfield for Randall's affections. Joan Blondell is seen as Jayne's pal and confidente. John Williams is the agency head who would rather raise prize roses. Henry Jones is an advertising executive who needs Jayne for a lipstick endorsement. Lili Gentle is Randall's teenage niece and movie fan and Mickey Hargitay is a Tarza-type actor who invades New York. Lions To Hold Bulb Sale In Mid September

The North Monroe Lions Club has set the period of September 16 through 20 for its big annual light bulb sale, the event which provides the funds with which the organization carries on its numerous civic and charitable projects.

James F. Benton, who is bulb sale chairman, said that the 58 members of the club are being assigned to 11 teams each of which will canvass specified areas of the city each evening from 6:30 until 8 o'clock.

Offered will be a package of assorted size bulbs which will sell for $2 per bag. This is the regular retail store price.

The club has been selling about $3,500 worth of bulbs each year, making a few cents profit on each sale. This year's goal is $4,000. Sale of these light bulbs is the only money - raising campaign that the club conducts.

During the past year, it has purchased a large number of glasses for needy children, and toys for crippled youngsters. It also has supplied equipment for the Little Tot Playground in the Lexington community, and made contributions to the Cerebral Palsy and the Cameron disaster funds.

The teams selling the largest number of bulbs during the five-day sale will receive prizes.

ARMED WITH THE WORD—John Crews, hero in the Battle of the Bulge, prefers to speak of Biblical bravery rather than his own. He blushed when his Sunday School class recently discovered he had won the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Modest War Hero Says Bible Contains The Best Heroes

By RAY SHAW

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — John Crews killed 40 Germans and captured 15 more to win the Congressional Medal of Honor 12 years ago.

For 12 years he had tried to hide his past from his neighbors and fellow church members. He tried to keep out of the public's eye. Even after he won the medal and returned home from World War II, he received little publicity.

That was the way he wanted it.

Crews has been trying to live down his bravery. He is quick to say he's not ashamed of it. "But it's something in the past—something that doesn't do anybody any good when you bring it up."

His class of boys at Exchange Avenue Baptist Church got the same reply other people will who ask him to tell his "war" stories.

Three Decorations

Printed citations of his bravery tell the story. He has three dated within 48 hours in April, 1945. One was for the Medal of Honor, the others for the Bronze and Silver Stars. All were given for action in the Battle of the Bulge.

The Medal of Honor was given for knocking out two machinegun nests, killing 40 of the enemy and capturing 15 others.

The Silver Star was for taking charge of his platoon after its leader was wounded. Under Crews' command, the platoon held back the enemy for six hours.

Crews won the Bronze Star for refusing to be evacuated. Although he was wounded, he kept firing at the advancing enemy.

Along with the medals, he came home with leg wounds that kept him hospitalized for two months.

You talk war, and he changes the subject to other things—mainly church and God. He is one of his church's most enthusiastic ministers, explains his pastor, Rev. Claybron Deering.

"I don't know any 'hero' stories, at least about myself," Crews said. "I tell my boys what's in the Good Book . . . what they ought to know."

He continued: "I never talk about myself. I feel that no one owes me anything. I do believe I owe society something, and I try to live a good life."

Crews is a foreman in the refinery division of a meat packing plant here. He also teaches an adult group at the church and attends night classes at Oklahoma City University.

He's been going to college at night for six years and expects to get his bachelor's degree next year.

Would he repeat his bravery? "I don't know. I believe anyone would have done the same under the circumstances."

Dead Sea Scrolls Now On Display

JERUSALEM (AP) — What the Magna Carta is for Englishmen and the Declaration of Independence for Americans, the 2,000 year old "Seven Scrolls" seems to have become for the children of Israel.

History-conscious Israelis see one more moral title to their reborn home in the seven parchment scrolls found 10 years ago in a cave near the Qumran ruins on the shores of the Dead Sea. The documents, oldest copies extant of Bible fragments and apocryphal Hebrew literature, are now being exhibited for the first time publicly in an underground vault of Hebrew University.

Day in, day out, old and young queue up in the basement of the Hebrew University's new Senate building. Full of awe they enter its tiny treasure chamber where the priceless scrolls are now on show together with the earthen jars in which they were stored.

In the vault, a temporary depository for the scrolls until a special "Shrine of the Book" has been built on another site of the campus, the parchments are in glass vitrines. The subterranean room itself is protected by specially thick walls, an iron door, a permanent armed guard and insurance of one million dollars.

Though only part of the Hebrew scrolls could be deciphered — some are easily readable but for others the help of infra-red rays is needed — their contents are regarded by almost all scholars as of momentous importance. The number of scientists now working on their theological, historic or linguistic interpretation here in Jerusalem and at many other universities in the world may well exceed a hundred.

Prof. Benjamin Mazar, President of Hebrew University, hailed the scrolls as "the greatest discovery of our age offering miraculous evidence of a great spiritual movement and enabling us to hear the echo of Jewish life in Israel 2,000 years ago." A recent university publication describes them as another material testimony of "Jews who lived and worked in the Land of Israel two millenia ago, loved and studied the Scriptures, cherished the dream of a perfect society based on a cooperative mode of living, used the Hebrew language to express the whole span of human experience, from lyrical sorrow to political and military concepts."

The scrolls were written in ink —some obviously in very bad ink. Damp and vermin also have had an adverse effect on them, so that many pages cannot be restored at all which, it is feared, may also go for many of the scrolls and fragments found during the last few years in 10 other caves in the Qumran area — finds which are now in the Rockefeller Museum in the Jordan administered section of Jerusalem

New Line Looms As Biggest LSU Problem

Coach Paul Dietzel is missing 13 lettermen from the Tigers of 1956, most of them linemen. To fill the gaps he has approximately 40 sophomores from last year's frosh group that was undefeated and showed the cream of Louisiana's high school gridirons.

There's little doubt in Dietzel's, or most other observers, mind where L. S. U.'s weakness could be. The young coach says, "Our biggest problem is rebuilding our line. We lost practically our whole first string forward wall and two-thirds of the second team line. We've got to get some of these youngsters we have ready for Southeastern Conference football before our first game."

The exact figures on that first team line are: six starters lost, one returning. Those losses include that man - mountain of a tackle, Earl Legett, now with the Chicago Bears.

The situation in the backfield shows more promise with only one starter, halfback Joe May, gone and a host of swift chargers up from the freshman ranks.

The Tigers' biggest rebuilding job should be at center. Not letterman one returns to the pivot, although senior Don Swope saw limited action there last year. Doug Skinner, the 206 - pounder from Minden, did well there during spring drills and will probably be the starter. Duane Leopard, another soph, is close.

The situation at end shows promise. Billy Hendrix, a Rayville lad, was a regular on the left side last season and returns. He'll be backed up by three sophomores. Ruston's Bill Smith, a starter in '55 as a sophomore, will probably be the starter this time around with soph Don Norwood and junior letterman Bobby Lott around to help.

Two lettermen return at the tackle posts with one of them, Al Aucoin, slated to start. Ray Spence lettered as a soph last season at the other post but Lynn LeBlac, a sophomore out of Crowley, will give him a battle and may start. Jack Frayer, a first year man from Toledo, Ohio, is expected to back up Aucoin.

Larry Kahlden, a junior letterman, will probably be the regular at left guard while veteran Ed Cassidy looks like the best on the right side. Letterman Jerry Schwalb and soph Emile Fournet, Sid's brother, will back up Kahlden and Tommy Lott, another first year man should work behind Cassidy.

Quarter looks like the best manned position in the Tiger backfield with Win Turner and M. C. Reynolds back and being pushed by sensational soph Warren Rabb, the ex-Baton Rouge High ace. Turner is rated the top man now but Rabb could be running things before the end of the season.

The old Bastrop blitz, J. W. Brodnax, has right half well in hand with another Baton Rouger, Johnny Robinson backing him up along with the veteran Jerry Johnston. Sophomore speedster Billy Cannon is expected to do great things at left half. He has size — 195 pounds — to go with his speed. Ronnie Johnson, Bastrop, returns at this post and Mississippian Don Purvis and Don Kozan, both sophomores, give Dietzel four good boys in May's old spot.

Max Fugler, the ex-All Stater from Ferriday, is going to make Taylor hustle for his fullback post along with Winnsboro's Steve Thompson and Bob DeCrosta. All, with the exception of Fugler, are one year lettermen.

Tallulah's Trojans Have 14 Lettermen In Harness

TALLULAH, La. (Special)—The Tallulah High School Trojans, who came so close to upsetting the Ferriday Bulldogs in the district 2-A championship battle last year has 14 lettermen reporting back to head Coach R. A. "Racer" Holstead this year but will miss the likes of Bobby Neumann, all-state guard, and a pair of all - district performers in M. L. Melton, end, and Wayne Hopkins, halfback.

Most seasoned of returning gridders are fullback Danny Neumann, a 180 - pounder, and tackle Dick Brown who weighs a even 200. Both will be seeking their fourth Trojan football letters this fall.

Two others will be after their second letters. They are quarterback Simeon Wall, 160, and guard John Burns, 170.

Other lettermen back are quarterback Gerald Collins; halfbacks Lloyd Jackson, Joe Yerger, and Sammy Collins; ends John Laird and H. M. Dartlone; tackles Jerry McDonald and Jim Griswold; guard Billy Foster; and center Perry Beard.

Fourteen gridders were members of the squad a season ago and are gunning for their first monograms. They are quarterback Tommy Neumann; halfbacks James Kirk Leonard Wall and Max Smith; fullback Carl Williamson; ends Wesley Pippen, Tim Morgan, Bruce Faught, and Jerry Fairbanks; tackles Walter Scott and Joe Farlow; guard Sterling Guyton; and centers Billy Ray Wilson and Charles Newell.

Reporting to Coach Holstead and his aides, Martin Verhagen, and Billy Laird, for the first time are quarterback Truman Collins; Lee Cummings; tackles Danny Barnette and Phillip Scurria; halfbacks Johnny Bryam and Gerald Tongre; fullback Leonard Neumann; ends Ed Filand and guards Bill Grant, Allan Laird, and Charlie Herman; and centers Pat Gilfoil and Percy Beard.

After their jamboree appearance at Lake Providence Friday night, the Trojans open against their traditional non - conference interstate foe, the powerful Carr Central Greenies of Vicksburg at the Mississippi hill city on September 6.

District conference games will be played against Oak Grove, Rayville, Winnsboro, Lake Providence, Newellton, Neville of Monroe, and and Ferriday. The eleven - game schedule also includes non-conference battles with Delhi, Jena, Canton, Miss.

54 WITHOUT LOSS

Ferriday Risks Unbeaten Record With 8 Vets Gone

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — Gunning for a fifth consecutive Louisiana state high school football championship and extension of the unprecedented state streak of 54 games without a defeat, the Ferriday High School Bulldogs will open defense of their state Class A championship this year knowing that all opponents of whatever class will be keyed for the chance to halt the Bulldog march.

The Block High Bears of Jonesville get the first shot of the season at the Bulldogs on September 6. Following in order will be Delhi, Jena, Catholic of Natchez, West Monroe, Oak Grove, Lake Providence, Rayville, Liberty, Miss., Winnsboro, and Tallulah.

Jena and Tallulah almost chilled the Bulldogs last year when they held the Ferriday club to 13-13 ties in regularly scheduled games thus keeping the Concordia Canines from being able to make their pre - season publicity read "undefeated" in 54 staight. The Tallulah tie caused a playoff for the district title with Ferriday pulling the game out of the fire in the waning minutes.

Coach Johnny "Red" Robertson has lost eleven players, including eight starters, from his 1956 team, and has fears that the Bulldogs may be toopled from their high perch — at least that's the impression he's seeking to create.

Coach Robertson is even predicting Tallulah will be the No. 1 club in the district and he picks the Rayville Hornets as No. 2. He lists his Bulldogs third followed in order ir the district race by Winnsboro, Lake Providence, and Oak Grove.

The eight starters missing this year are guard Aaron Langston, quarterback Jimmy Marks, fullback Tommy Brasher (moved to El Dorado, Ark.), center George Moffett, halfback Donnie Dare (all-state in 1956), guard Frank Brocato (all-state 1956), guard James Jacques, and end Warren Enterkin.

But don't get the idea the Bulldogs will be any pushover. Outstanding players this year are expected to be tackle James Poole (all-state 1956), fullback Tony Brocato (all-state 1956 at end), guard Bobby Osboren, and halfbacks "Butch" Bateman and Ronnie Magoun.

Five Regulars Returning To Lineup At Delhi High

DELHI, La. (Special) — With some of the biggest names in Delhi football the past few years gone this season and only five regulars in a squad of 35 lettermen returning for action the Bears of Coach Raymond Richards are expected to have a mighty tough time trying to win back the district 2-B football championship that moved over to Mangham last November.

Losses of Travis Richards, Jim Hopson, and "Buster" Harrel in the backfield, both regular ends George Brown and Donald Tweedl, tackle James Hosea, guard Larry Harrington, and center Hugh Willey leaves gaps that are going to be hard to fill. On top of this, five more players from last season who had been depended on this year have quit football, and such fine line prospects as Douglas Bonner and David James have moved from Delhi.

In addition there are lettermen Nicky Smith, 170, junior halfback; Billy Ray Newton, 130, senior halfback; Clyde Hosea, 175, senior fullback; Rec Bufkin, 160, senior tackle; Mitchell Antley, 135, senior end; A. E. Ross, 175, junior tackle; Charles DeLoach, 155, senior guard; James Yates, 155, junior end; Edgar Smith, 145, senior end; Jimmy Rundell, 156, senior center.

Other talent being counted on by Coach Richards this season includes backs Jessie Newcomer, Charles Simmons, Leo Coleman, Joe Kyle, Ken Newton, Charles Jenkins, Timmy Hutchinson, James Ellis, and Charles Wilson; end Francis Copes, Gene Thompson, and Kent Fuller; tackles Robert Sheppard and Clayton Hooper; guards Charles Hixon, A. C. Smith and Phillip Humphries (also a center); and centers John Boyd, Thomas Hosea, and Humphries.

DESPITE GRADUATION

Neville's Football Fortunes Aren't As Bad As Opposing Coaches Hoped

As Coach Bill Ruple puts it, "a heap" of his big, bad Tigers of last year's Neville powerhouse are gone, a fact that saddens Ruple but overjoys the rest of the grid coaches in this district.

After watching Neville win the state AA crown in 1955 and bound through an undefeated regular season last year, they're ready to grab some grid glory for their own teams this season. They're figuring that with 15 lettermen gone, Ruple's raiders will be ready to share a few of the bows this time around.

Friends, don't bet on it.

True, a lot of fine Neville gridders have departed the halls of ivy, among them such greats as two-time All-State Elton Upshaw and that fine tackle, Bob Johnson, another All-State star. Terry Reeves, Mickey Yerger, Joel Kirby, Jim Altick, Henry Thomas, Cliff Lafrance, Sonny Odom, Raymond Nelson, Bill Allen, Steve Nichols, Freddy Brunson, Hugh Hyman and Bob McGough are missing also and Ruple is definitely faced with a rebuilding job.

But there's some good (or bad, depending on your viewpoint) news too. Fourteen lettermen are back along with a host of tabbies who've sharpened a few claws since last year. Ruple can put a letter earner at every position except one of the ends.

That empty end slot is what's worrying Ruple. "Our biggest problem is at end," he says. "We are awful weak there. We didn't find the right man for the spot during spring training but we're hoping one will develop before the season starts."

We'll return to the end situation later, but first let's take a quick look at the overall picture. Neville was fortunate enough to be able to use the two-platoon system last season. This year Ruple feels he doesn't have the manpower to do it. However, Neville may have two-platoons by the end of the season if the boys develope.

The Tigers could be hurting on the defense. Practically all of the defensive team graduated and Ruple and his assistants, Jim Coats, Gus Patterson and Charley Brown have been hunting some sure tacklers at their football camp at Mooringsport.

For Upshaw's spot at quarterback, William Ragan, the kid who many thought was just as good as Elton last year, is available. Ragan spent most of last season at half but he'll be a quarter this year.

Rusty Campbell and Charles Storey, 150 and 135 pounds respectively, will be ready at fullback. Ruple can call on Bill Depriest (170), Gene Howard (155), and Marvin Smart (170) and Jerry Kirby (140) at the halves.

Jim Sparks, 170 and second team all-district, is the lone returning letterman at the terminals. Big Dan Keith, another second team all-district, is reportedly recovered from his operation this summer and can throw his 195 pounds around at tackle along with an even-bigger lad, 215-pound Ross Nolan. Tommy Edwards (185) and John Jordan (180) gave experience at guard while Donald Dale (179) and Travis Oliver (180) returns at center.

ALL NEW FACES

Jena, Tops In 3-A Last Year, Have Rebuilding Job

JENA, La. (Special) — The Jena High School Giants, with a completely new coaching staff and many gaps left in a lineup that was hard hit by graduations and transfers, are working hard to build a club to successfully defend the district 3-AA championship.

Billy Jarrell, former head coach at Philadelphia (Miss.) high school, who has replaced Zac Henderson as head coach at Jena, had a very successful tenure at Philadelphia following a one-year stint at Delhi (La.) High School. He played his college ball at Mississippi Southern in Hattiesburg as quarterback of the famous team which upset the University of Alabama and shellacked Louisiana Tech, 54-0.

Assisting Coach Jarrell will be James Berry, star of the Northeast State Indians of Monroe, who will serve as line coach, replacing Bill Harris who resigned in midyear last school session. Coach Harris reportedly has signed a pro football contract with the Chicago Cardinals.

With a rebuilding year facing the new coaching staff, the stepped-up schedule on tap for the Giants this year doesn't leave much room for optimism.

Jena's schedule for 1957 is "loaded from the word go" and Principal Dargan Brooks said that "on top of an unusually stiff schedule, we are slated to meet Bolton High School's annual Cosmos Club Jamboree in Alexandria on Saturday night, Aug. 31."

Traditionally tough Jonesboro-Hodge (2-AA) will be the first opponent for the Giants, coming to Jena for the lid-blaster Friday night, Sept. 6.

Jumping out of that "crucial" game, the Giants then must get geared up for their arch-rival foe from LaSalle High School of Olla (1-A) in the traditional parish championship contest on Sept. 13. The defending 1-A champions will come to Jena for the contest.

While the new coaches have been geeting acquainted with the boys and concentrating on work to develop the Giants, Principal Brooks has been serving as spokesman for the school's team:

"We have a rough and tough 10-game schedule and the jamboree contest scheduled for 1957. We have a new coaching staff. We were hit hard by graduation. Our number one quarterback, Tommy Thompson, transferred to Terrebonne High School last spring when his family moved to Houma. We're minus most of our line and a good portion of our backfield." These were the pertinent facts brought out by Principal Brooks in his off-hand comments concerning the 1957 campaign.

"We won't win all our games—but we won't lose all of them, either. And we'll be out there playing a full four-quarter ball game," he said.

Injury Claims Richardson Off Eagles' Squad

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP)—Jesse Richardson, 270-pound veteran tackle of the Philadelphia Eagles in the National Football League, will be lost for the 1957 season as a result of an injury suffered a week ago in an exhibition game with the Baltimore Colts, the club announced today.

The big tackle was hurt in a freak accident. In the close line play for the conversion following an Eagles' touchdown, one of Richardson's teammates fell backward on Jess' knee. This is the first serious football injury for the former Alabama University star.

NO ALUMNI WORRIES

Grid Outlook Is Normal For Southside Pelicans

Fred Lindsey and his Southside High staff are facing their normal outlook this fall, the mere thought of which would put drive an ordinary high school coach daffy.

Lindsey has not a single squad member back from the team that had a highly creditable 6-5 record last year. However, he did have 72 boys turning out for football. Some of them even had a little experience — four had seen a football game. The remainder had never even seen a game, much less played in one.

Before their first game Sept. 5 against Mississippi Training Institute, Lindsey and his assistants, Charles Denham, Jack Herron and Bob Fischer, have to make football players out of these green kids and prune the 72 that started out down to around 40.

Despite his mammouth task, Lindsey says he is neither pessimistic nor optimistic. "We have lots of weight but not much speed. I expect this bunch to shape up into an ordinary ball club."

Jimmy Aucoin, Dennis Babin, Thomas Barber, James Bateman, Phillip Bergeron, Joe Bourgue, Charles Brewster, John Cassagne, Walter Cassagne, Walter Corrado, Ambrose Daley, Percy Foster, Melvin Free, Jack Henson, Gary Himel, Wayne Landry, Don McMahan, Lonzo Medcalf and Paul Merritt.

Opens With New Tutor

NEWELLTON, La. (Special) — The Newellton High School Bears, among the toughest challengers of the district champion Sicily Island Tigers for the 3-B title the past fe.. years, expect to be among the upper division of the district again this season.

The Bruins will make their race with a new coach—Eugene Southern, former Winnsboro High School and Louisiana College athlete — who has already taken over the duties of the departed Johnny Johnson who retired from the coaching field to accept a business affiliation at El Dorado, Ark.

Coach Southern, who starred on the gridiron last fall for the Louisiana College Wildcats, arrived here a little over a week ago and already has had a week's work with hi charges as he makes ready for his first campaign as a coach. He will be assisted by "Slim" McConathy.

The loss of guards John Wood and Russell Hedrick, center "Buddy" Netterville, and fullback Sam Duchesne, all "big wheels" in the Bruin machine last year, will be sorely missed this fall.

The Bears make their first kickoff in the jamboree at Lake Providence next Friday night, and will open the regular season against the high school for which Coach Southern performed — the Winnsboro Wildcats here on September 6.

Five drivers hold all 37 stock car records at Darlington Raceway. Curtis Turner has 18 Fireball Roberts 15, Buck Baker 2, Marvin Panch and Tim Flock one each. Fastest is Baker's 120.037 for one lap.

Only 15 race drivers have finished among the first ten in a Southern 500 more than once. Herb Thomas leads with five money spots. Three time finishers are Fireball Roberts, Fonty Flock, Buck Baker, Curtis Turner, Jim Paschal and Speedy Thompson.

Dragons Depend On Eleven Veterans In Title Defense

MANGHAM, La. (Special) — Gone are such outstanding grid greats as Robert Martin, "Bud" Chapman and Billy Clingan from the first state championship football team ever produced at Mangham High School, but Coach Armed Mathews has eleven lettermen back from his 1956 titled team, plus 19 other young athletes most squadmen a year ago, to take the Dragons another Class B contender.

The generators in the Mangham machiner this year are expected to be tackle Edgar Johns, center Edward Thomason, and halfback Roger Boughton. Johns was one of the mainstays of the team last year and is expected to be even greater this season even if he should be moved to a backfield job as had been predicted a few months ago.

Johns and Boughton will serve the club as co-captains.

Thomason, a one-letter player, is already looming as the outstanding line prospect for the new campaign. At 190 pounds, just five pounds under the weight of Johns. Thomason promises to become one of the district's best pivotmen.

The Dragons are particularly blessed at the tackles with lettermen Johns, Wilfred Burgess, and William Garsee back, and also with three two-year lettermen in the backfield — Boughton, James Hendrix, and Billy Laird.

Otherwise the experience is lean with one-year lettermen Scott Harrell and Willie Froust at ends, and also single-letter talent in Wayne Owens at guard and Thomason at center to round out the list of monogrammed talent.

Squadmen back to make a fight for team positions are backs Silvester Johns, Thomas Hendrix, Noble Ellington, Dennis Evans, Donald Adams and Ellis Brown; ends Earl Oliveaux, and O. J. Oliveaux; tackle John Boughton; guards J. C. Clingfrost and Jerry Smith; and centers David Thomason and Herman Grant.

First-year talent challenging for jobs include halfback Billy Lowery; ends Tim Fife and James Templeton; tackle Johnny Porder; and guards Truman Rushing, Jimmy Ponder and Delmas May.

Thirteen makes of automobiles have finished among the first ten during seven Southern 500s. Oldsmobile leads with 17 places, then comes Hudson 12, Chevrolet 10, Ford 8, Plymouth 6, Dodge 4, Cadillac and Mercury 3 each, Buick and Chrysler two each and single spots by Nash, Lincoln and Pontiac.

NEW DRIVER, NEW HOPE

West Monroe Rebs Point For New Era On Gridiron

Cecil Pirkey, a man accustomed to winning, may be in for a change of pace this season as he tries to put the West Monroe Rebels into the winner's circle.

The big coach, who guided Dekalb, Tex., to a 10-1 record last year, has his work cut out for him with a squad that won only one game last year and said goodbye to 17 lettermen. On the bright side, there's the return of 13 letter winners, over half of them starters at one time or another last year.

CECIL PIRKEY

Currently putting his boys through their paces at their football camp near Hammond, Pirkey is not bubbling with high hopes but is guardedly optimistic. "These kids have shown a lot of spirit and hustle and I think we'll have a pretty good ball club. However, we probably won't win many games with the competition we face."

The Rebels had only a three-week spring training period and were hampered by wet weather. The boys showed up fairly well in the inter-squad game and should field a potent offense with four backfield regulars returning, headed by second team all-district halfback Robert Perkins.

In addition to Perkins, quarterback Johnny Huntsman and Joe Ford and Mickey Bass will be back in the backfield along with John Moses. Pirkey has three lettermen at end in Harry Barfoot, James Farmer and Don Hudson. Alon Skipper is the lone letter earner returning at tackle but Joe Watts, the squad's biggest man at around 240 pounds, looks like a comer.

Prospective guards are Albert Fields, Bobby Ingram, Stuart Hill, Harvey Chapman and Francis Odom. Mike Lynch, Bud Byrd, Gary Smith and Billy Webber will back up Rawls at center.

HOPE TO BE BETTER

Aid From Unknowns Could Turn Ouachita Into Winner

"We hope to be better. It all depends on team morale, spirit and desire. That's our only salvation."

That was Coach Bob Ellen talking about his Ouachita Lions. After 2-8 season last year and the loss of nine of his 18 lettermen, he could hardly be expected to be bubbling with optimism. Even if he was optimistic, however, he, like most wise grid coaches, would not be telling anybody about it.

If Ellen was a mind to look at the cheerful side of things, he would think about the nine lettermen that didn't graduate and will be back. A good man to start off with would be Eddie McGowan; the 140-pound speedster who landed in the all-district backfield last December.

The other returnees include Tommy Crowe, the hustling catcher on "Red" Sims' great American Legion baseball team, who plays a mean center in the fall. Jerry Harrell (160) returns to the line along with David Kirtley (150), Billy Roach (165) and the biggest returnee in the line, Harold Moore, a [illegible]-pounder.

Three other lettermen rejoin McGowan in the backfield, Rex Carter (155), Carkett Hulon (160) and John Housley (145). That leaves the backfield in somewhat better shape than the line, experience-wise.

Those losses we were talking about earlier are certainly going to be missed. Dickie Crowe the brilliant all-district field general who really made Ellen's split-T offense go, will perhaps be the most sorely missed. Besides Crowe, three other backs departed in company with a pair of ends, a couple of tackles and a guard.

Wayne Van and Dale Spence were the terminals who've gone and Kenneth Wheeler, the all-district ace, and Van Anderson were the tackles. Donald Debman leaves a hole at guard and Dan Bragg and Dubba McKay are gone from halfback and Billy Joe Thompson from full.

To fill those holes Ellen and his assistants, Jack Gray, Tom Wilson and J. R. Akins have about 50 potential squadmen to work with. If they can come up with something good from this bunch, Ouachita could make it tough on somebody. It goes without saying that a 9-man football team is not going to do too well. Ouachita is going to need at least 13 more good boys to go along with the returning lettermen.

Veteran Backs, Bruising Linemen For Grambling

GRAMBLING, La. (Special) — Grambling College Tigers, led by an array of veteran backs and bruising linemen together with some of the best high school talent in the country, will gear themselves for a rough nine game slate when they report August 30 for physical examinations prior to beginning September 2 for the season opener September 21.

In order to roll, the Tigers must find replacements for the eight lettermen who graduated in May. Among these were All - American Alving Richardson and Leon Larce, also, Dorth Blade, Joe Sells, Foster Wheeler and Gehrig Harris. Alvin Richardson, and Gehrig Harris will be fighting for positions in the National Professional Football League with the Philadelphia Eagles and the Chicago Bears, respectively.

The Tigers will face two new opponents on their 1957 schedule when they engage the co-champions for the Southwest Conference, Texas Southern University, and the champions of the South Central Conference, Mississippi Vocational College.

With only 19 days to practice before the opening game, the Tigers will have their work cut out for them if they are to cope with the ever dangerous Paul Quinn College, September 21, at Waco, Tex., and be ready to take on the strong Alcorn College team of Alcorn, Miss., the following week. The gate-keepers at Tiger Stadium will expect every football-loving fan to file through the turnstiles October 12, to watch the Tigers in the 'do or die' struggle against the Tennessee A. & I., University National Champions of 1956. The Tigers will then journey to Shreveport, the following week to co-champions of the Southwest take on the Wiley Wildcats; 1956 Conference. The Grambling eleven will need lady luck with them to be able to show up the next five consecutive week-ends against Prarie View, Jackson, Bethune Cookman, Texas Southern and Mississippi Vocational.

Bethune Cookman College from Daytona Beach, Fla., will furnish the fireworks for the Alumni Homecoming November 9th at 2 p.m. Elaborate plans are being made for the "grads" who will return to see the Tigers in action.

The Tigers schedule:

Surprise Will Be Gone This Season From Northeast's Football Arsenal

By BOB ANDERSON

Surprise — a very dangerous tomahawk — will be missing from the Northeast Indians' arsenal this year.

Long one of the weaker tribes doing business in the Gulf States Conference, the Indians massacred several unsuspecting football teams last season, climaxing their best season since Northeast became a senior college by knocking Louisiana Tech out of the conference championship with a 7-0 win.

This year nobody is going to be caught unawares. The other five Gulf States schools, along with the four other teams on the Northeast schedule, have wary eyes cocked on Devone Payne's war party and have no intention of letting the Indians sneak up on them again.

Their caution is wise. Only seven Indians are missing from the crew that won seven games and lost three last season and earned Payne "coach of the year" honors in the conference. Seventeen lettermen are back along with a healthy crop of junior college transfers and a nice crew of young and eager freshmen.

The attack that scored 220 points second best in the Gulf States, will be missing its big gun, all conference Aubrey Wade, along with 4-year letterman halfback Tommy Leos. Billy Laird, the end who caught the pass that beat Tech, is also gone as is another 4-year letter earner, guard Jimmy Berry.

Nick Lassiter, the fine tackle, has graduated and so has "Chick" Childress, called by his coach "the best center in the conference last year." Childress' slot at center is going to be the toughest one to fill for Payne since Jim Wharton, the only other letterman pivot, will have to sit this one out with a bad knee that hasn't responded to treatment.

To plug the hole at center, Payne has Glen Moten, a 195-pounder from Holly Ridge who was on the squad last year but didn't letter and a J. C. transfer and a freshman. The transfer is Buck Anderson, ex - Jones (Miss.) Junior College pivot. He weighs 190 and played his high school ball at Petal, Miss. The biggest boy in the crew is the freshman, Billy McGraw, a 205 - pounder who made the earth rock with his tackles at Winnsboro last year.

Despite the loss of Wade and Leos, the Northeast backfield should still be a potent bunch. Alternate captain, Zeke Zametto returns at quarter along with Everette Reynolds and Taylorsville's Ray Meritt. Zametto and Reynolds are lettermen.

The Haynesville flash, Tony Hartsell, returns at righthalf and is backed up ably by letterman Benny Franklin, the ex - Ouachita boy. Robert McGough 170 and a junior, is back at full and so is Mack Powell, the ex-Neville ace, now a senior.

George Luffey's end corps are well manned on the first team with regulars Joe Driskell and Robert Earle. Driskell should be about the best terminal in the conference with a year as second team all-league behind him. Joe's a junior from Arcadia. Earle, 205 to Driskell's 190, had a banner year as a freshman last year. He's from Lake Providence.

There is only one '56 letterman behind these two but Luffey is depending on Bobby Hartley, Delhi, an L. S. U. transfer who got out of the service around the first of the year, and Jim Knox, a boy who lettered here before going into the service. Claxton Mayo, 190, lettered as a frosh in '56 and will see plenty of action.

Captain Harvey Ferguson has one tackle spot well covered. He checks in at 190 and is a junior from Dermott, Ark. To fill Lassiter's position, new line coach Bob DeMoss has lettermen Jim Britt, a 220 - lb. sophomore from Delhi, and Jim Brent, Greenville, Miss., a junior who weighs 210.

A couple of transfers, Roy Cagle from Texarkana JC., and Tony Roper, Jones, will get a long look-see at the tackle posts also.

Guard is well populated with lettermen. There're four of them, headed by senior regulars Gerald Elkins, 205, and Lloyd Williams, 190. Tony Pecon, 200, and Ray Funderburk 15 pounds heavier, add depth. Both lettered and are highly regarded.

In addition to the men already named there's a flock of gridders around who didn't earn a letter last year and some highly regarded frosh. A pair of sophomores, Jerry Head, Newellton, and West Monroe's Tommy Frant are working for a spot at end.

Kent Caston, Lake Providence, and Luthur French, Tallulah, were on the squad as freshman last year and could be comers. Caston's a big boy, 240, while French packs 205 pounds. New trainer and track coach Lou Hartzog has promised Payne he'll bring him a growing or two.

New York City's Alfred Fenny, a 190 - pound soph, and John McClendon, 185, another second year man from Lake Providence, are around to back up the four lettermen at guard.

Keith Amos, Ravville boy who ran for Sunflower JC, packs 170 pounds at righthalf and this spot is further strengthened by a pair of sensational freshmen, Neville's Terry Reeves '45 and Newellton's Sam Duchaene, '85.

Church Gordy, 170 - pound Winnsboro soph, and LaSalle freshman Julian Keene, 185, could see a lot of action at fullback.

Several other freshmen will work out with the Indians and Payne may uncover another star

Ruston's Forward Wall Holding Key To Success

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Facing rugged opposition from schoolboy football's "big four" of Neville Springhill, Minden, and Haynesville this season, Ruston High School's line, so unpredictable last year, could be the difference in a winner for the Bearcats come September.

Several promising returnees fror last season's crew bolster the squad. Heading the list in 180-pounder Lane Feazel, Ruston's top lineman a year ago, and "Moose" Phillips, the line coach reports he's looking good as a guard this season.

Coaches are—also pleased with the work of a little guard, Bobby Bryant, and a big tackle, Spencer Green.

From tackle to tackle, the line is expected to be some better than a year ago. The proving comes in two early games, the season opener at Minden, defending state double-A champions, and Springhill here on September 13.

In addition to halfback Garrett, other players lost from last season's squad are ends "Bud" Alexander and Wayne Tinsley; tackles John Mecom and Joe Smelley, back Dickie McGee, and guard William Hanks.

The Ruston roster will also show:

Tackles — Billy Kirby, Robert Payton, Charles Morris, Rex Price, Felton Hood, Harold Naff, and Billy Hamner.

Centers — Eddie Hood and Sammy Riser.

Backs — Kenneth Anderson, Pat Shows, Wallace Martin, Bill Wilson, Paul Henson, Tommy Smith, Ardis Stuckey, Hollis Grafton, Sammy Simonton, and Larry Clinton.

3 Players Cut Off By 49ers

Moraga, Calif., Aug. 24 (UP) —The San Francisco Forty Niners training camp squad was reduced by three players today with two men put on waivers and one turning in his voluntary resignation.

Placed on waivers were Willie Beamon, a tackle from Jackson (Miss.) State, and Dewey Brundage, an end from Brigham Young. Jerry Drew, a California halfback, withdrew voluntarily.

13-MAN SQUAD

Winnsboro Lacks Talent Depth; 8 Lettermen Back

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — The Winnsboro Wildcats appeared in dire circumstances when only 13 candidates reported for initial workouts for the high school football team here, but Coach Philip Poole and assistant Glyn Ebarb are hopeful a few more report for duty before too long.

Winnsboro's Class A Wildcats, one of the strongest teams in the northeast section of the state in 1955 (they lost by only one point to the double - A state championship club of Neville of Monroe), were able to win only three out of eleven games in a dismal season last year, and coaches contribute the '56 reverses to the slacking of interest this year.

Despite the bad '57 campaign, the Wildcats produced an all-state tackle in Tucson Dunn, a 200-pound senior who is on duty to lead this year's team.

Seven other lettermen support Dunn and give coaches Poole and Ebarb a fair crop of starting material, but the Wildcats are going to be mighty short of reserves unless more interest is shown among the potentail athletes of the school.

Winnsboro High is considered as having a good potential of young athletes who are big and fast, but they show a lack of interest in football.

The two - a - day workouts began a little over a week ago with sessions starting at 8:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. First action will be in the Lake Providence Jamboree next Friday night. The Class B Newellton Bears, coached by the ex-Winnsboro great Eugene Southern, will officially open the Winnsboro season at Newellton on September 6.

Lettermen supporting Dunn this year are tackle Billy Wilson, centers Jodie Ellerman and George Busby, ends James Fife and Donald Walker, and backs Pete Moore and Benny Wiggins. Fife and Busby are seniors, the others are juiors.

The Charlemont Inn in Charlemont, Mass., built in 1787 and since restored was a principal overnight stop for travelers between Boston and Albany, N.H.

IN THE OFFICE OF COL. WEEKS, C.O. JUNGLE PATROL.

-AND I SWEAR TO OBEY ALL ORDERS OF THE COMMANDER.

CONGRATULATIONS, BROWN. YOU ARE NOW A JUNGLE PATROLMAN. ANY QUESTIONS?

YES, SIR. COL. WEEKS, YOU ARE THE COMMANDING OFFICER, BUT WHO IS THE COMMANDER?

EVERY NEW MAN ASKS THAT. YOU MIGHT AS WELL HEAR IT ALL. COME WITH ME.

THIS IS THE COMMANDER'S OFFICE. IT IS ALWAYS LOCKED. I HAVE THE ONLY KEY. LET'S GO INSIDE.

Command J.P.

NOTHING HERE EXCEPT THAT SAFE. NO WINDOWS.

ALL ORDERS ARE RECEIVED IN THIS SAFE. I PLACE A WEEKLY REPORT IN THE SAFE.

BUT HOW-WHEN-DOES THE COMMANDER GET IN HERE? WHO IS HE?

I'VE BEEN IN THE PATROL TWENTY-FIVE YEARS. NONE OF US KNOWS THE ANSWER, BUT YOU'LL FIND HE IS EVERYWHERE AND KNOWS EVERYTHING.

Command J.P.

YOU WONDERED ABOUT THAT, TOO, BROWN? THE OLDER GUYS ACCEPT IT. NOT ME. I DON'T BELIEVE THERE IS A COMMANDER.

I THINK IT'S A GAG THE COLONEL USES. I KNOW WHERE HE KEEPS THE KEY - LET'S WAIT AND SEE THIS MYSTERIOUS COMMANDER.

WE'D BETTER NOT.

DON'T LOOK SO GLOOMY, CANYON. YOU'RE NOT THE FIRST MILITARY MAN WHO WAS PULLED OFF A JOB BY A CIVILIAN AGENCY!

THAT'S HOW OUR GOVERNMENT WORKS—SO WE HIRED KILLERS WILL NOT GET DELUSIONS OF POWER AND SHOOT UP THE CAPITOL!

I HAVE READ YOUR REPORT, AND I AM BUCKING IT ON TO THE STATE DEPT. TO GUIDE YOUR REPLACEMENT—NOT THAT ANYONE WILL PAY ANY ATTENTION TO YOUR STRATEGIC PLAN! IT'S MUCH TOO SIMPLE!

NOW GO OUT AND PLAY SOME GOLF—OR BUY A SODA—OR TAKE A SWIM! YOU'LL BE REASSIGNED! IN THE INTERVAL, YOU NEEDN'T WORRY ANY FURTHER ABOUT THIS EXILED PRINCESS!

YES, SIR...

BUT STEVE DOES NONE OF THE THINGS THE GENERAL SUGGESTED—INSTEAD HE HURRIES TO THE UNITED NATIONS RECORDS OFFICE...

MEANWHILE

I AM REPLACING LT. COL. CANYON AS HOST AND GUIDE FOR PRINCESS SNOWFLOWER

OH, YES—WE'RE DELIGHTED TO HAVE YOU WITH US, MR. ROSS!

I SUPPOSE I NEED NOT TELL YOU THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS CONCERNED AT YOUR CAMPAIGN TO ATTEMPT A RE-INVASION OF RED CHINA, LED BY THE PRINCESS...

SO WE HAVE HEARD...

EVIDENTLY COL. CANYON DID NOT MAKE IT CLEAR THAT ANOTHER WORLD WAR MIGHT RESULT FROM SUCH A PRIVATE VENTURE...

...A FACT WHICH IS SO GRAVE THAT WE MIGHT HAVE TO GO SO FAR...

AS TO REVOKE THE PRINCESS' TOURIST VISA, MR. ROSS? ...I DON'T THINK IT WOULD LOOK GOOD...

WE ARE SUPPORTED BY MANY INFLUENTIAL PEOPLE...AND THE PRINCESS HAS BEEN 'SOLD' TO MANY MORE EVERYDAY CITIZENS...

YOU MADE YOUR THREAT, MR. ROSS! NOW WE MUST —REGRETABLY— OFFER OUR REBUTTAL...

...IF YOU TRY TO DEPORT THE PRINCESS, WE'LL HOWL SO LOUDLY IT WILL SOUND AS IF THERE IS A COMMUNIST IN EVERY CLOSET OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT BUILDING!

Urges NATO Allies To Stay Unified

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says the United States and its Atlantic Pact allies must continue to make sacrifices to meet the threat of an intensive Russian military buildup.

This means maintaining military units in Europe and contributing new weapons to North Atlantic Treaty members, Dulles said.

He made the filmed statement for a new series of television programs dealing with the Atlantic Alliance. It was released yesterday.

The secretary said a second basic reason for NATO is that "we everywhere must try to develop the unity and the dynamism of the free world. It is not enough just to be militarily secure . . .

Dulles said the present NATO structure provides "an effective force in being." But he added: "We still have some serious problems: The shield of these forces is not yet sufficiently strong; an integrated air defense warning system is only today in process of being constructed, and we face the problem of equipping all of the NATO forces with advanced defensive weapons."

Glamor Girl's Suicide In Monaco Kept Under Cover

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

MISS MIDNIGHT'S NOTEBOOK Police in Grace Kelly's peaceful principality of Monaco are sitting on a page one story — the suicide of a New York glamor girl, Ingrid Dail, well known on the East Side cafe circuit. Apparently despondent because the man she loved (a wealthy Canadian) had failed to obtain a divorce from his wife, she locked the door of her Monte Carlo hotel room and swallowed an overdose of sleeping pills. After taking the drugs, she screamed, but by the time hotel employes had battered down her door, she was dead. The married suitor, whose wife has been staying in Antibes while he frolicked with Ingrid in Monte Carlo, apparently is influential enough with the Monegasques to keep the story hushed; but among those who have been questioned as a matter of routine is bachelor Irving Geist, the American textile tycoon, who had taken the dead girl to dinner the night before the tragedy.

Denizens of cafe society will recall that a few years ago Ingrid's name was among those whose New York telephones were tapped by the wire - tap expert who eventually went to jail.

Bill Paley, top man at CBS, is ailing . . . Intimates believe Cecil Wolfson and his recent bride, Barbara Hoch, are on the verge of an important bulletin . . . The grapevine giggle around Warner Brothers: "Natalie Wood and Gene Kelly probably will hold each other very tight during the love scenes in 'Majorie Morningstar,' just to keep from being slugged. They really can't stand each other."

Hedy Lamarr is set to make her delayed appearance on the Steve Allen TV show August 25. Two weeks ago she cancelled out of the program in an aura of mystery, explaining only that she had "several cuts" on her face and couldn't use makeup . . . The girl Orrin Lehman took to see "Pajama Game" at the Dunes in Las Vegas was film actress Sarah Shane, who recently divorced Bill Hollingsworth.

American tourists who have stumbled upon the Bohemian little grocery store - cafe in Havana, known as La Bodeguita del Medio, will be enchanted to learn that Riverside has compiled an Album of the tunes played by the strolling musicians of the place under the title "Sepy presents La Bodeguita del Medio" — Sepy being, of course, Anita Ekberg's old beau, Sepy Dobronyi, of gold statue fame . . . If Dorothy Lamour's strawhat vehicle, "Roger the Sixth," reaches Broadway during the coming season it's doubtful that the current producer, H. Clay Blaney, will be the one to bring it in. He's no longer on speaking terms with his star, being irked with "her temperament" and her insistence on okaying local actors engaged at each theatre along the Summer route. (An odd development, because in her palmy Hollywood days Dottie was never considered temperamental.)

Joe Mankiewicz plans to bring Giorgia Moll to the U. S. to exploit "The Quiet American" and give Sophia and Gina little competition with the picture editors. Giogria's the pretty Italian actress who broke into the U. S. papers when she was photographed with Joe DiMaggio in a Rome cocktail party.

The cats at Birdland might be fascinated to learn there's a book shop in London called Bardland. It deals exclusively in works by and about Shakespeare . . . Edward Mulhare of "My Fair Lady" is spending most of his playtime with Vicki Kayser, a pretty brunette from Georgia.

Jayne Mansfield's bosses at 20th Century Fox have decided that a studio designer will select Our Girl's wardrobe for her planned good will tour of Europe. They're afraid that if Jayne chooses the dresses all by herself, she'll come up with something to provoke an international incident.

Reprieve Granted For Doomed Killer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—UP—Gov. Orval Faubus disclosed late Sunday he will grant a reprieve to convicted murderer Emmett Earl Leggett, who was scheduled to die in the electric chair Friday for the murder of a 14-year-old boy.

Leggett was convicted and sentenced for the December, 1955 strangulation death of Joe King near Jacksonville.

The governor's action came after an extensive examination of Leggett by a psychiatric team from the Menninger Clinic at Topeka, Kans. The three-man team reported after a series of weekend examinations that "without a reasonable doubt Leggett was insane at the time of the crime, and is insane now."

Doctors Report to Governor

The three doctors met with the governor and said it was their conclusion that Leggett "is mentally ill and his past behavior is a result of his mental illness."

"I take it from your conclusion that you have found the boy with psychosis?" the governor asked.

Dr. Modlin said "yes."

The boy's mother was informed of the governor's promise to grant the reprieve.

"Thank God, thank God," she said.

During the trial in Pulaski circuit court at Little Rock, Leggett's court - appointed attorney John W. Bailey contended that the youth had a past record of mental illness and that he could not legally be held responsible for the murder.

Three times, Leggett was examined at the state hospital. Each time he was released.

Dr. Modlin said that hospital reports through 1954, made a year before the murder, competent psychiatrists should have determined that the boy was insane and should be committed for life.

Slight Case Of Mis-Direction

DETROIT (AP) — Eddie Dickerson, 41, finally has his stolen car back, but he traveled a bit to get it.

Police called Dickerson and told him they found the car parked on Scotten Avenue near Toledo Street in Detroit. Dickerson thanked them and said he would pick it up.

A few hours later, police got a long distance call from Dickerson.

"Listen," he said, "I'm in Toldeo, Ohio, and I can't even find Scotten."

Push Efforts To Preserve Sanctity Of FBI Information

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said the Senate will approve late today or tonight a bill making it clear that secret files of the FBI and other government agencies "are not open for fishing expeditions."

At the same time, O'Mahoney said in an interview, the legislation will retain the Supreme Court's basic theory that an individual facing criminal prosecution has the right to inspect FBI and other files pertaining to a government witness' testimony against him.

Both the Senate and House Judiciary Committee have approved bills designed to limit the scope of a controversial court ruling in the case of Clinton E. Jencks, a former union official convicted of falsely swearing he was not a Communist.

The court held June 3 that Jencks had a right to examine FBI files containing material furnished by government witnesses who testified against him, in an effort to impeach their testimony. The high court ordered a new trial for Jencks.

Since then several lower federal courts have ordered government agencies to open their confidential files or dismiss criminol charges. There are conflicts among these decisions.

Pending now in the Senate is a bill drafted by Atty. Gen. Brownell and since completely rewritten by O'Mahoney and the Senate Judiciary Committee. The newest version brings most parties to the dispute into near agreement. Under its provisions, federal judges would first inspect FBI files and could delete any material not relevant to the pending case. In case of an appeal, the entire file, including the deleted matter, would be sent to the higher courts.

If federal prosecutors decided against presenting the files, the testimony of the government witness would be stricken by the judge. Or the judge could declare a mistrial or order a dismissal of the case.

Detroit News Strike Settled

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's three major daily newspapers were back on regular deadline schedules today after settlement of a labor dispute which suspended publication most of last week.

The afternoon Detroit News and Times reported everything normal today as the usual number of pages were planned. The evening Free Press came out on schedule.

The papers all published Sunday editions, although they were thinner than usual and newsboys were a little late with editions.

The News and Times both published Saturday after settlement of the dispute shortly after midnight Friday. The Free Press joined them publishing a Sunday edition.

The dispute, between mailers and publishers, ended shortly after Midwest Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa intervened in what was described as a major role in the settlement.

The dispute arose from refusal of mailers to work beyond a 15-hour double shift at the News Aug. 17. The News said it fired 67 mailers and mailers picket lines were thrown up at the News. Teamsters members then refused to cross picket lines to deliver papers and the News suspended publication.

Seek To Avert Telephone Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 23,000 telephone equipment workers remained on the job in 43 states and the District of Columbia today as union and management negotiators sought to head off a threatened strike.

A one-year contract between the Western Electric Co., manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone System, and the installers' unit of the Communications Workers of America expired last midnight.

However, after daylong negotiations yesterday, the union announced that it was withholding strike action until at least after today's scheduled meeting.

The dispute centers over wages. The CWA yesterday rejected Western Electric's first wage offer of the current talks. The offer called for wage boosts ranging from 4 to 9 cents an hour.

"We are still far apart," Joseph E. Dunne, chief bargainer for the installers unit, said. However, he conceded that progress had been made.

The union is seeking a 16-cent hourly wage hike in addition to 6 cents an hour in other benefits. Wages now range from $1.39 to $2.38 an hour, generally, although a merit scale in some sections of the country places the top pay at $2.80.

Fallout Peril Emphasized Again In Separate Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The peril of atomic fallout has been emphasized again in separate reports from opposite ends of the nation.

In Washington yesterday, the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee released a cautiously worded summary of testimony suggesting that continuance of nuclear tests at present rates could endanger future generations.

In Palo Alto, Calif., a group of experts said the peril point could be reached in 1970, and may already have been reached in some parts of the world.

The reports pointed up the continuing controversy over the known and unknown dangers of fallout—the deadly shower of radioactivity thrown out by nuclear explosions.

Members of the American Institute of Biological Science, meeting in Palo Alto, said American, British and Russian nuclear tests now are spreading about 10 million tons of radioactive material over the earth every year.

The figure was given by Dr. H. Bentley Glass, a Johns Hopkins University geneticist, in a news conference in which several other specialists participated.

Dr. Curtice L. Newcombe, of the Navy Radiological Defense Laboratory in San Francisco, said it has been calculated that about 50 million tons of fallout material has been released in U.S. bomb tests to date.

Newcombe said it also has been calculated that 70 million tons is the theoretical safety limit.

The congressional committee's report was hedged with many scientific reservations expressed in conflicting testimony taken in fallout hearings last May and June.

The committee expressed reservations about the limits of human resistance to radioactive strontium, one of the most dangerous elements in atomic fallout.

The committee said there is no such thing as a "clean" unclear weapon—a subject of some discussion during the hearings.

And Class Warfare

Pope Tells Christians To Combat Materialism

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 26 (AP) — Pope Pius XII told 30,000 young Christian Workers from 87 countries last night they must combat materialism and class warfare.

The 81-year-old pontiff spoke to a cheering, shirt-sleeved crowd of young workers, tourists and Romans who jammed St. Peter's Square in an unusual evening audience.

The head of the Roman Catholic Church seemed rested and relaxed after a month's stay at his summer residence in Castel Gandolfo in the Alban Hills.

He came back especially for the youth rally and found Rome swelt ering in heat.

"People sometimes imagine quite wrongly," the pontiff told them, "that young Christians regard the world's future with suspicion; that they are saddened and discouraged when faced by scientific and technical advances which might become a hindrance and obstacle to their faith; that, in a word, they are weak and power less in the presence of poverty, social injustice, and all those forms of oppression which exist in contemporary society, resigning themselves passively to accept a fate which overwhelms them.

"Because you are Catholics you are much stronger than others, you have the unfailing assurance of final triumphs.

"Undoubtedly you refuse to use those means of violence, deceit and all those methods which, instead of respecting the rights of man diminish or even suppress them."

He urged the young workers to look ahead to a bright future of the world and to help other youths to avoid the disillusionment which he said they often encounter.

The Pope said youth is animated by fervent optimism but warned: "The world of today, however, puts terrible obstacles in the way of this optimism. You see all around you masses of men struggling amidst insurmountable material difficulties, hunger, destitution, ignorance; some who forget even their dignity, lose their ideals content themselves with vulgar satisfactions.

"Then false prophets insinuate their way into these repressed groups, sowing the seeds of hate and rebellion, deluding them with deceptive promises.

"On the pretext that the world's natural resources will not suffice to feed a growing human population, attempts are made even upon the dignity of marriage and of the family."

5 Prisoners Killed In Break

MANILA (AP)—Police today killed 5 of 15 prisoners who staged an early morning break from the overcrowded prison at Basilan, on Basilan Island off the southwest coast of Mindanao.

The report said the prison had accommodations for only 45 persons but that 120 now were confined there.

There Is A Difference

Reports from Russia said the girl did a belly dance in her nightgown in a railway station.

The Cairo press today reported the Education Ministry had investigated and found the girl was properly clad at the time and had performed "a ballet dance of a refined type taught in Egyptian schools — not a belly dance."

Marines Order Investigation Of Fatal Shooting

HONOLULU (AP) — The Marine Corps ordered an investigation of the death of Lt. Aaron E. Haynes, 22, of Shreveport, La. The officer was killed Saturday when another Marine mistook him for a prowler.

A Navy spokesman gave this story of the shooting:

The victim's wife, Mrs. Donna Dee Haynes, 22, drove the car home from a party. Haynes was asleep in the car. Mrs. Haynes could not find a regular parking spot and parked the auto several doors away.

Haynes awakened and walked to the wrong house. The Navy said Capt. Robert C. Morton, 31, Carlsbad, N. M., fired three shots when Haynes was on the front steps of the Morton home.

Charged With Murdering Wife

"I did it," Smith said, according to Dist. Atty. Grover Doggette. "Here is the knife."

The throat of Mrs. Smith had been cut.

The Smiths had moved into the rooming house last Monday. They came from Hattiesburg.

Officials Rule 'Accident' In Child's Death

RAYVILLE (Special) — Richland Parish authorities today had ruled the death of a five-year-old Negro girl late Saturday was caused by "accidental shooting."

Kathlene Pitchford, daughter of Jessie Pitchford, of St. Louis, Mo., died in a Monroe hospital several hours after she was shot in the stomach by a cousin, authorities said.

Police said the child and her mother were visiting friends on the P. W. Dean farm when a cousin picked up a gun and it accidentally discharged. The child was treated at a local clinic and removed to a Monroe hospital. She died about 9 p.m. Saturday.

BELAFONTE HOSPITALIZED

The 4½-hour operation was performed Saturday by Dr. Edward Norton. The doctor said Belafonte would remain at the hospital for two to four weeks.

Business Briefs

Weaks Supply Company, Ltd., located at 200 North Fourth, has bee re-appointed as a distrubotor by the Reznor Manufacturing Company of Mercer, Pa., maker of gas unit heaters.

Harry Hope of Houston, Tex., district manager, said that Weaks Supply Company will maintain a substantial warehouse stock of all the more frequently used Reznor model in order to better serve its customers in the Monroe area.

John Lucian Gilbert, veteran transportation authority, has been named manager of the traffic division of the trade development department of the Port of New Orleans. He succeeds O. C. Olsen who resigned June 14.

Gilbert's background of experience in traffic affairs includes connections with the Illinois Central and Southern railroads, National Gypsum Company, the Ordnance Department of the War Department.

A program designed to give citizens of Louisiana the opportunity to invest in a fund to promote industry in this area, was outlined here today.

Bobby C. Pappas, Monroe associate, said that Southwestern Acceptance Corporation has announced sale of stock at $5 per share "to Louisiana residents only," since the agency feels that a fund massed locally, paying dividends to local people is the most efficient means of attracting industry.

Southwestern Acceptance Corporation already exists as an automobile and general financing agency with offices in several North Louisiana communities.

CHICAGO — Montgomery Ward and Co. announces sales of $80,001,825 for July compared with $72,539,631 in July, 1956.

Sales for the six months ended July 31 were $466,038,333 as against $467,495,321 in the corresponding period of 1956.

Harry B. Gordon, president of Gordon's Jewelers, announced this week the firm's network of stores would expand to seven states with the opening of its Pensacola, Fla. store which is scheduled for September.

"The Pensacola store is another link in a planned expansion program that averages a new store every 30 working days," said Gordon.
